October usually brings cooler weather. We (who prefer warmer weather) will begin putting on sweaters as we anticipate to colder temperatures. School is in full swing with activities such as sports, bands concerts, drama clubs, etc. RCC is in full swing with JAM and other activities. We will have Small Group at our house October 20, 27, November 3, and 10. We will finish our study of Revelation.

RCC is in the final stretch of our “Centered on Christ/God” series which will end the last Sunday of December. As we begin looking forward to 2020, our focus will change to “Committed to Service.” Being “Rooted in the Word” is extremely important. Being “Centered on Christ” is equally important. But if we ignore being “Committed to Service”, we will be like a three-legged stool missing one leg. It takes all three parts of our mission statement in order to have a complete purpose in our Christian life.

Many people have served faithfully for years at RCC and we commend them for their service. We are continuing to grow numerically and need servants to rise and be committed to serve. We have people in their 20-30's who would like to have a Young Adult Sunday School class. We have someone who is willing to teach this class...Praise the Lord! The challenge we have is what do we do with the increase of children of these young adults. We are looking for servants (men and women) who will help teach and/or help the teacher in the class.

Here's how you can help. First, pray for laborers. The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few (Luke 10:2). Secondly, rise and answer the call to be a laborer for Christ. Thirdly, commit to serve. You might only be able to help once a month or one month a year, but will you consider serving Christ in this capacity? You can talk to Colin or myself about serving. Who will rise and help serve?

Lines from Colin

As we come into fall, there are a few things that start to happen. The weather gets colder, the leaves change, football season! But underneath all the beautiful changes and fun activities that come, there is an underlying sense of dread.

While fall is full of change, and busy with the start of harvest, all these changes are entropic in nature. Things are winding down. Things are withering. Death is the catalyst which brings about the beauty this time of year.

In Ecclesiastes, Solomon tells us that there is a season and a time for everything. A time for sowing and a time for reaping. A time to hold on and a time to let go. A time for joy and a time for sorrow. A time to live and a time to die.

Everything that we go through in life is cyclical in nature. Nothing stays exactly the same for long, and as we reach a point in the year where SAD (Seasonal Affective Disorder) is starting to sink its nasty claws into the populace, we should be encouraged that this season will pass.

And that's what God promises us. He tells us that He will care for us in all times and through all things.

So, don't let the business of the harvest bring you down. Don't let the changing weather drag you down. Don't let the death that will soon surround us overwhelm you. Take heart in the knowledge that in a world where Christ is our Redeemer, Death shall have no Dominion.
