About Us, The Russo Family

Originally from a small town outside of Palermo called Carini, Sicily. My family immigrated to the United States. We were among the many Italian families that remembered our traditions through the food we made. We use recipes that have been handed down from my Nonni (Grandparents), to my parents, to me. We use only top-quality ingredients for our food which I know you will taste in every bite of our pizzas and Italian specialties. We are Italian! Our food is very important to us! Come taste the difference our heritage makes!
