

April 9, 2015

To whom it may concern:

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Tyra Hodge. Ms. Hodge has worked for me for the past year in the Behavior Support Services Classroom (BSS) addressing the academic and behavioral needs of children. During this time, she has held the title of BSS Teacher. In this role, her responsibilities include, but are not limited to: academic lesson planning, student social skills training and behavior modification. Within this environment, Ms. Hodge is exposed to a multitude of students with varying diagnoses and challenges. She is able to establish a strong rapport with all of her students which enables her to effectively meet their special needs. In situations of crisis, she remains calm and consistent and is able to regulate students' behaviors under extreme conditions.

Ms. Hodge is a true asset to the team. She is consistently reliable and dependable. Ms. Hodge's approach to tasks is one of determination and enthusiasm. Regardless of the undertaking, Ms. Hodge remains positive and emotionally collected. With regards to her skill set, Ms. Hodge is proficient and professional in her communication with others. This skill enables her to make her point, while doing so in a productive and personable manner. Lastly, Ms. Hodge is organized and efficient. She is able to attend to multiple tasks and completes all responsibilities within a timely manner.

Ms. Hodge is a hardworking individual with a great work ethic. As such, she has my highest recommendation and full endorsement. Please feel free to contact me should you have any other questions regarding Ms. Hodge's abilities.

Sincerely,

Ashley Ashna, M.Ed.
Behavior Support Services Specialist
Pasadena Independent School District
(713) 740-0090: Office
(281) 785-9822: Cell