

Life Changing Prayer-Week Two Outline

- Introduction
  - Welcome
  - Reminder about teenagers leaving for summer camp
  - Series on Life Changing Prayer

- Three Life Changing Prayers
  - Not easy, safe, or routine prayers
  - Today's focus: "God Break Me"

- Two Biblical Stories (Mark 14)
  1. The Prostitute's Story
    - Background and context
    - Jesus at Simon the Leper's house
    - Woman's act of worship with expensive perfume
    - Significance of breaking the vial and pouring perfume

  2. The Last Supper
    - Jesus breaking bread and pouring wine
    - Symbolism of His body broken and blood poured out

- Lessons from the Stories
  - Call to live and love like Jesus
  - Importance of being broken and poured out
  - God leads us to breaking point, but we choose the final step

- The Prayer: "God Break Me"
- Not mandatory for following Jesus
- Necessary for fully walking with Jesus
- Applicable to all believers, not just spiritual leaders

- The Gospel as an Invitation
- Dying to self
- Becoming fully devoted followers of Christ

- Invitation and Prayer
- Encouragement to pray for brokenness
- Prayer team available

- Closing Prayer for Teenagers and Leaders
- Introduction
- Welcome
- Reminder about teenagers leaving for summer camp
- Series on Life Changing Prayer

- Three Life Changing Prayers
- Not easy, safe, or routine prayers
- Today's focus: "God Break Me"

- Two Biblical Stories (Mark 14)

1. The Prostitute's Story

- Background and context
- Jesus at Simon the Leper's house
- Woman's act of worship with expensive perfume
- Significance of breaking the vial and pouring perfume

2. The Last Supper

- Jesus breaking bread and pouring wine
  - Symbolism of His body broken and blood poured out
-
- Lessons from the Stories
  - Call to live and love like Jesus
  - Importance of being broken and poured out
  - God leads us to breaking point, but we choose the final step
-
- The Prayer: "God Break Me"
  - Not mandatory for following Jesus
  - Necessary for fully walking with Jesus
  - Applicable to all believers, not just spiritual leaders
-
- The Gospel as an Invitation
  - Dying to self
  - Becoming fully devoted followers of Christ
-
- Invitation and Prayer
  - Encouragement to pray for brokenness
  - Prayer team available

- Closing Prayer for Teenagers and Leaders