SECTION A READING SKILLS

(22 marks)

1. Read the following passages.

12

Ours was the marsh country, down by the river, within twenty miles of the sea. My first most vivid and broad impression of the identity of things seems to me to have been gained on a memorable raw afternoon towards evening. The low leaden line beyond was the river; and that the distant savage lair from which the wind was rushing was the sea; and that the small bundle of shivers growing afraid of it all and beginning to cry, was Pip.

“Hold your noise!” cried a terrible voice, as a man started up from among the graves at the side of the bushes. “Keep still, or I’ll make you pay!”

A fearful man, all in coarse grey, with a great iron on his leg. A man with no hat, and with broken shoes, and with an old rag tied round his head. A man who had been soaked in water, and smothered in mud, limped, and shivered, and glared, and growled; and whose teeth chattered in his head as he seized me.

“Tell us your name!” said the man. “Quick! Give it mouth!”

“Pip. Pip, sir.”

“Show us where you live,” said the man. “Point out the place!”

The man, after looking at me for a moment, emptied my pockets. There was nothing in them but a piece of bread which he ate ravenously.

"Now lookee here!" said the man. "Where's your mother?"

"There, sir!" said I.

He started, made a short run, and stopped and looked over his shoulder.

"Oh!" said he, coming back. "Who's that?" he asked, pointing.

"My sister, sir, —Mrs. Joe Gargery, —wife of Joe Gargery, the blacksmith, sir."

"Blacksmith, eh?" said he. And looked down at his leg.

After darkly looking at his leg, he came close to me, took me by both arms, and tilted me back as far as he could hold me; so that his eyes looked most powerfully down into mine, and mine looked most helplessly up into his.

"Now lookee here," he said, "You know what a file and wittles is?"

"Yes, sir."

After each question he tilted me over a little more, so as to give me a greater sense of helplessness and danger.

"You get me a file." He tilted me again. "And wittles." He tilted me again. "You bring 'em both to me."

I was dreadfully frightened, and so giddy that I clung to him with both hands, and said, "If you would kindly please to let me keep upright, sir, perhaps I shouldn't be sick, and perhaps I could attend more."

He did. Then, he held me by the arms, in an upright position, and went on with his terms.

| IV | What type of statement is made in the phrase "Keep still, or I'll make you pay!"?
A. caution
B. threat
C. prediction
D. announcement | 1 |

- V Based on his initial appearance, how can we say that the 'fearful man' was in a state of discomfort? (Any one reason) 1
- VI. Which one of the following statements best explains the phrase "Give it mouth!"? 1
 A) Speak loudly B) Open your mouth wide C) Answer the question
- VII. The man ate the bread 'ravenously'. What does this suggest about his condition? 1
- VIII What does the man's question, "Where's your mother?" and his reaction when Pip points to her suggest about his intentions? (Answer in about 40 words) 2
- IX How does the man's action of forcing Pip to look up at him contribute to the tension in the scene? (Answer in about 40 words) 2
- X Complete the following with the most suitable option. 1
 The main idea of the text is _____.
 A. Pip's encounter with a frightening man who demands information
 B. the harshness of Pip's environment and the fear it creates
 C. Pip's struggle to understand the man's intentions and stay calm
 D. the importance of family relationships in Pip's life

2. Read the following carefully. 10

- 1 A recent survey was conducted among 2,000 college students and young professionals to analyse preferences for different types of jobs, including corporate roles, personal start-ups or family businesses, and service professions (example - defense, nursing, police). The study aimed to identify trends in career aspirations, the factors influencing these preferences, and their implications for workforce planning and education systems. Participants were asked to rank their preferences on a five-point scale.
- 2 The study covered respondents across urban and semi-urban areas, representing diverse educational, economic, and cultural backgrounds. Researchers ensured diversity in gender, socioeconomic status, and career stages to make the findings representative of a broad spectrum of opinions. Data collection involved online questionnaires and in-person interviews, ensuring a comprehensive understanding of job preferences. The data was displayed as a bar graph given below.

- 3 Corporate jobs were commonly associated with financial stability, growth opportunities, and access to structured career paths. Start-ups and family businesses, on the other hand, appealed to those valuing autonomy, creativity, and the chance to work in more flexible environments. Service professions were perceived as fulfilling and prestigious, especially among individuals motivated by a sense of duty.
- 4 The survey also highlighted several challenges. Geographic variations were significant, with urban respondents gravitating more toward corporate roles, while semi-urban participants showed a stronger inclination for service professions and family businesses. Respondents indicated limited mentorship opportunities and a lack of clarity about the long-term prospects of non-corporate careers as barriers influencing their decisions.
- 5 The findings provide a foundation for further research into how cultural, regional, and generational influences shape career choices. Future studies could explore factors such as gender-based preferences, emerging industries, mentorship availability, and the role of technological advancements in shaping job markets. Additionally, longitudinal research could track how these preferences evolve as respondents advance in their careers. This could help educational institutions and employers develop tailored strategies to better align with the aspirations and values of young job seekers. Moreover, policies encouraging skill development and mentorship programmes may bridge the gaps identified in this survey, ensuring more informed career decisions among youth.

7. Read the following extracts and solve ANY ONE of the given two, (A) or (B). 1x6=6

A ... I saw my mother, beside me,
doze, open mouthed, her face ashen like that of a corpse and realised with pain that she was as old as she looked but soon put that thought away, and looked out at Young Trees sprinting, the merry children spilling out of their homes...

(My Mother at Sixty-six)

- I. What does the imagery of the 'ashen face' of the mother suggest about her physical condition? 1
- II. Complete the following with the correct option. 1

 - The poet makes exclusive use of melancholic imagery in the given lines.
 - The speaker's internal conflict creates a relatable portrayal of human relationships.
 - The universality of themes makes the lines relevant to the readers.

OR

- B When Aunt is dead, her terrified hands will lie
Still ringed with ordeals she was mastered by.
The tigers in the panel that she made
Will go on prancing, proud and unafraid (Aunt Jennifer's Tigers)
- I What does the phrase 'terrified hands' suggest about Aunt's life? 1
- II Complete the following suitably. 1
- The tigers' proud and playful movements reflect _____.
- III Examine briefly how the tigers in the panel contrast with Aunt's life experiences. 1
- IV. Fill in the blank with the correct option from those given in the brackets. 1
- The phrase 'still ringed' refers to both the literal _____ (shape of the embroidery panel / wedding band on her finger) and the figurative 'ring' of constraints and ordeals imposed by her marriage.

- V. If a student were to interpret the word 'prancing' in a real-world context, which of the following would it best represent? 1
- a) An employee working under the pressure of deadlines.
 - b) A soldier standing firm and ready for battle at the frontier.
 - c) A child playing freely in a park, unburdened by responsibilities.
 - d) A bird trapped in a cage, longing to be free and fly high.

- VI. What does the poet imply about the art in the line 'The tigers in the panel that she made will go on prancing'? 1
- a) Art is a timeless expression that outlives its creator, continuing to embody their spirit and desires.
 - b) The tigers symbolise Aunt Jennifer's fleeting empowerment, which will fade over time.
 - c) The panel is a temporary escape for Aunt Jennifer, offering solace only during her lifetime.
 - d) The permanence of the tigers in the panel contrasts with the transient nature of Aunt Jennifer's struggles.

8. Read the following extracts and solve ANY ONE of the given two, (A) or (B). 4x1=4

- A. My three hundred dollars bought less than two hundred in old-style bills, but I didn't care; eggs were thirteen cents a dozen in 1894.
But I've never again found the corridor that leads to the third level at Grand Central Station, although I've tried often enough. Louisa was pretty worried when I told her all this, and didn't want me to look for the third level any more, and after a while I stopped; I went back to my stamps. But now we're both looking, every weekend...

(The Third Level)

- I. What does Charley's indifference to the cost of old-style bills and his focus on the price of eggs in 1894 suggest about his view of the past? 1
- II. Complete the sentence suitably. 1
Charley has been unsuccessful in finding the corridor to the third level despite ____.
- III. Where is the irony in Louisa's reaction to Charley's search for the third level in this extract? 1

 - c) attempting to engage together in a new hobby
 - d) approaching a familiar hobby with enthusiasm

OR

B. 'Mr. Lamb laughed. 'What do you see?'

'Nothing,' said Derry.

'That's it. Nothing. You see nothing and that's what you see. A face that's ugly, a face that makes people turn away. That's what you see. You don't see me. You see the face, and that's all.'

Derry stood silent for a moment, looking at the ground. Then he looked up.

'What about you?' he said. 'You don't look like anyone, really.'

Mr. Lamb smiled. 'It's the same thing. We see only what we want to see.'

(On the Face of It)

- I. What is the main message given by Mr. Lamb in this conversation? 1
- II. What might Derry be thinking as he looks at the ground? Select the most appropriate option. 1
- a) "Why does Mr. Lamb keep saying things like this?"
- b) "I don't believe him. No one really sees me for who I am."
- c) "Maybe Mr. Lamb is right. Do I only see my face?"
- d) "I don't know how to respond to what Mr. Lamb just said."

- III. Fill in the blank with a suitable word based on the context of the extract. 1

By questioning Mr. Lamb, Derry sought _____ for his own thoughts and feelings.

- IV. How would the impact of Mr. Lamb's final words have changed if he had not smiled? 1

9. Read the following extracts and solve ANY ONE of the given two, (A) or (B). 1x6=6

A. She said this in such a friendly manner that the rattrap peddler must have felt confidence in her.

'It would never have occurred to me that you would bother with me yourself, miss,' he said. 'I will come at once.'

He accepted the fur coat, which the valet handed him with a deep bow, threw it over his rags, and followed the young lady out to the carriage, without granting the astonished blacksmiths so much as a glance.

But while he was riding up to the manor house he had evil forebodings.

"Why the devil did I take that fellow's money?" he thought. "Now I am sitting in the trap and will never get out of it."

(The Rattrap)

The peddler threw the fur coat over his rags and followed Edla out to the carriage, _____ (enthusiastically / silently / reluctantly).

- III. How did the peddler feel toward Edla after accepting the fur coat and making his statement? 1

- A. He decided to humour her gesture.
- B. He felt obligated to trust her kindness.
- C. He remained unsure about her true intentions.
- D. He recognised and appreciated her compassion.

- IV. What might have been the most likely reason the blacksmiths were astonished when the peddler accepted the coat and left with Edla? 1

- V. Justify that guilt was the primary cause of the peddler's sense of evil foreboding, based on the information in the extract? 1

- VI. Complete the following suitably. 1

When the peddler says, "...I will never get out," his statement stems from his guilt over stealing 'that fellow's' money and his fear that _____ .

OR

- B. "She thinks money grows on trees, don't she, Dad?", said little Derek, hanging on the back of his father's chair.

Their mother sighed. Sophie watched her back stooped over the sink and wondered at the incongruity of the delicate bow which fastened her apron strings. The delicate-seeming bow and the crooked back.

The evening had already blacked in the windows and the small room was steamy from the stove and cluttered with the heavy-breathing man in his vest at the table and the dirty washing piled up in the corner. Sophie felt a tightening in her throat. She went to look for her brother Geoff.

(Going Places)

- I. Fill in the blank by choosing the correct option from those given in the brackets. 1
- The literal meaning conveyed via the phrase 'the evening had already blacked in the windows' is the _____ (arrival of night / shadow over ambitions).
- II. What was mother most likely thinking when she sighed? 1

General Instructions: -

1. The Marking Scheme carries only suggested value points for the answers. These are in the nature of Guidelines only and do not constitute the complete answer. The students can have their own expression and if the expression is correct, then due marks should be awarded accordingly.
2. If a student has attempted an extra question, answer of the question deserving more marks should be retained and the other answer scored out with a note "Extra Question".
3. If more than one option is mentioned in the answer of multiple choice questions, then no marks to be awarded.

SECTION A: READING SKILLS (22 marks)
1. Answer the following questions, based on the passage above. (Literary Passage)		12
I	'...the small bundle of shivers growing afraid of it all...'	1
II	...that the sea is a wild, untamed, and menacing force / contribute to the ominous atmosphere of the scene / amplifying the sense of danger that Pip feels	1
III	D) Pip's knowledge of the surrounding area [a) speaks of a scene in a place that feels cold, oppressive, and dangerous, which heightens Pip's sense of fear and helplessness. b) creates a feeling of menace due to the man's appearance, reinforcing Pip's fear and powerlessness in the situation. c) shows his terror and helplessness. d) is the Key because it refers to qualities that would imply Pip is capable and confident, which contradicts the idea of vulnerability.]	1
IV	B) threat [caution would be advice; prediction would involve stating what will happen in the future and an announcement would be a formal declaration. The Key is b) 'threat' as it directly communicates a potential consequence of harm or punishment.]	1
V	(Any one) ▪ Being soaked in water and smothered in mud, which are physical conditions that typically cause discomfort) ▪ Limping, which indicates possible injury or physical strain, contributing to discomfort. ▪ Shivering and teeth chattering, which suggests cold or nervousness, both of which are associated with discomfort.	1
VI	C) Answer the question [The phrase is not specifically asking for increased volume or referring to a physical action like opening the mouth. The phrase is urging Pip to give a verbal response.]	1

VII	It suggests that the man was extremely hungry.	1
VIII	It suggests that he is trying to gather information about Pip's family. When he asks about Pip's mother and looks over his shoulder, it shows he is possibly evaluating his surroundings or considering where Pip's family might be, perhaps to assess if anyone is around to stop him and contemplating the best way to proceed without interference.	2
IX	It increases the tension by emphasising the power dynamic between them. Pip is physically tilted backward, which makes him feel small and defenseless. This action not only makes Pip vulnerable but also intensifies the fear he feels. The man's control over Pip's position enhances the sense of intimidation, creating a more fearful and uneasy atmosphere in the scene.	2
X	A) Pip's encounter with a frightening man who demands information [a) directly addresses the core of the scene, where the man's aggressive behavior and questioning of Pip create tension and fear. b), though relevant to the setting, is more of a background detail than the main focus. c) could have been possible, but it is more of an internal reaction of Pip rather than the central idea of the extract. d), doesn't capture the primary conflict of the scene and the family context is just briefly mentioned.]	1
2.	Answer the following questions, based on given passage.	10
I	B) To explore patterns in career aspirations and the factors influencing them	1
II	Representative	1
III	Start-ups/Family Business	1
For the Visually Impaired Candidates
	...capturing diverse perspectives from individuals of varying genders, socio-economic statuses, educational backgrounds, and career stages.	1
IV	C) Service professions have a higher percentage of respondents marking them as 'Highly Preferred' compared to corporate jobs.	1
For the Visually Impaired Candidates
	A) They allow individuals to independently make decisions and innovate.	1
V	A corporate job is better suited for Riya because it provides financial stability through a steady salary and offers structured career paths with clear opportunities for growth. Start-ups, on the other hand, often involve higher risks, irregular income, and less defined progression, which may not align with her preference for stability and predictability. (Response requires reason for corporate job -1 m + reason why start-up / family business is unsuitable- 1 m)	2
VI	D) Difficulty in finding experienced professionals to guide career paths	1
VII	Further studies on emerging industries would provide insights into new and evolving career opportunities, helping youth align their aspirations with market demands. Research on technological advancements could highlight tools like virtual training platforms, AI-driven career guidance, and remote work technologies, making career resources more accessible. (Response requires explanation for emerging industries -1 m + technological advancements - 1 m)	2

VIII	b) The impact of gender on career preferences	1

SECTION C-LITERATURE (40 marks)

7	Read the following extracts and solve ANY ONE of the given two, (A) or (B)	6
A
I	(Any two) she is frail, aged, in a declining physical condition, vulnerable, weakening health, lacks vitality	1
II	sudden	1

III	It introduces a contrast of vitality, joy and exuberance against the sombre and reflective mood created by the imagery of the mother's frailty.	1
IV	(Any one) certainty of mortality / inevitability of death / transient nature of life	1
V	C) Overwhelmed by a sense of anguish	1
VI	B) The poet makes exclusive use of melancholic imagery in the given lines. [a) True: The 'ashen face' compared to a 'corpse' suggests the speaker's fear of mortality and loss. b) False: While melancholic imagery ('ashen face' etc.) is present, the poet also uses vibrant imagery ('young trees sprinting' and 'merry children spilling') to create a contrast. Thus, melancholic imagery is not used exclusively. c) True: The internal conflict of hiding her sadness resonates deeply with human relationships. d) True: Universal themes such as aging, mortality, and the passage of time make the extract relatable to readers.]	1
I	The phrase suggests that Aunt's life has been filled with struggles shaped by fear, anxiety, and oppression / The phrase signifies her emotional and psychological state, shaped by years of fear and oppression	1
II	...the enduring power of Aunt Jennifer's creative spirit, even after her death	1
III	The tigers in the panel are bold, fearless, and free, symbolising strength, courage, and confidence. In contrast, Aunt's life is marked by fear, struggle, and oppression, which prevents her from living with the same power and freedom that her tigers represent.	1
IV	wedding band on her finger	1
V	C) A child playing freely in a park, unburdened by responsibilities.	1
VI	B) Art is a timeless expression that outlives its creator, continuing to embody their spirit and desires. [a) is correct because the poet prevails upon the enduring nature of art in this line, as the tigers, symbolising fearlessness and freedom, will persist even after Aunt Jennifer's death. This highlights how art immortalises the creator's emotions, aspirations, and essence, transcending the limitations and constraints of their mortal life. Option b) - d) incorrectly focus on the transience of art or misinterpret the tigers' symbolism.]	1
8.	Read the following extracts and solve ANY ONE of the given two, (A) or (B)	4
A.
I	Charley's indifference to the cost of old-style bills and his focus on the cheap price of eggs in 1894 shows that he values the simplicity and affordability of the past, where things were less expensive and more relaxed.	1
II	frequent efforts at locating it	1

III	The irony lies in the fact that Louisa initially worries and urges Charley to stop searching for the third level, but later, both of them end up looking for it together every weekend. [Her initial worry about Charley's obsession with the third level contrasts with her eventual participation in the same quest, which creates an ironic shift in her behaviour]	1
IV	a) finding comfort in a hobby that is familiar	1
I	People only notice appearances and not the person behind them – Mr. Lamb emphasises that most people judge others based on superficial appearances, such as Derry's disfigurement, rather than seeing the real person and their qualities.	1
II	C) "Maybe Mr. Lamb is right. Do I only see my face?" [Derry's silence and hesitation suggest he might be reflecting on Mr. Lamb's words – particularly his challenging and philosophical statements, questioning whether he has been overly focused on his disfigurement instead of seeing the deeper aspects of himself and others.]	1
III	clarification / understanding / validation	1
IV	If Mr. Lamb hadn't smiled, his final words might have felt more stern or confrontational, losing the warmth and optimism that reassure Derry. [The smile conveys empathy, softens his philosophy, and strengthens their connection, making the words more comforting and inspiring for Derry to reflect upon]	1
9.	Read the following extracts and solve ANY ONE of the given two, (A) or (B)	6
A
I	B) 2 and 4 [b) is correct because Edla's entire demeanor toward the rattrap peddler is built on kindness (2) and she does not look down on him despite his being a vagabond, treating him with respect (4). Her tone is formal not casual / excited (5), doesn't offer money (3) and there is no evidence of any compliment paid (1) hence a), c) and d) are incorrect.]	1
II	silently	1
III	D) He recognised and appreciated her compassion. [The closest option is b). While b) suggests reluctant trust driven by obligation, d) reflects voluntary appreciation and a positive emotional response and hence is correct. a) and c) are clearly incorrect.]	1
IV	Because the peddler, a poor vagabond in rags, was treated with respect and generosity by Edla, which was an unusual gesture of kindness for someone of his status.	1
V	Because his thoughts explicitly reveal regret and anxiety about stealing the 'fellow's' money / show that his guilt over the theft is weighing heavily on him This self-	1 awareness and fear of being caught clearly stem from his guilt, making it the primary driver of his forebodings.

VI	...Edla's kindness and the situation at the manor house might lead to his exposure as a thief	1
I	arrival of the night	1
II	A) 1, 3 and 5 [Option a) is correct because (1) aligns with the tone of resignation and wistfulness in the mother's sigh. (3) is a direct reflection of their financial hardships. The mother's sigh likely conveys her acceptance of the reality that money has always been scarce for their family. (5) mother's awareness of the impracticality of Sophie's grand dreams given their circumstances. (2) doesn't fit as the context does not indicate the mother perceives Derek's remark as 'troubling Sophie.' (4) suggests irritation or fatigue but mother's sigh in this context appears more reflective of their financial struggles and her resignation]	1
III	A) appearance vs. reality [The delicate bow on Sophie's mother's apron symbolises grace and beauty, whereas her crooked back represents the harsh realities of her life, such as physical toil and hardship.]	1
IV	Sophie felt a tightening in her throat.	1
V	The writer emphasises the oppressive and suffocating environment of Sophie's household. The heavy breathing of her father is not just a physical sound but a metaphorical representation of the overwhelming weight of fatigue, labour, and monotony that dominates their lives. [The word 'cluttered' conveys a sense of overcrowding and disorder, suggesting that even intangible elements like exhaustion and hardship fill and overwhelm the small, confined space of their home.]	1
VI	The setting of the room, which is cluttered and steamy from the stove, creates a sense of discomfort and hardship. This contributes to the mood of weariness and tension in the family's daily life, which Sophie is acutely aware of.	1
10.	Answer ANY FIVE of the following six questions in 40 50 words each: 1 -Content 1- Expression ½ -1 deducted from overall, for Accuracy	5 x 2 = 10
I	The narrator's feelings towards the French language shift from indifference to deep appreciation and respect when it is no longer allowed to be taught. Also, French, in the story, symbolises the loss of freedom and the imposition of foreign control over the region. Therefore, the narrator's sense of loss and regret reflects the emotional impact of this change.	2

II	Individuals can learn that fear can be overcome through perseverance, determination, and gradual exposure to the source of fear. Douglas's experience teaches that facing challenges step by step, with proper guidance and practice, allows one to conquer even the most deep-seated fears, leading to personal growth and freedom.	2
III	Keats portrays beauty as something that 'will never pass into nothingness,' implying that, unlike fleeting material comforts, beauty offers lasting emotional and psychological support. In the real world, during times of hardship, turning to the enduring beauty of nature, art, or meaningful experiences can provide a sense of peace and restoration OR Just as Keats speaks of beauty creating a 'bower quiet' and offering 'sweet dreams,' recognising beauty in our surroundings or lives can act as a refuge from stress, offering perspective and a sense of tranquility. This connection with beauty can help shift focus from negativity and provide hope, strength, and a reminder that there is always something uplifting to turn to, even in the toughest times.	2
IV	The reference signifies a pause in exploitative and destructive human activities. It reflects the poet's call for introspection and awareness of the harm humans cause to nature and themselves. By pausing, the fishermen and the salt gatherer are shown as reconnecting with their humanity and reflecting on their actions.	2
V	Kipling's refusal highlights the invasion of privacy that often accompanies public life. The refusal shows that the value of an individual's work or thoughts should not be reduced to a commercial or public spectacle. Kipling's stance emphasises the discomfort and control that is often stripped away during the process of an interview.	2
VI	The narrator in Lost Spring adds depth and empathy, offering critical insights into Saheb and Mukesh's struggles within systemic poverty. Unlike a plain narrative, the narrator reflects on social inequalities and privileges, making readers more emotionally engaged. Her observations contextualise the boys' lives within broader social issues, urging reflection and creating a more impactful critique of injustice.	2
11.	Answer ANY TWO of the following three questions in 40 50 words each. 1 -Content 1- Expression ½ -1 deducted from overall, for Accuracy	2 x 2 =4
I	Programmes like 'Students on Ice' provide hands-on experiences, allowing students to witness environmental changes firsthand. This immersive learning fosters a deeper understanding of geological shifts and the importance of addressing climate change, encouraging informed action and advocacy for the planet's future. It also inspires a sense of responsibility in young people to actively contribute to sustainability and environmental conservation.	2
II	The comparison to a puppet suggests that she is being manipulated by external forces, unable to act according to her own will. This metaphor points towards her feelings of being dehumanised and treated like an object rather than a person with free will. It also reflects the broader theme of cultural displacement, as she is forced into an environment where her Native American identity is undermined, and she must comply with the rigid rules of the boarding school.	2

III	This remark reflects Derry's frustration with the way people console others by comparing struggles. He feels such comparisons dismiss his pain, highlighting his sensitivity and resentment toward invalidating his personal experiences. It shows his desire to be understood for his individual challenges rather than being generalised or pitied.	2
12.	Answer ANY ONE of the following two questions, in about 120-150 words. Content 2 Expression 2 Accuracy 1
A. While 'Indigo' delves into the economic and systemic oppression of sharecroppers by British landlords, 'The Roadside Stand' highlights the plight of rural people exploited by urban elites and a neglectful system. Both works emphasise the imbalance of power and the struggles of those at the bottom of the societal hierarchy. In 'Indigo', the exploitation of Champaran's peasants is evident in the oppressive sharecropping system, where British landlords forced them to grow indigo on a portion of their land and unfairly profited from it. Similarly, 'The Roadside Stand' portrays a countryside inhabitant selling their goods by the roadside, hoping for a fair chance at economic survival. Their disappointment reflects the false promises of development, as urban buyers and authorities fail to address their needs, leaving them trapped in poverty. Both texts reveal a shared truth—exploitation persists when power dynamics remain unchecked, and progress often bypasses those who need it most. While Gandhi's efforts in 'Indigo' offer a path of hope through resistance, Frost's poem serves as a poignant reminder of the ongoing neglect faced by rural communities. Together, they highlight the importance of empathy, equity, and advocacy in combating exploitation.
B. In both 'Poets and Pancakes' and 'Going Places', the characters of the office boy and Sophie share common traits of ambition and dreams that surpass their immediate realities. The office boy, like Sophie, dreams of achieving something greater—he aspires to be a star actor, director, or writer, but is stuck in a subordinate role in the make-up department. Similarly, Sophie dreams of running a boutique or becoming an actress, yet is constrained by financial limitations and family's expectations. Both characters, despite their seemingly humble positions, hold onto lofty dreams that offer them an escape from their current circumstances. However, while Sophie is often dismissive of the practicality of her ambitions, focusing instead on grand ideals, the office boy seems more realistic in his understanding of the obstacles he faces, despite his unfulfilled aspirations. Both characters represent dreams and ambitions constrained by their environments. While their pursuits are met with limitations, they reflect the universal desire to transcend one's current situation and achieve something greater.
13.	Answer any one of the following two questions, in about 120-150 words. Content 2 Expression 2 Accuracy 1	1 x 5 =5

Sadao's character arc in 'The Enemy' is central to the moral dilemma of the story. Initially, Sadao is deeply loyal to his country and driven by a sense of patriotism, yet he is a doctor sworn to preserve life. When the American prisoner washes ashore, Sadao's internal conflict emerges—should he help an enemy soldier, risking his own safety, or adhere to his nationalistic duty. As the story progresses, Sadao's arc moves from hesitation and reluctant duty to genuine compassion for the soldier. He goes beyond his initial patriotic impulses, deciding to save the life of the wounded man, showing his internal growth and moral courage. His arc symbolises the triumph of humanity over nationalism, as he eventually values the life of an individual over political allegiances.

In contrast, Hana's transformation is subtler. While she starts with fear and repulsion, her compassion grows, but she does not undergo the same profound transformation as Sadao. Her evolution is more passive, as she supports her husband's decision rather than leading it. Thus, Sadao's arc is more central to the story's moral conflict.

B.

The satirical tone is central to the narrative, as Kalki uses humour and irony to critique the Maharaja's blind obsession with fulfilling a prophecy. Through exaggerated events, such as the Maharaja's declaration to kill 100 tigers or the astrologer's dramatic predictions, the narrative highlights the absurdity of human arrogance and misplaced priorities.

The detached third-person omniscient narrator adds to this effect, providing sardonic commentary on the Maharaja's actions, which invites readers to critically evaluate his decisions rather than empathise with him.

The use of foreshadowing and dramatic irony keeps the reader engaged. The prophecy of the 100th tiger causing the Maharaja's death looms over the narrative, creating anticipation and humour as the Maharaja ironically believes he can outwit fate.

The ultimate twist, where a wooden tiger indirectly causes his death, adds a layer of poignant irony. Additionally, Kalki critiques human folly and power through the dialogues, hyperbole, and absurdities of the plot, leaving readers entertained yet reflective.
