To Whom It May Concern,

It is with great pride and confidence that I provide this referral for Isaiah Kaden Pounds, a young man I have had the privilege of watching grow up and personally mentor over the years. My longstanding relationship with Isaiah has allowed me to witness his development from a curious and determined child into a mature, disciplined, and purpose-driven young adult.

Isaiah comes from a strong and committed family that has instilled in him the values of integrity, respect, and perseverance; qualities that are evident in his actions and long-term goals. He has always demonstrated a strong willingness to receive guidance, apply life lessons, and turn challenges into opportunities for growth. His character, humility, and leadership have been evident in every stage of his development.

Beyond his personal qualities, Isaiah stands out as an accomplished student-athlete. As a member of the Benjamin E. Mays High School football team, he has earned the respect of both his peers and coaches. He serves as team captain for the 2025–2026 season, a role that reflects his leadership, accountability, and ability to motivate those around him. His performance on the field also earned him recognition as Second Team All-Region 4–4A, a testament to his athletic skill, work ethic, and commitment to excellence.

Isaiah's dedication extends well beyond athletics. He is actively involved in community service, frequently volunteering to support neighborhood events, youth programs, and service projects that strengthen the Atlanta community. His willingness to serve others—without expectation of recognition—demonstrates a maturity and sense of responsibility rarely seen in someone his age.

Isaiah is a remarkable young man with exceptional promise. He approaches every responsibility with focus, discipline, and resilience, and I am confident that he will be an asset to any higher learning institution fortunate enough to welcome him. I offer my highest recommendation for his admission and for any opportunities he seeks.

Please feel free to contact my chambers should you require any additional information.

Sincerely,

Chief Judge Ural D. Glanville
