MINI BIO

Philadelphia-born and Dallas-based DJ Kahnti blends Afro House, deep, and soulful rhythms into emotionally charged, high-energy sets. Known for her vibrant presence and intuitive connection with the crowd, she delivers dancefloor experiences rooted in movement, healing, and joy. For Kahnti, house music isn't just sound — it's therapy.

SHORT BIO

Philadelphia-born and Dallas-based DJ, producer, and songwriter Kahnti is a rising force in house music, known for her dynamic sets and emotionally rich sound that fuses Afro, deep, and soulful house. Her performances have taken her from BBE Store London to It'll Do Dallas, where she opened for Nitefreak, and House of Vibes New York alongside Tony Touch. Whether in intimate spaces or festival settings, Kahnti brings a powerful, uplifting energy that keeps dancefloors fully engaged.

She continues to build momentum with recent performances during Miami Music Week, including Barbara Tucker's Let the Singer Be Heard and the System Pool Party alongside Oscar P, further establishing her presence within the global house music community.

FULL BIO

Kahnti is a Philadelphia-born, Dallas-based DJ, producer, and songwriter whose genre-blending sound is both soul-stirring and dancefloor-driven.

Influenced by her musician parents, she developed a deep connection to rhythm, harmony, and melody early in life — foundations that now shape every set she plays and every track she creates.

Known for her emotionally charged performances and intuitive crowd connection, Kahnti's signature sound fuses

Afro House, deep house, and soulful grooves with layered melodies and infectious rhythms. From intimate venues to large-scale events, her sets are immersive, intentional, and rooted in connection.

Her live experience includes standout appearances at SoulCamp, where she delivered a lastminute set ahead of DJ Spen and earned strong praise for her seamless flow and crowd connection, as well as Houston House Music Spring Affair (2024, 2025), where her performances were widely celebrated for their intensity and emotional impact. She has also performed at Mi Casa Holiday and the International Jazz Festival in Cuba, where she presented a genre-blending live set backed by a full jazz band. Additional highlights include headlining Earth Day Dallas alongside Sammalone, DJ Redeye, and Demarkus Lewis.

Internationally, Kahnti expanded her footprint with fall 2025 performances at BBE Store London, It'll Do Dallas (opening for Afro House powerhouse Nitefreak), and House of Vibes New York, sharing the lineup with Tony Touch. She also appeared at Coffee Shop Rave alongside Mark Farina and other leading underground artists, further cementing her reputation as a versatile and uplifting presence on the house music circuit.

In 2026, Kahnti continues to expand her presence on the global house music scene with appearances during Miami Music Week, including Barbara Tucker's Let the Singer Be Heard and the System Pool Party alongside Oscar P.

As a producer, Kahnti has released standout tracks including "My Boo Thang" (Unquantize Records), "Energy" (featured on a #1 Traxsource compilation), "Mirage," and "Free'dom," released on her own imprint, Ladybug Recordings.

Her album One Love, released on Unquantize Records, charted in the Top 20 on Traxsource for multiple weeks and received support from leading DJs including DJ Spen and Thommy Davis, along with coverage from Blues & Soul Magazine and other global music platforms.

Her latest release, Drive Me to the Moon (EP), continues to build momentum, further defining her signature sound within the global house music scene.

Kahnti's mission is clear: to inspire movement, healing, and connection through sound. Her performances are more than DJ sets — they are House Music Therapy in real time.
