Acumant expands to offer Azure Integration Services in partnership with Irashi Software

Acumant has partnered with leading Microsoft application integration specialist Irashi Software to offer advanced Microsoft Azure Integration Services.

January 27, 2022: Leading Microsoft partner Acumant has recently expanded its service portfolio to include cutting-edge Azure Integration Services. The company will provide iPaaS (integration Platform as a Service) services in partnership with top Microsoft product integration specialist Irashi Software. The Azure integration services will be available for Acumant's clients located both in the USA and Europe.

Irashi Software is backed by seasoned IT architects and SMEs holding 15+ years of experience in working with ERP and other enterprise-grade applications.

"We are excited to share with you all that we are now offering Azure Integration services in partnership with Irashi Software. We have been planning to expand our service portfolio for months to include advanced products and services and to see it finally happening feels extremely special to us. Irashi is a leading Microsoft partner and a specialist in integrating various components of ERP and other business applications in the most seamless manner to ensure best IT experience. We are honored and grateful that they have believed in us and chosen to join hands with us", stated Nagendra Siddoutam, Director of Acumant.

With this partnership Acumant expands it services on Azure Integration stack – API Management, Service bus, Azure Functions, Logic apps and Event grid.

"We are glad to partner with fellow Microsoft partner Acumant for Azure Integration Services. Acumant is driven by an ambitious team of dynamic IT experts who are always focused on scaling up their service and delivery to ensure the absolute industry-leading IT solutions for clients. Their recent expansion to include the state-of-the-art Azure Integration Services is a commendable move and will go a long way in helping them to scale up the business of their clients in the contemporary market. We are looking forward to a long eventful journey together with Acumant in the coming years", noted Shipra Gupta, Director of Irashi Software.

Backed by a squad of highly qualified and seasoned IT experts, Acumant empowers businesses with state-of-the-art Microsoft solutions, equipped with advanced data and cutting-edge analytics. The company supports clients with customized solutions, tailored as per the specific needs of their businesses.

For more information, please visit https://www.acumant.com and https://irashisoftware.co.in/