

Peoria High School in the Early 2000's

- The enrollment of PHS went from over 3000 in 2003 to around 1800 by 2009.
- Raymond Kellis High School took students from PHS beginning in 2004.
- With a huge enrollment, things had to be done to get students to class that is why we had a:

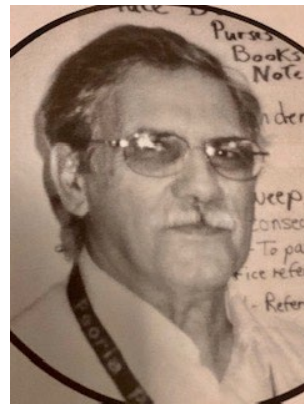

You either ran to class or went to detention.

- Two important people in the process of getting people to class were:

Dale, Security Guard

Victor Kelly, Detention Supervisor

- With block scheduling programs thrived as well as the clubs associated with these programs. Here are some of the clubs:

Auto	FBLA	BMAS
Choir Ensemble	Mariachi	FFA

- The school store was known as the Panther Paws. It was located behind the main building in the locker pod.
- Prom Styles in 2005:

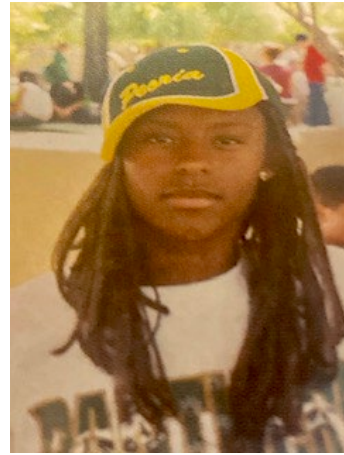

- PHS had some great athletes and teams during this period of time, the problem was that because of enrollment they were now in the highest classifications with schools such as Hamilton and Chandler.
- One sport where Peoria dominated was in track where PHS dominated the sprints in both boys and girls. Some of the top track people were:

Keegan Herring                      Jamal Miles                      T.J. Simpson
 Herring, Miles, and Simpson all got football scholarships to ASU

Judith and Jessica Onyepunuka                      Kenyanna Wilson.
 The Judith and Jessica received scholarships to Stanford and USC, respectively.
 Kenyanna went on to LSU.

- Peoria also excelled in wrestling with top wrestlers such as Marcus Rodriguez, Eli Arizmendez and Tito Garcia.
- Car's students drove in the 2000's:

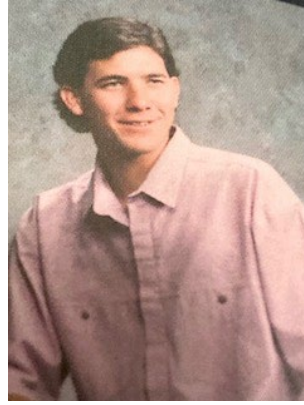

- Students from Peoria also competed in Hockey. They combined with other schools to form a team

- One of the neat things that is unique to PHS, is the amount of students who return as teachers, such as Kim Bruns and Steve Treguboff.

- One of the outstanding innovative programs on campus in the early 2000's was a new language being taught. We added to our foreign language program by including an American Sign Language Program
- Football was outstanding during this time but did not yield many championships but a lot of wins. Some outstanding players were Jamal Miles, Keegan Herring, Ross Luna, Marcus Rodriguez and outstanding QB Vince Fiore.
