Darrell,

The attempts to damage me that are made by the social misfits and cowards who populate the computer nets are only believed by others of their own kind. Without checking, (and most people never check anything) you apparently believe there is a tape of me saying something bad while intoxicated or on drugs. Have you ever heard Rich Little do impersonations? I have a cousin who can impersonate anyone, even me, to the point that if you heard him on the phone you could not tell that it was an impersonation. Even if it were true, what does it have to do with the facts of my radio show or book or lectures? What does my personal life have to do with anything? You fell for it, hook, line, and sinker, and now you are eating the pole. The concept that information is tainted or false because the messenger is not politically correct is ludicrous and is a direct reflection of the intelligence of those who subscribe to this erroneous belief.

I purposely stay off computer boards because there is NO objectivity and the boards are populated by social misfits who while hiding behind the anonymity of their computers strike out at the world. They are, for the most part cowards, air-heads, sheeple, and puppets of the established power. They demonstrate all the traits of an arrested personality. I ignore them and so should you. These people are not looking for the truth. They look only for confirmation of their own beliefs and strike viciously out at anything that threatens their fantasy world. When the truth of what is coming in the near future hits them with its full force, they will melt into shells of whimpering insanity and beg those of us whom they have rejected and reviled to protect them. Alas at that point it will likely be too late. Indeed who would want to save them? Like a fool, I would probably try. Embarrassed they would attack me again. I want you to use your own common sense (if you have any) and ask yourself, if such a terrible nasty drunk could have written 'Behold A Pale Horse', could lecture worldwide, produce an international radio show that is aired 5 nights a week, administer the worlds largest and most successful civilian intelligence network, publish a newsletter, husband a family, and much much more than the twits who attack me have ever done collectively in their entire lives.

I am not concerned about attacks from any source nor am I concerned about the sheeple who blindly believe those attacks, nor with anyone who would participate in the mindless drivel associated with the social misfits and cowards who populate the computer nets. I am kept busy trying to wake the sheeple who can be awakened. I kept busy trying to save our Freedoms and Creator endowed rights. I am not interested nor do I care about those who are too far gone or too stupid to be awakened. Now, if you are truly interested in a proper perspective then pretend the tapes are true, pretend I am a bank robber, a drunk, a murderer, or anything else that is really despicable and then get on with EVALUATING INFORMATION on its own merits and not on my personality or private life, no matter what it may be. I am not running for office and my private life has nothing to do with anything nor should it have. If a man came to your home to inform you that your daughter is being raped would you throw him out and refuse to go to her aid because he is drunk? The idiots to whom you are listening would do exactly that. Leaving messages like the one you left here does us no service. Indeed it took me away from my work to give you an answer that you should have already known could you think for yourself.

The best advice that I can give you, and it's the same advice that I have always given everyone but the twits fail to tell you, is to listen to everyone and read everything, believe nothing unless you can confirm or deny it from YOUR OWN RESEARCH. If you fail to do this you will always and forever be a puppet on someone's string. When they pull the string you WILL dance. It's your choice. Since the subject of whether or not I am a drunk occupies so much of the sheeple's time I actually stopped drinking, I do not drink alcohol in any form anymore.

I have NEVER used drugs of any kind or in any form.

I am a Christian. Whatever I have done in the past that is wrong, I have sincerely repented and try to live my life according to the teachings of Jesus. In any event, I will be judged by God. And that is the only judgement that concerns me.

I would deeply appreciate your posting and uploading this message as a permanent file on every computer board that you can find.

Thank you,

William Cooper
