

Jesses Photography — Preserving “Your Life Story” on a Whole New Level

At Jesses Photography, we believe everyone has a story worth telling. Our mission is to capture you—your memories, experiences, and personality—through video, so that future generations can truly understand where they come from.

The Process

To help us tell your story authentically, we start with a brief questionnaire. This allows us to get to know you better and craft meaningful interview questions that cover important moments and experiences from your life.

The Interview

Your personal video interview typically lasts up to two hours. During our conversation, we’ll explore your life’s journey—its milestones, lessons, and cherished stories. If needed, we can schedule an additional visit to ensure we capture everything that matters to you.

The Final Product

After filming, we carefully edit your interview to include any photos you’ve provided, creating a seamless and heartfelt visual narrative. Your finished video will be shared via a private YouTube link, accessible only to those you choose.

At Jesses Photography, we don’t just record memories—we preserve your legacy, so it can be passed down for generations.

Things to think about:

- Questionnaire, ensure its filled out as best you can with as much information as you can.
- Photos, if you have any photos of the person being mentioned at any age, and any photos that would coincide with what may be spoken about during the interview. A copy can be emailed to jessesphotography@hotmail.com or I can take footage of it on the day of the interview.
- On the interview day, unless there is a medical reason for others to be present, we prefer it to be just the interviewer and interviewee. To ensure we stay focused and no extra sounds can be heard throughout the video.
- To ensure all parties that would like to view the final video please be sure to add them to the list on the last page of the questionnaire as it will be shared privately so no one can view it unless they have permission.
