

POWDER BROWS

(Cejas en Polvo)

Ombre powder brows are a permanent makeup treatment that uses either a digital machine or handheld tool to insert tiny dots of pigment into the top layer of your skin. It creates a more shaded effect, rather than the crisp hair strokes that are often associated with microblading that after time, tends to spread and is a painful process.

Powdered brows can be done with a machine or hand tool to create an ombre look instead of individual hair strokes. Powdered brows are for individuals with oily and mature skin and those wanting a soft makeup look. The soft makeup look means that the tails of the brows are darker and fade to a lighter at the start of the brows, giving them a subtle look.

Powdered brows traditionally last 2-4 years while microblading usually lasts 2-3 years.
