The prevalence of infestation (active plus inactive) varied greatly between classes, ranging from zero to 72.2%. Head lice were more prevalent in girls than boys.

Analysis of questionnaires showed that 47.7% of the children had been infested with head lice in the previous 6 months. For children with active pediculosis capitis (Headlice) on examination, 14% of parents or guardians had not noticed the infestation.”*

headlice infestation is totally preventable!!

Headlice have evolved to only live on humans... of any age.

*"Head lice crawl very fast and require head-to-head contact for transmission. It is possible that because of the way young children play, head lice are seen more widely amongst primary school children than adolescents or adults".

NOTE: Once your child has lice anyone in your family who has head-to-head contact can be infested.
