Protecting personal information is a priority for PPL Legal Care Canada Corporation ("PPL Canada") and Pre-Paid Legal Services, Inc. ("PPLSI") (collectively, "PPL", "we", "us", "our"). To enable us to provide you with membership plans, we need to collect certain personal information from you. However, we want to emphasize that we are committed to maintaining the privacy of this information in accordance with applicable law. This Privacy Statement explains what personal information we collect about members in Canada (whether online or offline) and how we treat that information. This Privacy Policy does not apply to PPL employees.

We typically use the personal information collected to process, administer and manage your membership and payments; to determine the appropriate plan services and resources to be offered; to respond to your inquiries; to generally manage our business; and to meet legal, regulatory, processing and security requirements. If you provide your SIN or GST Registration Number, we will use it for member identification purposes. If you do not opt out on the membership application, we will use your e-mail address to send you updates about your membership.

We disclose: certain portions of the information collected in the membership application to the Writing Associate of your membership, so that the Associate may assist you in the application process and ensure your ongoing satisfaction as a member; your ongoing plan status to the Writing Associate, Regional Vice President and Regional Managers so that they may ensure your ongoing satisfaction as a member and monitor the status of members for whom they are responsible; your contact and plan information to your provider law firm, so that it may identify eligible members; your banking, credit card or payroll information to your bank, credit card company or employer, so that they can process your payments; and, information to be disclosed to meet legal, regulatory, processing and security requirements. In addition, if you provide your consent on the membership application, the Writing Associate may disclose the information collected in the membership application to Membership Advantage Services (MAS), a Pre-Paid Legal membership retention department, so that it may contact you regarding your satisfaction with PPL's services.

If you provide the name and dates of birth of your spouse and dependants, you confirm that they consent to our collection, use and disclosure of their personal information (where applicable) as outlined above, for the purposes of extending plan services to them.

From time to time, PPL may also share your personal information with our third party vendors, suppliers and providers responsible for administering or providing the products and services you requested, on our behalf. We contractually require the organizations with whom we share your personal information for these purposes to have policies regarding personal information consistent with our Privacy Policy or to abide by our policies as relevant to the personal information shared with them.

We may also use and disclose your personal information to parties connected with the contemplated or actual financing, insuring, sale, assignment or other disposal of all or part of our business or assets, including for the purposes of determining whether to proceed with such transaction or fulfilling any records or other reporting requirements to such parties. We will require that such parties treat your personal information in accordance with this Privacy Policy and to use and disclose it only for the purposes for which it was collected, including to provide the products, services or information that PPL would otherwise provide to you and generally to carry on the PPL business.

PPL will not collect, use or disclose personal information other than as described herein, or at the time of collection, use or disclosure (as the case may be), or as otherwise required or permitted by law. There are limited instances where PPL may collect, use or disclose your personal information without your consent, for example to collect a debt owed to us or to comply with a court order.
