9.	What is the best thing the instructor did to help you learn, and what should the instructor improve in this course?	The instructor explained complex food policy and preservation concepts in a very clear and structured way. Real-world examples and case studies helped me understand how these policies work at national and global levels. The lectures were well-organized, and the instructor always encouraged questions, which made the class interactive and easy to follow. The course is already well-conducted, but adding a few more hands-on practical demonstrations or short video resources on modern preservation techniques could make the learning experience even stronger.
10.	With reference to technology, tutorial support, and the prerequisite for this course, if applicable, what changes would you suggest to the University to make this a better course?	The technological support was good, and the learning platform worked smoothly. To improve the course further, the university could provide additional digital resources—such as online simulation tools, brief tutorials, or sample policy documents to support deeper understanding. Offering optional review sessions or Q&A workshops before major assignments would also benefit students who need extra guidance.
