Kate had to parachute from heaven because she has not earned enough credits for larger wings to become a certified angel. Her main mission is to become a certified Angel by earning her larger flying wings however, because she is both a perfectionist and clumsy her journey to achieve her goal is frustrating throwing her into humorous situations. Most of her efforts to earn her wings fall flat due to her unlucky situations, clumsiness and her perfectionist mentality. Besides seeking good deeds, Kate is an environmentalist, advocating local clean up, planting veggies, trees, scrubs.... etc

On her first day on earth she found a hungry little devil dog puppy she names Beebub (Bub). Little mischievous Bub needs plenty of parenting & mentoring to mature his uncontrollable will to be prankster and unintentional troublemaker. In contrast to Kate, Bub is laid back, sloppy, a wanderer and dreamer. Kate tries to eat healthy (fruits, veggies, nuts...etc) but Bub tempts her with cheeseburgers, fries, and junk food. Occasionally he succeeds and Kate loses a few points toward certification. Bub is also a good guitar player trying to write hit songs and get a band going with the rest of the gang. Kate now has another new goal to earn her certification wings by trying to raise Bub properly and get him to eat healthy food.

They rent a rundown apartment from a yellow mouse named Mousie Alexander. Alexander (doesn't like to be called Alex) is a frugal tight-wad. He likes quiet and presses them to tip-toe around the apartment, and use minimal to no utilities to keep his bills low. He also is a geek techy who can almost fix anything and explain new tech gadgets & updates to confuse the rest of the gang in his unique approach.

Kate adopts a pink frog named Phillip the Frog (Puggy, Pug) who falls in love with Kate. When the opportunity arises, though shy, Puggy shyly flirts with Kate with flowers, poems, and will do anything to help Kate around the apartment to the point of annoying her. He is an intellectual and offers advice and philosophical discussions with Kate, frustrating Bub because their conversations are over his head. Pug serves as scout and tester on areas where the environment & ecosystem is threatened.

Kate and Bub are the new odd couple mingling & confusing the rest of the gang creating a problematic chemistry of endless situations for millions to enjoy. She recruits Bub & Puggy in her poorly executed environmental projects (experiments). Kate and her colorful entourage set the stage for a series for all age comic strip & TV cartoon stories, gags, also commercials & advertisements. Note – Angel Kate was not created to represent any specific religion. All three major religions, Christian, Jewish, Islam reference angels in their scriptures. Many non-religious people, who are spiritual have various levels of belief in angels.

She's here to earn her wings but that's difficult for a clumsy hard trying Angel. She earns credits by attempting good deeds and trying to raise Bub ( the devil dog) properly. Together they're the new odd couple. She's an emotional perfectionist and he's comfortably laid back. Their landlord is a frugal mouse named Elliott.

They adopt a pink frog named Puggy who is in love with Kate and is an intellectual competitor against Elliott and Bub. These characters have a problematic chemistry that will make people laugh for generations. The fun is just beginning!

Preliminary Toy Design

An illustrated proposal for a 10 to 16 inch high doll, either as a plush toy or other soft material.

A plastic model that lights up at night would also attract attention.

* A good chore list that kids fill out, send in and receive a certificate to certify their angel has earned their wings. Or they could receive a larger set of wings for their angel.

* The kids could program different prayers they can say together with their angel before they go to sleep.

Puggy (Pug), the Pink Albino Frog

Meet the newest character for the Kate comics! Kate provides him with a lavish living habitat of a water bucket. He observes Kate's and Bub frustrations and is convinced amphibians are superior. He's in love with Kate and distracts her from her philanthropic duties. (The Princes and the frog angle.) Bub is jealous of this attention getter and inflicts devilish pranks on him. He is an intellectual adversary for Elliott the mouse and they become another odd couple. The fun is just beginning now that the Angel Kate comics have four potent characters.
