

♥ Volunteering Changes You (on purpose).

Being on a board isn't just about what you give — it's about what you gain.

- ✦ You'll meet people who make you more brave.
- ✦ You'll see your own story in someone else's eyes — and offer them hope.
- ✦ You'll find yourself speaking truth into rooms that weren't built to hear it — and shifting the shape of those rooms.
- ✦ You'll learn to love accountability. (Weird, but true.)
- ✦ You'll walk out changed — more grounded, more whole, more you.

Whether you're here to give back or pay forward, there's something sacred about volunteering in recovery spaces. You don't just make decisions here. You make ripples.

Join the Board of Directors at SocialMN. Our Board is more than a table of decision-makers.

Whether you're a seasoned leader or someone with lived experience seeking a new way to serve, this board was built with a chair waiting for you.

Being on the Board means...

✓ Governing. You'll help steer the organization toward its mission — not by micromanaging, but by seeing the bigger picture and asking good questions.

✓ Advocating. Board members speak up, show up, and stand with the people we serve — especially those whose voices are often overlooked.

✓ Fiduciary Oversight. We watch the money, sure. But we also watch the mission. And we care about both.

✓ Fundraising Support. No, you don't have to cold-call your cousin's boss. But yes, we ask board members to participate in some kind of fundraising effort annually.

✓ Showing Up. We expect our board to be responsive, present, and ready to contribute energy, ideas, and accountability.
