

USS NOMAD NCC-72382-A

Guiding Principles

Why the NOMAD

When the late Gene Roddenberry created Star Trek, his vision was one of freedom and equality for all. A future where we could all be proud of who we are, no matter what walk of life or situation one is in.

Starfleet International”, and some other large “fan” organizations defy that vision and what it stands for. To impose the organizations rules/methods without consultation and being ego driven is wrong. There are usually friendship biases, unequal opportunities for those not in the “old boys club” and fees charged that some people cannot afford in these difficult times. That is not Star Trek!

At the USS Nomad NCC-72382-A our club is about being inclusive and helping others in need. Be it a member that needs a friend or a charity group. If when we join a larger group, it will not be Starfleet International inc. but one that like the foundation the Nomad was created on must be inclusive, non-discriminatory, fair and in line with Roddenberry’s vision.

Unity for all, not divisive and exclusive.

MISSION STATEMENT:

To bring like minded people together that share an interest in Star Trek in friendship, and to offer a combined community to help and aid those in need of charity.

Values:

Our belief in the vision of a fair and equal future will guide and inspire the club’s choices and behaviours. Honesty, friendship, charity, and respect will be the guiding principles to friendship and success.
