Gender Inequity in Modern Britain

Business Leadership

- In 2013, British men were almost twice as likely to be a manager, director or senior official than women (EHRC)
- In 2020, there were more male CEOs called Peter in the UK than female CEOs overall (Durham)
- Women make up only 6% of CEOs of FTSE 100 companies. None of these 6% are women of colour (LSE)

Politics and Economics

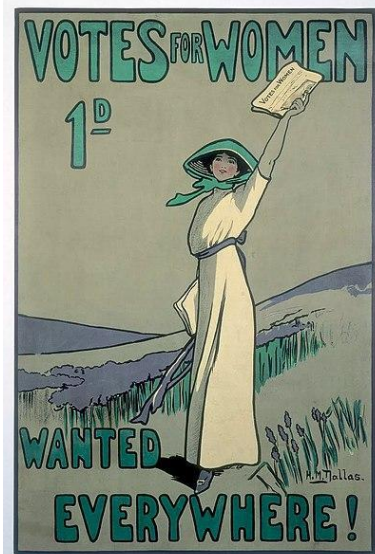

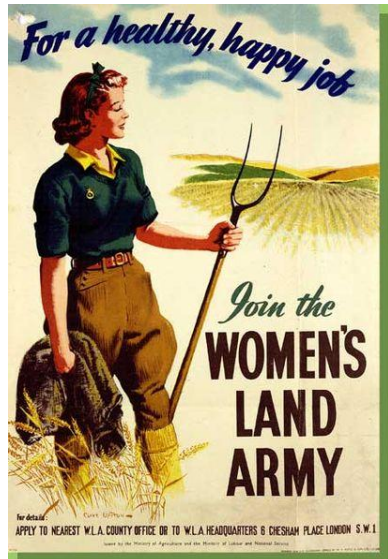

- Only 40% of MPs in 2024 were women
- The gender pay gap in Britain is still 11.3% (Fawcett Society)
- Women of colour are less likely to be employed than White British women, and consistently earn less per hour than White British men (Fawcett Society)

Home Life

- 85% of women cook or do housework every day compared with just 49% of men (LSE)
- Mothers spend more time on childcare than fathers, on average (UK Gov't)
- Women are more likely than men to be victims of domestic violence or abuse (EHRC)

Art and the Women's Rights Movement

- What issues does this art address?
- Why are the images memorable?
- Why are they effective in making their point?

Changemaking through Art

Instructions

- You will now create your own piece of activist art: a poster raising awareness about a social cause in modern Britain that you care about.
- Your poster should be inspired by the historical art we have studied so far.
- You will also write a 1-2 paragraph short essay explaining which cause you have selected, why it is important to you, and what creative decisions you made when making your poster.
- Take roughly 20 minutes to create the poster and 10 minutes to write your essay.

Criteria for Success

Effective projects will...

- ☐ Clearly identify a social cause in modern Britain as their subject
- ☐ Use artistic techniques to raise awareness about this case
- ☐ Demonstrate an understanding of the historical art studied in this unit
- ☐ Explain the reasoning behind the poster in a 1-2 paragraph essay

Summary

“I raise up my voice – not so that I can shout, but so that those without a voice can be heard.”

-Malala Yousafzai

How can you raise your voice for causes that you care about?
