

Title IV-E Collaborative Presents

Trauma and Parenting

Gabriella Grant, MA

Gabriella Grant is the director of the California Center of Excellence for Trauma Informed Care, overseeing the Center's research, program and professional development as well as policy analysis activities. Her background includes heading the nation's first community corrections-based victim advocacy program and running a three-year project funded by the California Department of Public Health to increase access to domestic violence shelters by women with mental health and/or substance abuse issues. The domestic violence shelter project showed that it is possible to increase capacity to serve women with co-occurring disorders by understanding trauma and developing programs that respond to people's need for safety. Gabriella brings to the Center a long history of professional experience developing innovative programs for female offenders, crime victims, and domestic violence survivors. Through this work she has also gained an understanding of how program design, policies and procedures can positively affect the people being served. She earned her undergraduate degree from Amherst College, a Latin teaching certificate from the Pontifical Gregorian University in Rome, Italy and a Masters in Public Policy from Johns Hopkins University. She has taught at the primary, secondary and university levels and has trained professionals, advocates and consumers in a wide variety of settings.

This course looks at how trauma affects parenting with an emphasis on caregiver's own trauma and how to parent post-trauma. Safety becomes the main focus for parenting, allowing for safe attachments, attention to developmental stages and safety as well as developing safety-based intervention for parents who have their children, want their children back or who have lost their children.

This course qualifies for 6 hours of continuing education. Continuing education (CE) hours are available to maintain the following licenses with the Board of Behavioral Sciences (BBS): Marriage and Family Therapists, Licensed Clinical Social Workers, and Licensed Professional Clinical Counselors. West Valley College is an accredited post-secondary institution and is recognized by the BBS as an approved continuing education provider. The college is accredited by the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges.
