One Dedicated Team On Your Project From Start to Finish

Brackett Contracting are the ultimate professionals. They walked me through my vision with a step-by-step guide to see it all come together. They were respectful of my timeline and my budget. The workmanship and attention to detail are of the utmost quality, as is evident when anyone walks into my new kitchen and raves over the transformation. I would recommend them over and over again.

About Us

Our proven project management system delivers crystal-clear planning, realistic timelines, and absolute budget security—ensuring every project hits the mark. As a family-run business, we take pride in our hands-on, daily oversight that has earned glowing praise from architects and designers alike.

A successful project requires a true understanding of the project design, timeline schedule, materials of choice, and a transparent budget. This can only be achieved if everyone is aligned with how we achieve each step in the planning process, and this always starts with high-value interior design.

Our Proven Process

As a family-run business, we take pride in our hands-on, daily oversight that has earned glowing praise from architects and designers alike. Whether we're leveraging ICF construction for expansive multi-unit projects or meticulously managing single-family homes, we pour our focus into one project at a time, ensuring every detail shines.

Right from the start, we dive into a comprehensive feasibility study, setting clear high/low budget expectations based on solid data. While not every project requires a designer, we champion their involvement to elevate your vision.

Once the details are in place, we decide whether to engage a designer or move forward with a detailed quote. This dynamic process unites all stakeholders—from clients and project teams to subcontractors and material suppliers—creating a clear roadmap, realistic timelines, and a well-defined budget that pave the way for success.

Book your discovery meeting today and let's build something extraordinary together.
