

I'm a positive, kind-hearted adventurer who cherishes experiences over material things in life. My friends describe me as kind, dedicated, fun, and a great mom. :) I have a lot of appreciation for the beauty in nature. I especially love outdoor activities, such as kayaking, snorkeling, whitewater rafting, hiking, and long walks on the beach. Boating is a passion of mine, and I belong to a boat club, so I can go out on the water regularly! I am always looking for ways to give back to others through acts of kindness, mentoring, and volunteering. I have two wonderful children who make me incredibly proud; a 30-year-old son and a 26-year-old daughter. I own my home and enjoy the peace and simplicity of beach life and boating adventures. Traveling is another huge passion, especially to places with awe-inspiring natural beauty! Some of my favorite spots have included Hawaii, Colorado, Madeira, and Portugal, with dreams of ticking off more of my bucket list by exploring places like Tahiti and the Amalfi Coast! I have a knack for finding hidden gems anywhere I go, whether it's cool restaurants, interesting activities, or scenic spots off the beaten path. I hope to find a partner that shares my core values of honesty, empathy, kindness, and gratitude and who has a positive energy, a warm smile, and a wonderful sense of humor. I am convinced that smart, funny, loving man is out there waiting to join me on this incredible journey of life. I look forward to meeting you and creating cherished memories together, side by side.
