PFSC Hires Mike Kriner as Director of Government Affairs

The Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen & Conservationists (PFSC) is proud to announce the hiring of Mike Kriner as their Director of Government Affairs. Kriner is Founder and President of Next Generation Partners, a state and local government affairs consulting firm based in Central Pennsylvania.

Mr. Kriner has spent 30 years working inside or alongside state and local government in Pennsylvania. On the state level, he has strong ties with all legislative leaders, committee chairs, regulatory agencies, and the Governor's Office. He served as Chief of Staff to two Pennsylvania Senators and senior advisor to a President Pro Tempore of the Pennsylvania Senate. On the local level, Mike spent the better part of 10 years interacting with local government and community organizations across the Commonwealth on behalf of two fortune 500 companies. He has focused his institutional and corporate knowledge in a way to best assist clients in navigating the legislative, regulatory, and operational pitfalls they experience every day.

"I am honored to be representing the Federation," said Mr. Kriner. "I look forward to working with them to help shape a successful path forward in the often challenging legislative and regulatory climate of Pennsylvania.

On a personal level, Mike graduated with a BA from Moravian College. He and his wife Donna live in Palmyra, PA, with their two sons – Dylan and Logan. Mike has been a life-long hunter and angler and loves to spend his free time at the family's camp in Bradford County. He is also a long-time member of the NRA and the Palmyra Sportsmen's Association.

"Mike understands our passions and is excited to represent PFSC's interests in Harrisburg," said PFSC President Lowell Graybill. "He has already hit the ground running to make sure PFSC once again has an active presence and a strong voice on Capitol Hill and with our Resource Agencies."
