THROUGH THE EYES OF A DRIVER

By Mary Allyce

It's May, when we look forward to flowers "engendred" (according to Chaucer) by April showers. Lovely, wild verbena spread through my front yard. The inevitable thistles have sprouted and those not whacked off at the base have bloomed, adding more purple color to the landscape. Even my bluebonnets bloomed. April showers put a damper on the much ballyhooed eclipse of April 8th, but they rose to the occasion bringing forth May flowers.

For me, May is the month I can look forward to taking my two dogs to the vet for their annual inoculations. Meet my two furry heathens, Red and DC.

Red is a red tri-color Australian Shepherd for whom the world is filled with booger bears hiding in shadowy corners. Take my new car – and take it far away as far as Red was concerned the morning we headed to his vet appointment. He is six years old and has ridden in many cars and trucks, never happily, but he did ride all the way from Bandera to South Florida and back last year. Of course, that was in my previous car, and he did have a veterinary "chill pill" coursing through his system to take the edge off the horror of it all. The new car, however, was . . . new, different, therefore highly suspicious. It took fifteen minutes to coax him into the back seat because who knew what ghastly dangers lurked in this unfamiliar territory.

Inside, a nice receptionist tried to welcome him with a kind word and friendly pat. Nope! Red ascribes to the Dog Whisper's (Cesar Milan) mantra, "No touch. No Talk. No eye contact." It's not a bad rule of thumb when encountering any unfamiliar dog and Red considers all three "No's" unwelcome attention, stranger-danger. Before you assume Red's just an unpleasant dog personality, he is not. He's a loving, playful companion, obedient and smart and eventually he warms to people, once he determines it's safe. He's just a little nuts and he's my little sixty-five pound nut.

I inherited DC, a seven year old Catahoula, my late partner Hoot's dog. When Hoot passed away, she became my dog, all seventy-plus pounds of her. She is a big, strong, supremely self-confident, joyful girl. She never met a stranger, loves everyone. She is the diametric opposite of her buddy, Red, but they are BFF's and they love each other. DC, which stands for "Dark Chocolate Drop", also adores riding in any vehicle, and to no surprise loves everyone at the vet office. As with people, they are proof opposites attract and are actually good for each other. DC gives Red courage in pseudo-scary situations, and he puts the cautionary brakes on her with truly scary things like porcupines and snakes.

In addition to their personalities, DC and Red are different in one other way. DC has a short, glossy, dark hair coat and Red sports a beautiful, fluffy red, tan, and white coat. Guess which one is harder to groom? In addition to an inherent distrust of brushes and combs (they do have teeth!) Red shares none of my need to have a clean, tangle free companion. What he and his coat do have is an attraction to the other blessings of May, beggar's lice and sticker burrs. If you have been in Texas long enough to experience a growing season you are familiar with these two unwelcome additions to the local flora. They stick to everything like Velcro® and they love a fluffy dog coat.

So, I have to go. Red, the brush and comb, the beggar's lice and sticker burrs await, along with DC who will supervise and protect her pal. Have a beautiful May and enjoy your pets. You are their world.

Funny Bone

What does May steep its tea in? Spring water.

What's May's favorite type of music? Heavy metal.

What's May's favorite type of investment? Seed funds.

Which month can never make up its mind? MAYbe.

How do you know May is happy? It has a spring in its step.

Why did May refuse to play cards with April? It was tired of dealing with April's showers.

What's May's favorite generation? Bloomers.

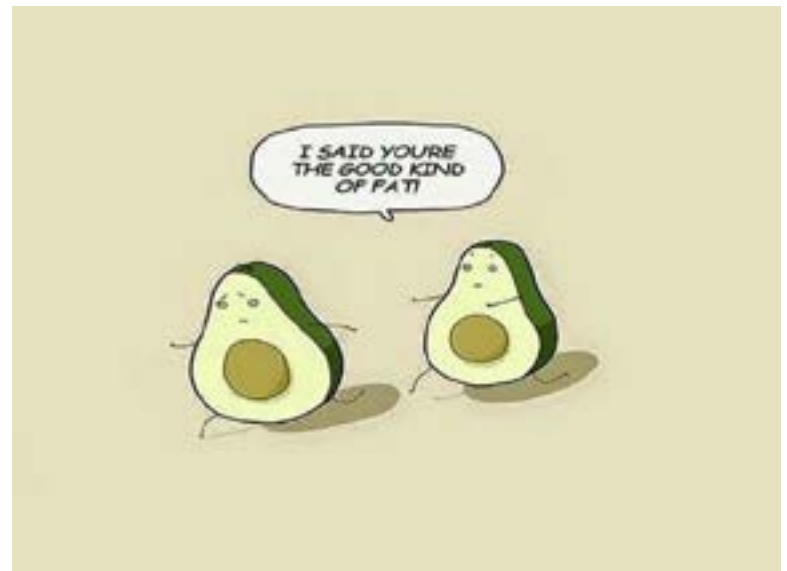

How does May keep its garden neat? With a lot of thyme and effort.

How does May write its emails? With lots of flowery language.

Why did May see a therapist? To talk about its growing sense of bloom.

What did October say to May? "Your flowers are nothing compared to my foliage."

What did December say to May? "Ever seen a Christmas tree bloom? Didn't think so."

HEY, WHAT'S HAPPENING?

By Lisa Crawford (Activities Director)

I swear, the older I get, the faster time flies. April was gone in the blink of an eye. It seems the whole month revolved around the eclipse. Even though we had too much cloud cover where I was to see the eclipse, it was still so cool to watch our little part of the world go completely dark in the middle of the day. Absolutely incredible. Happy Eclipse was heard and said a lot.

Now that we are nearing the end of the milder temperatures, I won't be scheduling as many outdoor activities in the middle of the day. Let's hope and pray it's not too hot for the bus trips I have scheduled for this month. Ok, here we go!

PROPERTY TAX INFORMATION WHORKSHOP May 1st from 1:30 to 3:30 in the dining room. Join us and learn about property tax exemptions and tips on how to protest your property value before the May 15th deadline.

DRUG AND ALCOHOL AWARENESS DISCUSSION will take place in the dining room on Friday, May 17th at 1:30 p.m. The discussion will be lead by Valerie Negrete, BHS and the Hill Country Council on Alcohol & Drug Abuse.

MUSIC: You may or may not be aware that the founder of the Cowboy Capital Opry, Gerald Payne, has left us. He and his wife Harriett are moving out of the area. He didn't want any big hoopla, so he didn't even tell us until after the April Opry was over and everyone was gone for the evening. Gerry started the Opry in 2009 and almost never missed a monthly show. Gerry has also been a faithful and dedicated Meals on Wheels driver for many years. The Silver Sage is extremely grateful to Gerry and Harriett for all their volunteer service to us throughout the years. Happy trails to you both.

As for now the Opry will continue as the show must go on. The Cowboy Capital Opry is held on the first Tuesday each month. The cost is $10 per person and if you would like to reserve a seat you can pay in advance through me. Doors will open at 6:30 and music starts at 7:00. All proceeds benefit the Meals on Wheels program. Our special guest this month is Lee Winright. As always, we appreciate all our musicians as they donate their time and talents. Thank you for attending and your dedicated and continued support in this fundraising event.

BUS TRIPS: Thursday, May 2nd Mac & Ernie's Roadside Grill. The bus will leave the center at 10:30 a.m. Please sign up wheather you are meeting us there or riding the bus so I can give them an accurate head count.

Monday, May 6th HEB in Kerrville. The bus will leave the center at 12:30 p.m.

Wednesday, May 8th Mamacita's in Kerrville for dinner and then on to the FREE Live Radio Show at the Rockbox Theater in Fredericksburg. The bus will leave the center at 3:45. The radio show starts at 7:00 and is over around 9:00. I expect we will be back to the center by 10:00 p.m. Please sign up so I know how many tickets we need and how many for dinner. Of course, you are always welcome to meet us just for dinner or just for the show. Please let me know if you are planning to do either so I will have an accurate head count.

Monday, May 13th The Exotic Resort Zoo Tour in Johnson City. The bus will leave the center at 8:00 a.m. sharp. This is NOT the San Antonio Zoo. This is a GUIDED TOUR through a wildlife zoo. Once we arrive we will purchase our tickets and load up on their trailers pulled behind a tractor for a tour of the property.

You are free to stand and feed the animals while the tour guide stops. Please use your best judgement in standing. There are camels, zebras, highlander cows, kangaroos, a giraffe, ostrich, llamas and much more. We have the option to purchase buckets of food for $8 each to feed the animals. The animals will come up to the trailer to eat from your hand and you can even put a piece of food partially in and partially out of your mouth and let the camel take it from you. This is called KISSING THE CAMEL. I recently did this trip with my foster daughter and we had a blast. The cost of the tour for seniors is $17.95 per person. After our time at the Exotic Resort Zoo we will stop at Woerner Warehouse Café & Catering in Fredericksburg for lunch. They serve soups, salads, personal pizzas, panini sandwiches, deli sandwiches and baked goods.

Thursday, May 30th Texas Thrift in San Antonio, Cheddars Scratch Kitchen for lunch and Goodwill Thrift in Helotes. Ready, Set, CHARGE!

SPECIAL EVENT: Thursday, May 16th we will have a pizza and a movie party. This will be for adults only please. The Pizza is being sponsored by Landon Ridge Assisted Living & Memory Care. Pizza will be served at 6:00 and the movie will start at 6:30 ish or when we have picked up our mess. Just like the last one you are welcome to bring a dessert to share. I will bring something but haven't decided what yet. You MUST sign up in advance by May 14th if you wish to attend so that they will know how many pizzas to order. Sign up sheet is in the entry room with the bus trip sign ups. The movie will be Guernsey Literary and Potato Peel Pie Society.
