SAT - Our Approach

Strategies and Techniques - We ensure our students are well versed with the best techniques and strategies when it comes to answering all question types in Quantitative and Verbal sections. Ranging from speed calculations to elimination, we ensure our students better understand each tip and trick before writing the final Test.

Topics - We handle one topic at a time. This gives us the clarity and ability to bring about the desired change in a student's performance in their weak and strong areas. There are separate test papers and question banks provided to students for each topic.

Practice Papers - We provide our students with the latest practise test papers. These test papers are often organised in increasing levels of difficulty. We also curate test papers which test students on the most frequently asked questions as well as the most unexpected questions.

Pedagogy

1st phase. We always begin with a thorough analysis of a student's strengths and weaknesses. Based on the initial assessment, we carefully draft a plan where we begin with revisiting the basics and explaining the essentials of the test. The first few days are spent on strengthening the weak areas.

In the 2nd phase we increase the difficulty level and share tons of question banks so that the student quickly gets into the right frame of mind and rhythm, which is in sync with the test. The intention of this phase is to cover all question types so that no topic emerges as a surprise for the student. Also, the difficulty level is at par with the test.

In the final phase, we stress more on practise tests. We assist student's in scoring as high as possible by giving them test papers of varying difficulty regularly. This phase is filled with Q&A sessions and mock tests. We aim to ensure we maximise a student's potential.
