family united by our Risen Lord,
Jesus Christ!*

Worship

- The * by the headings throughout the service indicate when we invite you to stand, as you are able.
- The light print will be spoken by the pastor or another worship leader, while we encourage you to speak the bold print.
- The hymns are chosen from our Evangelical Lutheran Worship (ELW) hymnal, which is the red book directly in front of you in the pews. You will find the hymns in the last two-thirds of the book with the bold numbers on the top of the pages.
- We welcome all the baptized to join us in the Lord's Supper, where we believe Jesus is present "in, with, and under" the bread and wine as his body and blood. After the organist and assisting minister commune, you will be invited to come forward up the non-organ side aisle to the pastor, who will give you bread (gluten-free wafers also available upon request). You are encouraged to keep the bread in your hands and then dip it into the chalice of wine for intinction. You may also come forward to receive a blessing by simply keeping your hands folded. You may return to your seat up the center aisle. If you are unable to come forward, the elements will be brought to you.
- For visitors, if you so choose, we encourage you to fill out a card available at the center-aisle end of the pew to learn more about us.

FIRST READING

Isaiah 6:1-8

¹In the year that King Uzziah died, I saw the Lord sitting on a throne, high and lofty; and the hem of his robe filled the temple. ²Seraphs were in attendance above him; each had six wings: with two they covered their faces, and with two they covered their feet, and with two they flew. ³And one called to another and said:

“Holy, holy, holy is the LORD of hosts;
the whole earth is full of his glory.”

⁴The pivots on the thresholds shook at the voices of those who called, and the house filled with smoke. ⁵And I said:

“Woe is me! I am lost, for I am a man of unclean lips, and I live among a people of unclean lips; yet my eyes have seen the King, the LORD of hosts!”

⁶Then one of the seraphs flew to me, holding a live coal that had been taken from the altar with a pair of tongs. ⁷The seraph touched my mouth with it and said: “Now that this has touched your lips, your guilt has departed and your sin is blotted out.” ⁸Then I heard the voice of the Lord saying, “Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?” And I said, “Here am I; send me!”

The Word of the Lord!
Thanks be to God!

PSALM

Psalm 138

¹I will give thanks to you, O LORD, with | my whole heart;
before the gods I will | sing your praise.

²I will bow down toward your holy temple and praise your name, because of your steadfast | love
and faithfulness;

for you have glorified your name and your word
a- | bove all things.

³When I called, you | answered me;
you increased my | strength within me.

⁴All the rulers of the earth will praise | you,
O LORD,
when they have heard the words | of your mouth.
⁵They will sing of the ways | of the LORD,
that great is the glory | of the LORD.
⁶The LORD is high, yet cares | for the lowly,
perceiving the haughty | from afar.
⁷Though I walk in the midst of trouble, you | keep me safe;
you stretch forth your hand against the fury of my enemies; your right | hand shall save me.
⁸You will make good your pur- | pose for me;
O LORD, your steadfast love endures forever; do
not abandon the works | of your hands.

SECOND READING

1 Corinthians 15:1-11

¹Now I would remind you, brothers and sisters, of the good news that I proclaimed to you, which you in turn received, in which also you stand, ²through which also you are being saved, if you hold firmly to the message that I proclaimed to you—unless you have come to believe in vain.

³For I handed on to you as of first importance what I in turn had received: that Christ died for our sins in accordance with the scriptures, ⁴and that he was buried, and that he was raised on the third day in accordance with the scriptures, ⁵and that he appeared to Cephas, then to the twelve. ⁶Then he appeared to more than five hundred brothers and sisters at one time, most of whom are still alive, though some have died. ⁷Then he appeared to James, then to all the apostles. ⁸Last of all, as to one untimely born, he appeared also to me. ⁹For I am the least of the apostles, unfit to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God. ¹⁰But by the grace of God I am what I am, and his grace toward me has not been in vain. On the contrary, I worked harder than any of them—though it was not I, but the grace of God that is with me. ¹¹Whether then it was I or they, so we proclaim and so you have come to believe.

The Word of the Lord!
Thanks be to God!

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Al - le - lu - ia. Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of e - ter - nal life. Al - le - lu - ia.
Al - le - lu - ia, al - le - lu - ia. Al - le - lu - ia.
Al - le - lu - ia, al - le - lu - ia.

GOSPEL

Luke 5:1-11

The Holy Gospel according to Luke.
Glory to you, O Lord!

¹Once while Jesus was standing beside the lake of Gennesaret, and the crowd was pressing in on him to hear the word of God, ²he saw two boats there at the shore of the lake; the fishermen had gone out of them and were washing their nets. ³He got into one of the boats, the one belonging to Simon, and asked him to put out a little way from the shore. Then he sat down and taught the crowds from the boat. ⁴When he had finished speaking, he said to Simon, “Put out into the deep water and let down your nets for a catch.” ⁵Simon answered, “Master, we have worked all night long but have caught nothing. Yet if you say so, I will let down the nets.” ⁶When they had done this, they caught so many fish that their nets were beginning to break. ⁷So they signaled their partners in the other boat to come and help them. And they came and filled both boats, so that they began to sink. ⁸But when Simon Peter saw it, he fell down at Jesus’ knees, saying, “Go away from me, Lord, for I am a sinful man!” ⁹For he and all who were with him were amazed at the catch of fish that they had taken; ¹⁰and so also were James and John, sons of Zebedee, who were partners with Simon. Then Jesus said to Simon, “Do not be afraid; from now on you will be catching people.” ¹¹When they had brought their boats to shore, they left everything and followed him.

This is the holy Gospel of our Lord!
Praise to you, O Christ.

THANKSGIVING AT THE TABLE

Blessed are you, O holy God:

you are the Life and Light of all.

By your powerful word you created all things.

Through the prophets you called your people to be a light to the nations.

Blessed are you for Jesus, your Son.

He is your Light, shining in our darkness and revealing to us your mercy and might.

In the night in which he was betrayed,
our Lord Jesus took bread, and gave thanks;
broke it, and gave it to his disciples, saying:
Take and eat; this is my body, given for you.
Do this for the remembrance of me.

Again, after supper, he took the cup, gave thanks,
and gave it for all to drink, saying:
This cup is the new covenant in my blood, shed for you and for all people for the forgiveness of sin.
Do this for the remembrance of me.

Remembering, therefore,
his preaching and healing,
his dying and rising,
and his promise to come again,
we await that day when all the universe
will rejoice in your holy and life-giving light.

Holy Spirit, bless us and this meal,
that, refreshed with this heavenly food,
we may be light for the world,
revealing the brilliance of our Lord.

Through him all glory and honor is yours,
Almighty Father, with the Holy Spirit,
both now and forever. Amen!

LORD'S PRAYER

Our Father, who art in heaven,
hallowed be thy name,
thy kingdom come,
thy will be done,
on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread;
and forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive those
who trespass against us;
and lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from evil.
For thine is the kingdom,
and the power, and the glory,
forever and ever. Amen.

INVITATION TO COMMUNION

Come to the table.
Feast on God's abundant life for you!
Thanks be to God!

*COMMUNION HYMN

mer-cy on us. Lamb of God, you take a-way the sin of the

and in everything reflect your glory revealed in Jesus Christ, our Savior and Lord. Amen!

Fishing for Humans

Berlin - The fresco of Miracle Fishing in St. Pauls evengelical church by workroom Gathemann & Kellner from begin of 20. cent. in 'Jugendstil'.

The Gospel story of the fishermen enjoying one last great haul and then following Jesus is one of my favorites. I've spent lots of time admiring the Sea of Galilee and observing close-shore netting practices around the world. Only when you understand the practice of trammel netting can you really see the transformation that Jesus offered his first few disciples.

Trammel netting was the fishing technique used on the Sea of Galilee in Jesus' day, when fishermen worked at night (Luke 5:4) and cleaned their nets early in the morning (Luke 5:2), according to a 1993 article in Archeology Review. Fishermen started at dusk, tying together lengths of double- or triple-layered nets and then rowing out to deep water a moderate distance from shore. They dropped their nets to form a crescent-shaped wall just where the water deepened. The nets were held in place by rocks tied to the bottom and a cork tied to the top.

The fishermen then paddled quietly back to the shore. After a while, they started making a huge racket by shouting, slapping oars on the water and stomping on the bottom of their boats. This scared the fish, whose instinct was to dive down and out of the shallow water toward the deep water, directly into the waiting nets. Because the nets were laid at night, the fish didn't see them and became hopelessly entangled in the middle layer. The fishermen then hauled the nets onto their boats or dragged them onto shore.

After removing the catch, fishermen repeated this process of loading up the net, setting it in place, rowing back to shore, shouting and then hauling the net—as many as 10 times a night. By morning, they would have been exhausted from their work. Still, they had to clean the nets of any mud or fish parts that might alert the next night's catch of the net's presence. The nets were hung up to dry all day while the fishermen rested for their next night of work.

The job of Jesus' disciples would be similar to their job as fishermen—they needed only use their words and excited exhortations to help drive people toward the kingdom.

When Jesus showed up in the morning and told Simon Peter to try fishing again (Luke 5:4), his words would have made no sense to any fisherman who knew the process. During the day, the fish could easily observe both the boat and thick nets, and avoid both. But the disciples, obeying the one whom Simon Peter called “Master” (Luke 5:5), tried again. Their miraculous catch was a miracle not just because they caught a lot of fish but because Jesus caused a multitude of fish to swim directly into the nets, which they normally would have avoided.

Simon Peter knew that Jesus worked miracles. His own mother-in-law had been miraculously healed (Luke 4:39). He heard Jesus preach from Peter's own boat (Luke 5:3). But only when Jesus gave a miraculous sign that contradicted everything Peter knew about his livelihood did he fall at Jesus' knees, understanding the implications of Jesus' power.

Jesus responded that Simon Peter should not fear, and that he, James and John would be fishing for humans. In this metaphor, the kingdom of heaven is the huge net into which all sort of fish come (Matthew 13:47-48). The job of Jesus' disciples would be similar to their job as fishermen—they needed only use their words and excited exhortations to help drive people toward the kingdom.

The fishermen no longer shouted nonsense at fish but proclaimed the good news of the coming kingdom of heaven. Through their time learning from Jesus, and then afterward with their indwelling of the Spirit, the disciples' speech changed. Peter went from yelling at fish to inviting people into the kingdom at the first Christian Pentecost (Acts 2). I understand this process as the fulfillment of Isaiah 6:6-8 (and Jeremiah 1:9, from last week's reading), in which the prophets' lips were symbolically touched in order to prepare them to utter words on God's behalf.

I feel encouraged and excited when I think about how Jesus took worn-out fishermen and showed how their skills could be used by the master of the world to help fill up the kingdom of heaven.

Mark your calendars for Sunday, March 3, for our next congregational meeting. Like last time, we will gather at 5pm, starting with a pot-luck meal before continuing with the meeting. As always, we will provide the dinnerware, but just let us know if you plan on attending, and, if so, if you plan on bringing something to share (don't forget to bring your own beverage as well). This is a great way to re-connect with each other and to go over anything needed to discuss for our church family!
