Who does Break Bread serve?

Some of our diners are unhoused.
Some are children or seniors.
Some of our diners are fighting isolation.
Some of our diners are food insecure.
Some are unable to cook for themselves.
ALL are our neighbors and community members.

What is required to participate in a meal?

NOTHING!
Break Bread does not require any identification, any affiliation to an organization, or have any income requirements. There is no hierarchy of who is deserving. All are welcome to come as the person they are.

Why Break Bread?

Break Bread provides a unique opportunity to all neighbors regardless of background, ethnicity, or socioeconomic status; to join together and share a meal. This provides the opportunity to dine with, and get to know, people you might not otherwise encounter. Through this experience conversations begin, from conversation comes understanding, understanding someone opens the door for friendship. It's these relationships that are the catalyst to change.. Regardless of the challenges a person may experience outside of the Break Bread walls; everyone is equally as deserving of a nourishing meal and friendship. This is the Break Bread magic.
