

This project is just getting started.

It is based on the most powerful “first principles” of value creation for everyone (see below), and it is totally free, not-for-profit, nonpartisan, and it is, hopefully, ultimately, more universally helpful, overall, than anything you’ve ever read, or will read, if I have done and do my job right. Please tell me if it ever seems this may not be all that.
Or become all that. And of course tell me how you think I might improve on all of this!

And conservatives, if this seems like a liberal project, swipe down to where I say it can be most helpful for liberals to apologize to you.

MY politics are to maximize universally profitable helpfulness, to overcome universally-destructive selfishness. So I am partisan that way.

I, Tim Mossman, am developing this project by myself, and with the great input of dozens of friends and people I’ve met or overheard who have contributed priceless insights.

This is a continual work-in-progress. I am not affiliated with any group, and I will only accept donations through GoFundMe, details are in the footer, for which, thank you!
