

This project is nonpartisan. So I seek maximum help for everyone.

So, conservatives, if this seems like a liberal project, swipe down to where I say it can be most helpful for liberals to sincerely apologize to you. And follow with validating actions. Then when it would help, vice versa. Because truly helping requires trust. And sincerely apologizing, followed by validating actions, is one of the absolute best ways to restore and build trust.

Also, because help is subjective (which means what I find helpful, you may find hurtful, and vice versa) mutual help can only be maximized through mutually helpful dialogs. For how to have those, see my Free Online Guide™, link below. The alternative is some form of manipulative selfishness, (even unwittingly) which ultimately poisons others' and thus your own peace & prosperity.
