ANNUAL REPORT
2019
GENERAL FEDERATION OF WOMEN’S CLUBS OF VIRGINIA
“Service, the Debt of Education”
Over the past year, memories were made of club accomplishments and friendships renewed. Clubwomen continued to support their communities in several ways. Many projects were long standing and new ones were established or designed to fit a need in the community. Members continue to extend a helping hand as needed.

With 119 of 140 clubs reporting, members supported their communities throughout Virginia. They volunteered 304,067 hours on 6,312 projects resulting in $1,694,886 monetary donations and $854,196 in-kind donations.

In 2019, clubs emphasized various Community Service Projects and Partners, Advancements Areas and Special Projects. Clubs planted pinwheels, supported recycling efforts and donated to TREK enough items to donate three benches. Donated and assisted to backpack programs, contributed to St. Jude Children’s Research Hospital and HOBY Virginia. Collected school supplies for various schools. Supported the GFWC Grand and Brand Initiatives. Donated wish list items and monetary donations to Domestic Violence shelters. Attended theater productions, made hospital gowns and drawstring bags for Operation Smile. Collected shoes for various programs and held forums throughout the year for designated months. Held wine and cheese and teas events to recruit new members, attend leadership and reporting workshops. Utilized social media with various techniques to promote projects and programs and continued to produce newsletters in multiple mediums.

The support continued of the State Project, “Step Up to Stop Human Trafficking” in 2019. Clubs sponsored classes and schools monetarily to introduce the Prevention Project curriculum. Clubs purchased silicone bracelets and explored multiple Human Trafficking avenues. Throughout the year, clubs volunteered 2,915 hours, donated $5,633 and contributed both monetary and in-kind donations of $18,434 in support of the State Project. After state convention was cancelled, the hope is to present a check of monetary donations from the administration State Project to Richmond Justice Initiative (RJI) in an alternative way or possibly during Conference in August.

In the month of June 17, GFWC Virginia Clubwoman traveled to Austin, TX for GFWC Convention and next several Virginia women traveled to Washington, DC for GFWC Board Meeting. During August, the Executive Board meeting held at the Appomattox Inn for a Summer Board meeting and GFWC Virginia LEADS held on Sunday where attendees participated in an icebreaker activity, listened to protocol pointers and learned membership techniques, just to name a few. Overall, each attendee, walked away energized with all they learned in one day.

GFWC Virginia members have enjoyed serving as Educational Ambassadors at the State Fair of Virginia in late September/early October. Many of you can remember balloons on hats to bus greeters in the current environment. GFWC Virginia has enjoyed 30 years of participating at the State Fair.

As President, I was extremely proud of all GFWC Virginia members for the support as Virginia hosted the Southeastern Region Meeting in September. GFWC Virginia had 160 members attend throughout the weekend. Attendees volunteered for multiple tasks and made donations for a successful meeting. Virginia Clubwomen are the most dedicated and generous by far.

While it is disappointing, GFWC Virginia Convention could not be held in April. Cancelling the meeting was the right decision for the membership. This officer has enjoyed visiting each district and travelling to represent the members of GFWC Virginia. Thank you for the honor to serve as GFWC Virginia President.
The Virginia Juniors found many ways to Spread Joy and Serve Others across the state, the country and abroad. Collectively we donated $102,833.03, spent $13,190.77, gave 33,618.25 hours of service, raised $287,311.08, gave $122,258.81 in in-kind donations and completed 1,022 projects. Our members went above and beyond in giving of their time, talents and treasures in support of the community service programs and advancement areas. Read on for a snapshot of their work in 2019.

Home Life, Health and Advocates for Children were a primary focus. Members donated food and clothing, prepared and served meals at shelters, provided gifts during Christmas, made blankets for Project Linus and put together care bags for children in the foster care system. One club took time to support their local food mission and spent days cleaning, scrubbing, organizing, rebuilding and rearranging their kitchen. In two clubs, members took the Polar Plunge in support of Special Olympics, while others donated funds and supported local athletes. Clubs supported organizations that address mental health issues and suicide prevention campaigns. Juniors made health a priority by participating in variety of 5k runs, cancer awareness walks and the Go Red for Women campaign; they donated to organizations that focus on health causes and educated their members on health issues. Four clubs hosted or participated in events that outfit teenagers for prom and one club organized and participated in a prom for individuals with special needs. Several clubs held breakfast with Santa and provided children with gifts at Christmas. One club provided for 55 children at Christmas through their “Last Minute Angels” program where just prior to the holiday they take the remaining angels off the tree and provide gifts. Local police departments received stuffed animals for distribution and members packed bags for children in the foster care system. Clubs donated backpacks and school supplies and one provided first day of school notes and gifts for children. Members donated pop-tabs to the Ronald McDonald House and hygiene products for homeless youth and foster children. One club focused on positive self-image and anti-bullying by sponsoring Girls on the Run and anti-bullying campaigns in the school system. Clubs supported St. Jude by answering phones at their annual radiothon and supported March of Dimes by making blankets for babies and donating hygiene kits for parents with babies in the NICU. At the state convention a walk was held for March of Dimes and as the host state for the Southeastern Region, the Juniors coordinated a walk for St. Jude.

Juniors supported the GFWC Signature Project by wearing purple ribbons, providing shelters with money and supplies and adopting clients during the holidays to provide gifts and necessities. Clubs planted pinwheel gardens, donated money to support human trafficking awareness and educated their members on this issue. Juniors supported the Arts in many ways including hosting craft nights, judging local art events, hosting craft fairs and supporting local theaters and arts organizations. One club hosts an annual spring art show, donating all proceeds back to the community through an Arts Donation fund, which includes college scholarships for students going into the fine arts. Clubs focused on the environment by recycling and/or finding ways to reuse a variety of items, including pill bottles, pull-tabs, newspapers, magazines, mascara wands and plastic grocery bags, and by adopting parks and streets to clean up the community. Clubs sponsored scholarships, recognized teachers, donated books, supported local libraries, collected box tops, and purchased school supplies. One club sponsors a book club for middle school girls to strengthen their reading skills and encourage them to share their opinions. Several clubs supported students to participate in the HOBY Seminar and donated supplies. Juniors supported the military by sending cards and care packages to the troops and supporting organizations that offer services for veterans and wounded warriors. Several clubs provided meals to first responders in their community and made donations in the wake of natural disasters. Clubs participated in local safety awareness events and provided information to their members regarding issues like safe driving, fire prevention and fraud awareness. Multiple clubs participated in Wreaths Across America events. Our Juniors went global in their service by collecting pill bottles and bras that were sent to developing countries and filled shoe boxes for Operation Christmas Child. One club raised funds for 100 meals for Rise Against Hunger. One club supported a village in Ethiopia by donating funds to help a woman start an independent business and funds to support a clean water project. All GFWC International partners received monetary donations.

Junior members recognize that strong leadership and a vibrant membership are critical to future of our state Federation and GFWC. Clubs host leadership workshops, file exchanges and facilitate transition meetings. Clubs review and update their bylaws regularly, utilize parliamentary procedure and develop leadership materials to facilitate continuity. Junior club members work with each other and their general counterparts to problem solve, share information and ensure adherence to bylaws and standing rules. Juniors focus on membership recruitment and retention and multiple clubs reported new members. Clubs host social outings and activities, recognize life milestones and club anniversaries, and provide support for their members in times of need. Open houses, happy hours and dinners are held for prospective members and orientation is provided for new members. Clubs and their members proudly displayed their club name, logo and symbols on banners, apparel, cups, bags, tumblers and car magnets and used an array of media to promote their clubs and activities.

None of this work was possible without some level of fundraising and in 2019 members raised over $280,000, with one district increasing their fundraising by 61%! There were food sales, a dinner theater, raffles, bingo, bus trips, scrapbook events, dances, community breakfasts, craft festivals, direct sales, silent and live auctions, restaurant events and more. These projects were opportunities for the club to not only raise funds, but to also Spread Joy, increase community awareness and reach prospective members.

With our state project addressing a critical issue in Virginia, awareness and prevention of human trafficking, a specific project was not prioritized for fundraising and donations during this administration. Instead, the broad-based theme to Spread Joy and Serve Others was promoted. To Spread Joy included spreading awareness of GFWC, positively impacting membership retention and recruitment and strengthening members’ connection to Federation. To Serve Others focused on supporting the Junior Special Project Advocates for Children and encouraging clubs to diversify their work and outreach. The junior theme of the administration was spread via presentations and workshops, through official visits to districts, in newsletter articles in our state magazine and through direct outreach to our district directors and club presidents. In 2019, I had the opportunity to meet members from junior clubs by way of five official district visits, visits to club meetings, attendance at our state meetings and workshops, and participation in club events.

The metrics of success, outside of reporting stats, were a bit complex to compile, but there are some things to be said for certain. GFWC Virginia Junior members did spread joy. They proudly displayed GFWC apparel, more juniors stepped up to serve in the next administration and new Junior (and Juniorette) clubs were federated in the state. Of note, is that the Virginia Juniors hosted a fun night during the Southeastern Region meeting and raised $2,100 that was distributed across the Region with an earmark to support the Junior Special Project Advocates for Children.

As your 3rd Vice President, Director of Junior Clubs I am honored to serve alongside amazing district directors, junior and general officers, and junior directors across the country. This opportunity has challenged and inspired me, and fed my soul. I appreciate all the support and guidance given to me and most importantly the work of all the GFWC Virginia Juniors. What an amazing two years it has been!
It was our objective this administration to “pump up” the confidence of our members – there is a leader in all of us! As GFWC Virginia LEADS Coordinator, Jenny conducted a successful GFWC Virginia Leadership Education and Development Seminar which focused on a diverse selection of leadership topics presented by GFWC Virginia and community business leaders. 26 up and coming federation leaders took advantage of the opportunity for personal development and growth. GFWC Virginia was privileged to host the Southeastern Region meeting where these officers along with seven other Virginia club women participated in the Southeastern Region LEADS. And, once again GFWC Virginia sponsored a representative to GFWC LEADS in Austin, Texas.

In keeping with our GFWC Virginia president’s theme, the shoe, a “Shoebox of Leadership Materials” was developed to assist new club presidents in preparing for their office. This 28-page document served as a supplement to the GFWC Club Manual Leadership Guide to offer administrative and motivational tips. Following a successful Pilot Program on Electronic Reporting in 2018, this year an electronic reporting format was made available for all clubs. This method of report submission has been well received and we look forward to expanding electronic reporting availability on other levels. More cyber activity was encouraged to move our clubs and state federation into the next decade. We took off our shoes and stuck our feet in the cyber waters as virtual meeting opportunities were explored and implemented.

It was our privilege to attend the GFWC Incoming Leadership Training Seminar held during the 2019 GFWC Convention in Austin, Tx. and we enjoyed a fun and informational GFWC Orientation in November in Crystal City, Virginia. The duties of our respective offices were fulfilled, attending all meetings of the Executive Committees and Executive Boards. Articles were submitted to the GWC Virginia Clubwoman highlighting leadership topics and reporting tips and promoting the GFWC Jennie Award and LEADS. It has been an honor to work “in step” with the other members of the GFWC Virginia Executive Boards. Thank you for the privilege to serve!
Time has brought us to near completion of this administration and please know the heart-felt honor we share in serving in our respective positions.

Minutes have been recorded and filed for the 2019 GFWC Virginia Convention as well as all Executive Board Meetings. In addition, minutes have been recorded and filed for GFWC Virginia’s, Budget and Finance Committee and Endowment Fund Committee. Joy recorded and filed minutes for the GFWC Virginia Junior Board Meetings as well as GFWC Virginia Convention Junior Business Meetings. We have written and submitted articles for each Virginia Clubwoman publications and corresponded with district secretaries.

These positions surely have given us time to develop better note taking techniques, organizational skills, and writing skills. Above all, these positions have provided an abundance of great fellowship and fun.

We will always treasure our time volunteering or simply having fun with fellow members across our great state during the 2018-2020 administration and we thank you for the opportunity to have served GFWC Virginia.

It has been a privilege to serve as GFWC Virginia Treasurers during this administration. We have worked together, as Generals and Juniors, to make sure your treasuries are treated with the utmost care. As members of the Executive Board, we have participated in many discussions about this organization. Please know that we have represented you to the best of our abilities, taking into consideration the past as decisions are made for the future.

Expenses were paid in a timely manner. Payments were pre-approved by our State President and our Budget and Finance Committee Chairman through our voucher system and copies forwarded to our GFWC Virginia Headquarters. GFWC dues have been submitted and GFWC Virginia Juniors have been reimbursed for their portion of state dues.

The Budget and Finance Committee and Endowment Fund Committee meetings were attended at conferences, convention and the mid-winter meeting. In addition, all Executive Board and /or Junior Executive Board meetings were attended with financial reports presented. Treasurer reports were presented to our General body at the 2019 State Convention and Conference. Articles were written for inclusion in each Virginia Clubwoman publication.

Having these positions has allowed us to meet many members of Federation. We work with each other, support each other and hopefully help each other when we can. We appreciate the opportunity to work for you and the trust you put in us to safeguard the GFWC Virginia treasury during the 2018-2020 administration.
The Alice Kyle District of the General Federation of Woman’s Club of Virginia is located in south central Virginia. Twelve clubs make up this district, 8 general and 4 junior clubs. The attrition rate of most of the clubs has affected our annual performance, but the remaining clubs are a diverse, talented and energetic volunteer force and their results reflect dedication, passion and a strong financial commitment to their communities and the GFWC federation. During the latter part of 2019, a new club was added into the Alice Kyle District, the GFWC Lake Manor Estates Woman’s Club with 11 new members. That made up in some small part for clubs loss of members.

Of the 8 general clubs, 5 submitted reports. All junior clubs submitted reports. The reporting clubs supported the GFWC Signature Projects, and the community projects with their time, talent and creativity. The advancement areas were also well supported. Fundraising and state projects were also given the emphasis, resources and woman-power.

Of the clubs reporting (9 total), both general and junior, generated 173 projects, 4,015 volunteer hours, $31,553.00 dollars donated, and $30,159.00 in kind donations in community service projects.

The 4 Junior Clubs of the Alice Kyle District contributed in all categories to the overall performance of the district. They had delivered 63 projects, 895 volunteer hours, 11538.00 dollars donated, and 1869.00 in-kind donations. Their GFWC Advancement Areas totaled 26 projects, 502 volunteer hours, 113.00 dollars spent and 1371.00 in –kind donations. They also had one addition to the Dogwood Society Endowment Fund.

The Alice Kyle Clubs presented a wonderful variety of community service projects. The Amherst Woman’s Club sponsored the first Virginia Walk to End Scleroderma raising over $10,000.00 with a walk and silent auction. They also contributed over 500 pairs of shoes for Soles for Souls human trafficking project. Blackstone adopted a local family and provided them with food, presents, and necessities throughout the winter holidays of Thanksgiving, Christmas and Valentine’s Day. Cumberland sponsored several speakers and activities to support the state project, Step Up to Human Trafficking. The Woman’s Club of Farmville, VA- GFWC in its 99th year, held an essay contest for the community and supported many local charities with substantial donations. The new club, Lake Manor Estates Woman’s Club held several events to support 5 charities including human trafficking. Virgilina was the first club to report their activates which were impactful and varied. They had two conservation projects, one of which is town beautification.

The Farmville Junior Woman’s Club held many events in most of the Community Service Project areas and raised thousands of dollars during their Lunch with Santa during the Christmas holidays. Crewe Woman’s Club had a recycling project at Camp Crossroads and supported Madeline’s House for women who are subjected to abuse and ran a major project, Christmas Mother. The Lynchburg Junior Woman’s Club continues to run a thrift shop that funds many projects, including major support for Miriam’s House, a shelter for abused women and their children. South Boston – Halifax Junior Woman’s Club supports many projects including Trick or Treat for UNICEF, Shot at Life and Heifer International Domestic Violence, Prevent Child Abuse, Camp Easter Seals and March of Dimes: Clubs planted Pinwheel Gardens throughout the district. Donated monies and items to local shelters such as First Night Bags, Birthday Bags with items needed for a birthday party at the shelter. Personal items such as toiletries, purses with gift cards and items needed in a pinch. Backpacks and tote bags with items needed when leaving home. Monetary donations were made to Camp Easter Seals, a bean bag toss game purchased for the site and Tool Kits for new mothers and Babies in Crisis were donated.

Arts: Members spend time as docents in art galleries and theatres, attend concerts, plays and local events. We teach and take art classes, participate in local festivals, fairs, choral societies, theatre productions.

Conservation: We garden, harvest and preserve the foods we grow. Members maintain wildlife habitats and work to keep the trails along the Appalachian Trail and Blue Ridge Parkway clean and safe for hikers and clean the areas around the streams on the Virginia Tech Campus. We recycle and compost. Speaking of recycling, TREX has been the beneficiary of lots of plastic recycled by two clubs and in return, the clubs received TREX benches to donate to local parks. One club maintains a Butterfly Garden at a local community center. One club adopted a 2019 Climate Pledge to recognize and participate in the movement to conserve our local resources.

Education: Many clubs donated Dr. Sueess books to local schools Many belong to Book Clubs. One club along with donations from members of other clubs donate “trash” to a local school such as egg cartons and paper towel holders for the Young Engineers Program. Books Till Six is a program providing books to the Pediatric Unit at Carilion Hospital and Books for Bearcats provides books for summer reading to an Elementary School in Bristol, VA. Scholarships are awarded by several clubs to graduating high school seniors for college.

Home Life and Health: We take care of our health by exercising, keeping up with health exams. Members have donated personal care items, cards, stuffed animals, color books, etc. at district meeting donated to local nursing homes. Our “Sweat Suit” Project continues on to provide clothes to women, men and children going to Roanoke Memorials’ Forensic Nursing Unit for assistance in the event of sexual assault. One club supports the Addy Grace Foundation to build and maintain an all abilities playground. Clubs donate monies and volunteer for local organizations focused on food security in our area. One club donated toys to Duke Children’s Hospital for play therapy for pediatric cancer patients. A member of a club woman’s family had cancer treatment at this facility. Families were adopted to assist during the holidays and holiday parties held for special needs members of our community. One club partners with the local YMCA to provide prom attire to local students.

Public Issues: The National D-Day Memorial is at the heart of our area. Now we have a new Bedford Boys Tribute Center. Members support Veteran’s activities, Brook Hill Farm a horse rescue farm that works with disadvantaged youth by paring them horses to help each recover and adapt to a better life. Clubs support local historical sites with donations and volunteer hours. We vote, recite the Pledge of Allegiance at club and District meetings. Clubs prepare treats to take to local first responders.

Communication and Public Relations: Communication is key in all we do. We utilize Facebook, Instagram, Newsletters and Email to share the latest and greatest details to our members.

Leadership: Our district is honored to be the home of multiple State Presidents. Three that continue to serve GFWC in multiple capacities. One club holds a joint meeting of the outgoing administration and the incoming administration to keep members up to date and receive the training needed for the jobs they now hold.

Legislation and Public Policy: Members have communicated with local and state legislators plus attended local government meetings. We have signed up to receive alerts from the GFWC Legislative Action Center.

Membership: Membership events were held to recruit new members. Clubs take the time to update handbooks, rack cards and tri-folds for distribution. We participate in local festivals. We also take time to just be together holding holiday events, getting together for lunch or dinner and attending local events together. It is not just about doing good things for others in our communities, it is also about bonding and getting to know each other better.

Women’s History and Resource Center: One club donated to the Campaign for the Future at Headquarters. One continues to sift through 90 years of club documents and records.

President: I am very appreciative of all our members do day in and day out. It is not just about what we do to make the lives of others better, it is the friendships that grow over time that makes GFWC a great organization to be in.

NEWSLETTERS
Pat Jeffress, Editor of The Virginia Clubwoman
GFWC Virginia Newsletters were judged based on the following criteria: Appearance and organization, readability, GFWC affiliation logos, name of the club on the front cover, reports of officers and chairmen, member recognition, minutes, treasurer's reports, federation information, and reminders.
The number of attractive, well organized newsletters made deciding the winners very difficult. Many clubs used colorful graphics or pictures of club activities to enhance their newsletters. The bottom line is, “Did the newsletter make me want to continue reading?”

Congratulations to our GFWC Virginia Community Improvement Program Award winners!

1st Place – Tori’s Closet – Woman’s Club of Newport News – Tidewater District

Tori’s Closet, so named for mother and daughter fatal victims of domestic violence, began as a focus on the homeless population in the city school system and a pile of clothing kept under the desk of a school administrator. The Woman’s Club of Newport News recognized an opportunity to meet community needs and found space available at the South Morrison Family Resource Center, purchased shelving, solicited clothes racks and additional building materials from the community and “built” the closet. School counselors, social services, police and sheriff departments, as well as the Court System, refer clients in need of clothing at no cost. Tori’s Closet has served 3670 “guests” since its inception in 2018. Club members have spent 2822 hours in support of the project- soliciting donations from the community and local thrift stores, organizing clothing, implementing a process for “guests” to shop, developing member work schedules and re-stocking the closet. In-kind and financial donations to Tori’s Closet have totaled $22,966.

2nd Place – Discovering Beauty – GFWC Woman’s Club of Hilton Village – Tidewater District

The GFWC Hilton Village Woman’s Club partnered with Families in Transition Ministry, a local 501(c)(3) organization, to implement Discovering Beauty, a unique, six-week summer pilot program of scheduled enrichment activities for under-resourced elementary school-aged girls. Participants met six hours a day Monday-Thursday. They visited the library, went on weekly field trips to museums, a farm, the beach, a local community theater and The Chamberlin retirement community. Club and community members provided opportunities for the girls to learn about cooking, dance, art and exercise. Each of the participants kept daily journals- reflections of their experiences. Members of the club spent 623 hours on the project and raised in-kind and financial support of $9,972.

3rd Place – Trex Project – GFWC Woman’s Club of Roanoke – Blue Ridge District

Trex, a decking and fencing company advertised a project for non-profit organizations: collect 500 pounds of plastic and receive a Trex park bench. The GFWC Roanoke Woman’s Club chose the Trex Project because it served a two-fold purpose: met a significant community need and allowed participation by all of its 10 members, 4 of whom are not able to attend meetings or provide “hands on” participation. Members, friends and local community stores collected 1700 pounds of plastic bags, furniture wrapping, newspaper protectors and food wrappers- enough for three park benches. The club received extensive press coverage in both the Roanoke and metropolitan Richmond areas. Two benches were donated to Mountain View, a Victorian home operated by the Roanoke City Department of Parks and Recreation, open to the public for recreational activities, weddings and special events, Mountain View was originally owned by one of the club’s first Presidents. The “bag ladies” of the GFWC Roanoke Woman’s Club spent 1570 volunteer hours on the Trex Project.
The GFWC Virginia members took time and finances to support this area well. Part of what made our state so successful was the coming together of clubs to walk in a makeshift March of Dimes March for Babies at our 2019 Convention. This along with our states keen attention to children and their needs, 2019 was a very successful year for GFWC Virginia in the area of Advocates for Children

Director of Junior Clubs Awards

Trina Behbahani, GFWC Virginia Director of Junior Clubs
The GFWC Virginia Director of Junior Clubs is intended to recognize Outstanding Achievement to one club in each size category whose Annual Club Record and reports demonstrate work that was most well-rounded and most beneficial to their community and the Federation with the best use of resources and their members. The winning clubs will also have participated in the GFWC Virginia State Project (Step Up to Stop Human Trafficking), at least one project for a GFWC partner in the Junior Special Project: Advocates for Children – March of Dimes and St. Jude Children’s Research Hospital, recognized Advocates for Children Week and participated in at least one of the “7 Grand Initiatives” from GFWC. The award considers all work reported.

Small Club Winner – GFWC Powhatan Junior Woman’s Club – Lee District
This small club experienced a growth in membership from 2018 to 2019, reporting three new members for the year. Their reports demonstrated a variety of work across the community service program areas, including projects in support of the GFWC Signature Project and the GFWC Juniors’ Special Project. The club supported both GFWC partners under Advocates for Children by participating in their annual charity walks, raising funds and contributing to walks for both March of Dimes and St. Jude Children’s Research Hospital in coordination with state-sponsored events. They supported the GFWC Seven Grand Initiatives by collecting and donating over 120 pairs of shoes and participating in the Soles 4 Souls collection at GFWC Virginia Convention. In an effort to support both the state project and the Seven Grand Initiatives, this club wore custom “stop human trafficking” tattoos to on the MLK National Day of Service to raise awareness and encourage conversations about this important topic and provided the GFWC Virginia state president with an additional supply of the tattoos for distribution. The club had representation at all of their district meetings, at the GFWC Virginia Convention, Southeastern Region meeting and the GFWC International Convention. As evidenced by their growth in membership, these women make both recruitment and retention activities a priority. They hosted a recruitment event, multiple socials and recognized their club members’ life events. These women promote their club by using social media outlets and encourage their members to be familiar with all levels of GFWC. They support the events and activities of other clubs, hosted the GFWC Virginia Director of Junior Clubs at a club meeting and have members serving in positions at the district, state and region level.

Overall, this club is well rounded and demonstrates an understanding of the importance of connecting to GFWC and doing as much as possible to support their community, the Federation and each other.

Large Club Winner – GFWC Staunton Augusta Junior Woman’s Club – Shenandoah District
This large club’s reports demonstrated a broad range of activity across the community service program areas. The Club supported the GFWC Junior Special Project: Advocates for Children, the GFWC Signature Project, the GFWC Seven Grand Initiatives, the GFWC Virginia State Project and the GFWC Virginia Junior State Project. In support of the GFWC Juniors Special Project: Advocates for the Children, the club supported GFWC partner St. Jude Children’s Research Hospital by raising over $700 and walking in an awareness event during the Southeastern Region meeting. They supported the state junior project by visiting Camp Easter Seals multiple times, checking in campers and preparing a meal for camp counselors and staff. The club attended workshops on human trafficking to support the state project and planted a pinwheel garden and ran in a local 5k for the women’s shelter in support of the GFWC Signature Project. The club supported the GFWC Seven Grand Initiatives by spending the National Day of Service (and a second day) at the Valley Mission, a local organization providing meals to those in need in the community. Club members spent two days cleaning, scrubbing, organizing, rebuilding and rearranging the kitchen. The club sells an original ornament each year and with the funds raised they award scholarships, send children to camps, supported a water program and a female small business in Ethiopia and helped provide children with gifts at Christmas. In addition to their activity in the CSP areas, this club has members in attendance at all district and state meetings, has members serving at the district and state levels, promotes their club activity utilizing Facebook, and in 2019 recruited 3 new members. Club members support each other and promote Federation as they support their community in a variety of ways.

GFWC VIRGINIA JUNIOR CLUB OF THE YEAR AWARD
2018-2020 ADMINISTRATION

Taken from the words of our GFWC International President, GFWC was founded on the principle of "Unity in Diversity". Our founders could have chosen any word, but they chose "Diversity" because it reflected their belief that the organization should exist embracing "Diversity" in its members and programs. President Brock also has placed an emphasis on GFWC's history of creating positive change in communities through legislation.

During the 2018-2020 administration, the GFWC Virginia Junior Club of the Year Award will be presented to the Junior Club whose members embrace diversity and a return to our legislative roots. This award recognizes a club that widens the scope of their club programs, educates their members on the traditions, cultures and lifestyles of different religions and countries, seeks to diversify their membership and works on projects with and for diverse organizations. The award also recognizes a club that helps to "reclaim our role as a unified organization that can make things happen" and puts an emphasis on work in the area of legislation.

Winner – Junior Woman’s Club of Loudoun – Northern District

The Junior Woman’s Club of Loudoun (JWCL) is recognized as the GFWC Virginia Junior Club of the Year because they support a diverse community through a variety of service projects, utilizing the diverse talents and qualities of their members, and for their promotion of legislative activism. JWCL encouraged its members to use their voice to impact legislation by signing up for the GFWC Legislative Action Center, responding to GFWC calls to action and exercising their right to vote. The club keeps an open mind about programs to support and encourages members to bring new ideas to the club that represent causes they care about. During the year, JWCL invites speakers from local non-profit organizations to their monthly club meetings, allowing members to learn about various volunteer opportunities and to understand the needs in their community.

The club supported the Loudoun Literacy Council to support those in the community for whom English is a second language; they support the ARC of Loudoun which supports children and adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities and during their Prom Wishes event they are consciously supportive of the diverse needs of the attendees, including those that seek conservative attire due to religious and cultural beliefs. JWCL embraces the Federation motto of ‘Unity in Diversity ’ and empowers its members to support each other, share their unique perspectives and identify opportunities to support a diverse cross-section of community members in need.
