

The Power of the Union City Education Foundation

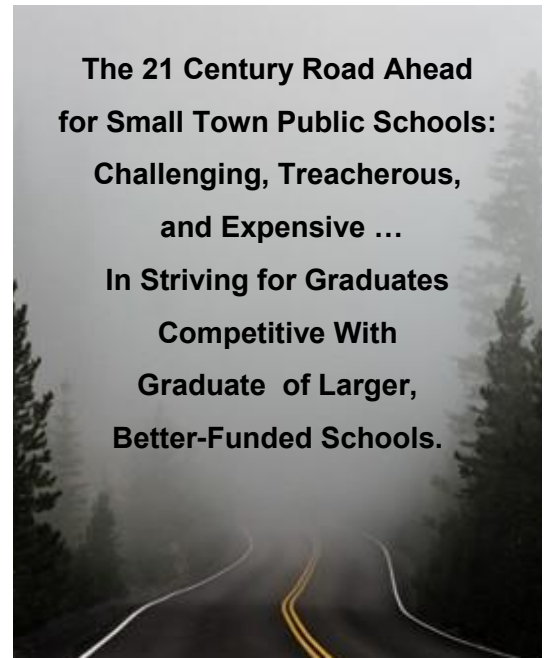

David Young is a 1967 graduate. After serving in the U.S. Coast Guard, he embarked on a 40+ year career providing technical services to the Defense Department and Intelligence Community.

Next, Dave followed his entrepreneurial instincts manufacturing three-wheeled motorcycles, and is now Executive Producer of ToyMakerz, a reality TV show featuring high-performance motor vehicles on Discovery's MotorTrend network.

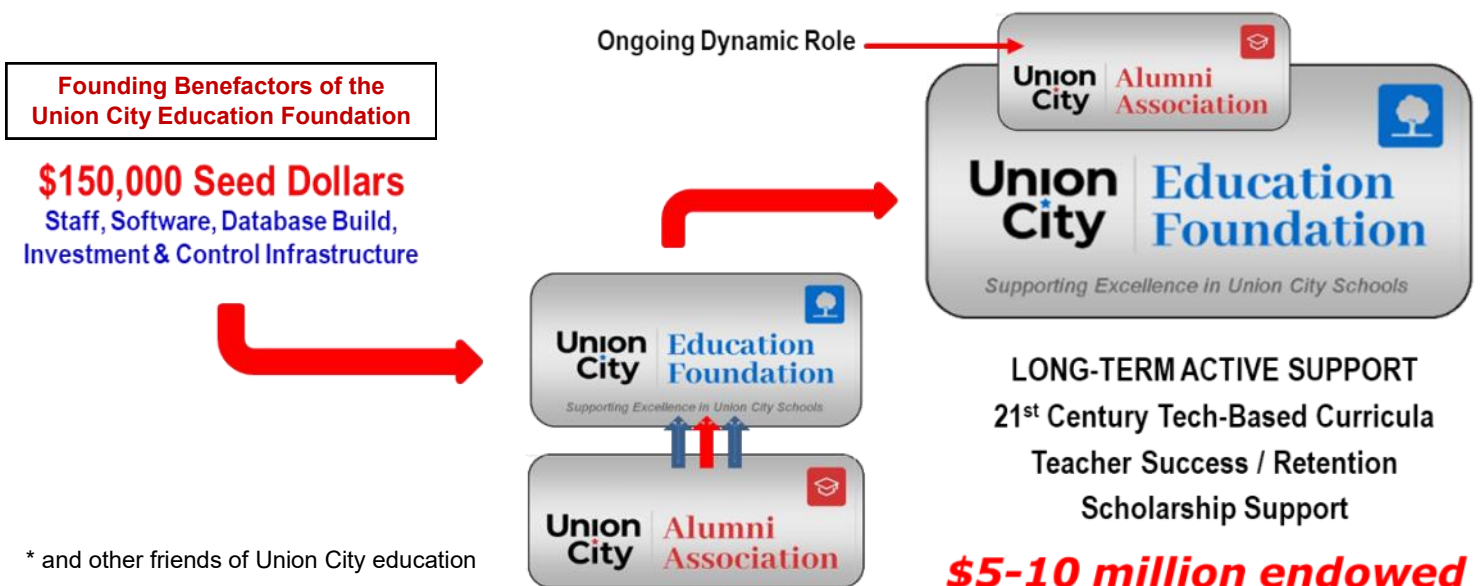

Philanthropy is important to Dave and he served nine years on the Northern Virginia Community Foundation and has been active in the UCEF since early 2021.

“It is rare to find a multi-year, multi-million dollar idea that is this elegantly simple.”

1. In 2022-2023, a group of Alumni* equip the Union City Education Foundation for in-perpetuity service: $150,000 (crucial current stage)
2. In the 10+ years ahead, Alumni planned giving and estate planning provides $5-$10 million in endowed dollars (via regular communication: goals, challenges)
3. The school has the supplemental resources to make graduates fully competitive in the workplace of the future, supporting curricula upgrades, teacher effectiveness and retention and traditional and non-traditional scholarships support.
