

October Newsletter

October brings a special kind of magic, the crisp autumn air, vibrant fall colors, cozy evenings, and the perfect opportunity to sneak away for one more adventure before the holiday season begins.

Whether you're longing for a peaceful fall escape, dreaming of exploring Europe, or ready to trade cooler temperatures for a little sunshine, October is a wonderful month to travel. From New England's breathtaking autumn foliage to the charming shoulder season in Spain, Italy, and France, there are countless destinations waiting to be explored.

From crystal-clear Adriatic waters and charming coastal villages to historic towns, incredible scenery, delicious cuisine, and unforgettable sunsets, every stop offered something special. Each destination gave us a glimpse into the beauty, culture, and charm that make Croatia such a memorable place to visit.

WHERE WILL YOUR JOURNEY TAKE YOU

Recently, Journey Whisper Travels had the incredible opportunity to explore the breathtaking Croatian coast! Our journey took us through some of Croatia's most beautiful seaside destinations, beginning in Šibenik and continuing to Primošten, Bol, Hvar, Korčula, Pomena, and Slano, before ending in the historic and stunning city of Dubrovnik.

OCTOBER TRAVEL TIPS

October is peak season for many fall foliage destinations. If you're hoping to catch those beautiful reds, oranges, and golds, book your accommodations early, especially for popular weekend getaways. While traveling, also remember October weather can be unpredictable. Layers are your best friend! Bring a light jacket, comfortable walking shoes, and an umbrella so you're prepared for whatever the day brings.

Our October travelers are headed to:

FROM US TO YOU

From us to you... October is a beautiful reminder that every season brings something new to discover. As the leaves begin to change and the days grow a little cozier, we're reminded of why we love travel so much the memories we make, the places we discover, and the moments we get to share along the way.

Whether October finds you enjoying a quiet weekend close to home, chasing fall colors, or dreaming about your next big adventure, we hope you take a little time to slow down and enjoy the journey.

From our journey to yours, thank you for allowing us to be part of your travel dreams. We're already looking forward to helping you discover where the road or the skies will take you next!

With gratitude

Donna & Heidi
