

Home Staging SELLS!

Below are some before and after examples of listings that had expired after a year on the market with other realtors. The home owners relisted with me and the homes SOLD within days of being on the market!

It is amazing what high quality photography, better lighting, some neutral paint on the walls and removing clutter from the photo can do!

Look at the difference!

Virtual Staging is another great way to bring life to an empty space, and allows potential buyers to see what an otherwise empty room has to offer!
