Resilient Aviation

Resilient Aviation is proud to sponsor this special tour in celebration of the Marine Corps' 250th Birthday — a remarkable milestone honoring 250 years of strength, service, and sacrifice.

Founded by two United States Marines, Michael Proctor and Michael Baker, Resilient Aviation is a Veteran Owned Business built on the values of leadership, resilience, and brotherhood. Mike Proctor, a 20-year Marine Corps veteran, and Mike Baker, who continues to serve in the California Air National Guard, created this company not only to stay connected to their military roots, but also to open doors for fellow service members transitioning into civilian aviation careers as pilots and maintainers.

This tour is more than a celebration — it's a tribute to the Marine Corps legacy and a show of support for those who continue to serve, both in uniform and beyond. Resilient Aviation is deeply committed to giving back, with a portion of all proceeds from this event going to The Wingman Foundation, an organization providing crucial support to the families of Naval Aviators. As we honor 250 years of Marine Corps history, we also look ahead, working together to support those who carry the torch and those who have made the ultimate sacrifice. Here's to Marines past, present, and future — and to building a stronger, more connected aviation community.
