

MAY 2025 | ISSUE NO 15

VALUES NETWORK E MAGAZINE

POSTIVE PARENTING

VALUES IN A CHILD

SPECIALISED INVESTMENT

ALL ABOUT MSME

SPOTLIGHT ON
MAJ DS
THE YESTER YEARS

WHY ARE VETERANS
BEING OVERLOOKED

Table of Contents

05

DUS SAWAAL: BEYOND THE BATTLEFIELD

19

SPECIALISED INVESTMENT
FUNDS
PIONEERING A NEW ERA IN INDIA'S INVESTMENT LANDSCAPE

26

VEERA - THE QUEEN OF TADOBA

37

WHY VETERANS GET OVERLOOKED FOR CORPORATE HIRING
AND WHAT WE CAN DO
ABOUT IT

43

10 GOOD VALUES TO
TEACH YOUR CHILD

52

WHY NICHE SELECTION IS THE SECRET WEAPON OF
SUCCESSFUL MSME
ENTREPRENEURS

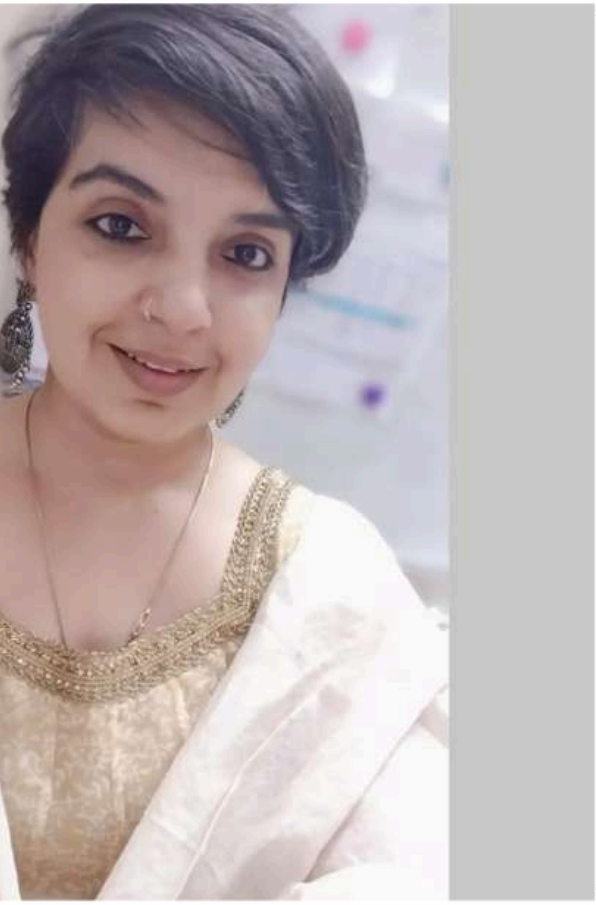

59

BOOK REVIEW - CAN'T HURT
ME

"We create Big Value by being Together and adding Incremental Value Individually"

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF'S LETTER

Dear Readers,

As we open the pages of another issue of The Values Network, I'm reminded of the quiet power of consistent reflection—a pause in the rush of daily life to consider what truly matters.

In a world driven by noise, speed, and constant comparison, this magazine is our collective space to slow down, realign, and reconnect with the core values that ground us: empathy, courage, discipline, honesty, and a commitment to purpose. These are not just lofty ideals; they are everyday practices, forged through challenges, shaped by decisions, and refined by experience.

Each story in this edition is a mirror—some reflecting personal triumph, others revealing lessons from failure, growth, or resilience. Whether it's a young changemaker breaking barriers, a quiet tale of service, or a timeless piece of wisdom from our cultural heritage, our goal is singular: to bring you content that inspires action through reflection.

As Editor-in-Chief, I believe that values are not inherited—they are cultivated. They are choices we make again and again, even when no one is watching. Through this platform, we aim to celebrate those choices and encourage our readers to live not just with ambition, but with intention.

I place my heartfelt thanks to Gp Capt Munish(Retd), Cdr Ram (Retd), Col Nandkishore (Retd), Wg Cdr Saxena (Retd), Lt Col Batra (Retd) and Sqn Ldr AK Panda (Retd) for their valuable contribution.

Thank you for being part of this growing community of thinkers, dreamers, and doers. May these pages move you, stir your conscience, and remind you of the power of living a value-driven life.

Looking forward

Your Editor - in - Chief