

David White

I am a Sunday school teacher in Covington, Virginia and a retired Electrical Engineer from WestRock. I have always had a passion to teach young people about Jesus, but since my wife's passing, I now have much more time to serve Jesus. Being 70 years old (birthday is 4/5/1956), I don't want to waste any of the time and resources that I have left.

I searched the internet for a pre-packaged set of Pre-Teen Sunday school lessons that would provide them with a solid understanding about God, Jesus and The Holy Spirit and contain short videos. But, I could not find such lessons. So, I select topics for young people to either come to know Jesus or to better live for Jesus and search the internet for related videos, edit the video, add multiple choice questions and other things to make them into interactive lessons.

I am very concerned about the hardships facing our young people, especially the ones that are in the 10 - 12 year old range, which is the age group of my Sunday school class. I don't think the young people without Jesus in their life, will be able to withstand the stresses and anxiety of the life ahead of them. I have developed several lessons (interactive presentations) which includes The Creation, The First Sin (Garden of Eden), Birth of Jesus, The Last Supper, The Holy Spirit, Baptism and many others about how to Live for Jesus and focus on him and not the distractions of this world.

I have prayed a lot that God would open my eyes to opportunities to use what he has given me. That is why I am sharing my Sunday school lesson presentations here on this web site. They are completely editable, so you can add or subtract whatever you want. If you find the presentations useful or have suggestions, please email me at davidwhiteapps@gmail.com and I will put more presentations on the website.
