

A VISIT TO DR. T

I am going to see Dr. T.

Dr. T is not like my doctor that I go to when I am sick. Dr. T is a doctor who helps me be happy. Dr. T will talk to me, ask me questions and play games with me.

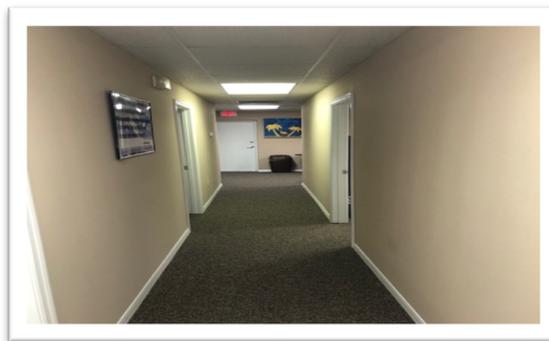

When we get to Dr. T's office, we sign our names and wait in the waiting room.

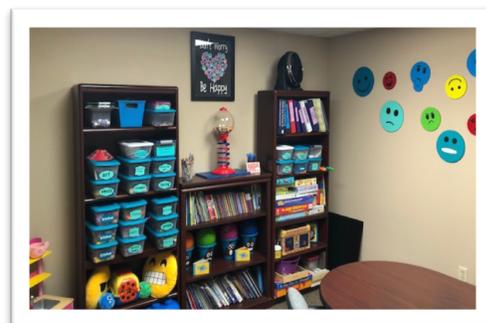

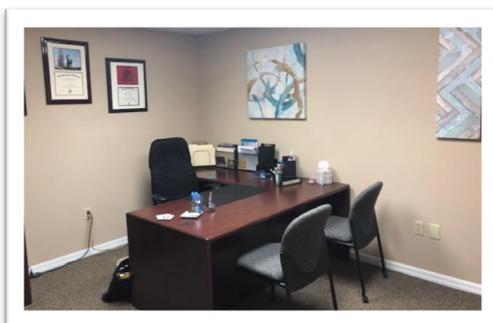

When it is my turn, Dr. T comes out to greet me. She is not scary at all. She sits down next to me and says hello. I can say hello, too.

We follow Dr. T down the hallway, stopping between two rooms.

One room has a desk and chairs. The other room has all kinds of toys and games and emojis on the wall. Dr. T asks me which room I would like to go in.

We go in the Play Room and Dr. T tells me I can touch whatever I want. Dr. T asks what I would like to do today. I can't believe I can choose whatever I want.

We sit down so we can get to know each other. We take turns picking things to do. Dr. T asks me questions about myself. I can ask her questions, too.

Pretty soon it is time to go home. I had fun with Dr. T. I can't wait to come back
