

Are You Interested in Becoming a Committee Member?

If you're interested in local politics and want to help shape the Democratic Party's work in your neighborhood, now may be a great time to consider running for a committee seat in your municipality. Committee members play a crucial role in building the grassroots foundation of the party — and that starts with you.

What Committee Members Do

As a committee member, your responsibilities include:

- Serving as the Democratic voice in your precinct/district — talking to neighbors and listening to community concerns.
- Going door to door to meet voters, canvassing, and engaging in outreach to strengthen voter registration and turnout.
- Helping collect signatures on nomination petitions for Democratic candidates, organizing petition-drives, or assisting with petition efforts.
- Attending committee meetings, participating in planning and coordination for events, and staying informed about election procedures (e.g., vote-by-mail, registration deadlines).
- Helping spread the word about elections, deadlines, and candidates. That might include distributing lawn signs, writing letters or postcards to voters, hosting house-parties or community gatherings, or simply encouraging neighbors to vote.

In short: committee members are the boots-on-the-ground organizers, the link between the party's leadership and everyday voters, and a force for grassroots democracy across Allegheny County.
