Founder and Publisher

Join me in celebrating the release of our 44th annual Maryland Minority Business Directory. Our 2024 edition is packed with resources for you to use to support fellow minority owned and led businesses and associations, while enhancing every area of your professional and personal life. I am particularly struck by the wealth of expertise and experience you will find in this directory.

Congratulations to everyone for all of the resilience you demonstrated in weathering Covid and in many cases, standing stronger as a result of the mental muscles you flexed.

This book would not exist without all of you. It also wouldn't be here without my hard-working and talented staff. I salute each of you.

Best wishes,

Cleveland Washington - Publisher

"Little Jackie"

In Loving Memory, Jacquelyn L. Washington

The Minority Business Directory is forever dedicated to my daughter, Jacquelyn L. Washington, known as "Little Jackie." I continue to feel inspired by how she lived her life. She lived each day to the fullest. Her life was violently cut short on May 18, 1998. During her short life, Little Jackie touched so many. All those who knew and loved her miss her deeply.

Larry Moore

Owner, Home Base Remodeling

Futures are not always the ones that seem to be written on the wall -- or painted, in Larry Moore's case. The path that led him to launch Home Base Remodeling was not one he expected. Years ago, while working as a manager at Burger King, Mr. Moore ran into one of his employees and her mother at Home Depot in the paint section. Next thing Mr. Moore knew, his employee's mom asked him if he painted and if he would do her living and dining room. That led to referral after referral. Mr. Moore, a Baltimore native, kept up the side work while putting himself through school to earn his computer science degree at Coppin State University followed by advanced certifications. He went on to work at Procter & Gamble for 15 years and a 2012 lay off turned out to be a blessing in disguise. It inspired Mr. Moore to turn his part-time contracting business into his full-time passion. He says no job is too small. Flooring is his favorite. He does everything except for heat and air conditioning.

There Goes My Hero

There Goes My Hero supports people impacted by blood cancer by adding members to the bone marrow registry and through support of patients and their families.

Color the Registry seeks to diversify the bone marrow so that it reflects the demographics of our community. African Americans and other people of color are under-represented on the registry. TGMH seeks to offer hope to all patients in need of a bone marrow transplant, no matter their ethnic or racial background.
