

A Renewed Spirit

By Emily Lloyd

Scripture:

"Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me."

— Psalm 51:10 (ESV)

There are moments in life when we sense something shifting — not outwardly, but deeply within. It's not always loud or dramatic. Sometimes it's a quiet breath, a deep peace, or a gentle nudge in our soul that says: "Something is new." That's the Holy Spirit at work — reviving what was weary, stirring what had grown still.

God is in the business of renewal. He takes what has been worn down by life and breathes on it again. This is more than emotion; it is spiritual resurrection. His Spirit comes not only to comfort but to rekindle. He fans the flame of your first love. He reminds you that He is not done.

The wind of God's Spirit is moving — can you feel it? This may be your invitation to surrender again, to believe again, to worship not out of routine but out of revelation.

Let this be your prayer today:

"Lord, I welcome Your renewing Spirit. Breathe on me again. Refresh my heart. Restore my joy. Reignite my faith."
