Q17 Any other ideas or comments?

Answered: 12 Skipped: 61

#	RESPONSES	DATE
1	The weekly meetings could be a little more structured for new people. It seems those that have been going for a long time all sit on the same tables every week which could make it uncomfortable for new people to fit in, especially if they are already feeling vulnerable or suffer with low esteem which as I understand it, is the main purpose of the club to combat these issues. Maybe if a crew member was to sit on each table at the start and other crew members look out for new people and direct them to a table!	9/5/2024 6:02 AM
2	Subject to my health status improving , I am willing to organise a fund raising event in 2025	8/29/2024 10:35 PM
3	Given the growth of the club and its founding principles, might we consider a franchising scheme or similar for other clubs to start up around the country based on those same principles and under the umbrella of HMVC? Also, might we consider a club pitch at the Silverstone Festival next year? Keep up the good work, this is a great club full of very special people!	8/28/2024 7:36 PM
4	Could the "clubhouse" be a room hired at an existing venue, ie rugby/cricket club	8/25/2024 12:23 PM
5	Discounted access to a reliable classic repairer	8/24/2024 12:26 PM
6	Current mix of informal coffee chats and bradmore saturday meet works for me. Need to ensure walled garden doesnt too cliquey- siggest everyone talks to someone about their car that they dont normally or normally sit with. It can be that everyone bundles onto a table with their normal mates. Not a big isdie but a casual observation.	8/24/2024 10:51 AM
7	New member, so little experience to draw on to answer the questions.	8/23/2024 10:19 PM
8	I joined the club about a month ago but have sadly not been to any event yet or met anyone. It was bad timing as I started a business just after. I'm very keen to be at events and take a more active part in the club. Probably be a bit nervous first meeting though	8/23/2024 6:36 PM
9	— — —	8/20/2024 8:50 PM
10	A published list of all events on a website would be good. The download to your calendar function did not work for me.	8/20/2024 7:25 PM
11	more women in these events they may have mental health issues too, good to meet other ladies to chat etc	8/20/2024 5:17 PM
12	Just continue to make sure all attendees are welcomed and spoken too. I know people can arrive in cars which might look or sound fab but that doesn't mean the driver has confidence when they step out of the box - for whatever reason. Maybe a designated spot at each event (be it a flag or banner) where each person is able to walk across to and have a chat or be welcomed by a steward or member (s) who are "good" with people and could perhaps assuage any anxiety. Often my experience with car meets is that owners can be engaged by someone about their car, this then can make the field or show look quite clicky when actually the opposite is true. As an owner, I've often been quite engrossed in someone asking me about my car and have reluctantly been unable to acknowledge someone that's looking at my car on their own. I'm trying to make sure I always smile and say hello to lone people as they may have made the step to attend but not have the confidence to speak. Perhaps we should encourage this as an ethos. Cheers.	8/20/2024 5:10 PM
