Real Estate Signs

MDO or Medium Density Overlay is the most common material used for construction signs. It is often referred to as "signboard".

It is similar to regular plywood, but the laminate layers are bonded with a more moisture resistant glue.

"Overlay" refers to a paper layer on one (single-sided Overlay MDO) or both sides (double-sided MDO). That paper surface is intended for painting the actual sign content.

Temporary MDO / ACM Signs
