Do you have clients who are currently using drugs and alcohol? Well you're not alone. Studies have found that 80% or more people who use substances problematically don't want to stop - at least not immediately. Learn strategies to engage and treat this population. You can make a difference in helping these clients improve their quality of life, even if they decide to continue using drugs. Learn about drugs and their effects, current trends, diagnosis of substance-related problems, engagement strategies, harm reduction, motivational interviewing, and individual, group, and family treatment strategies.
