Residents:

To be clear, what we are seeking is a vote by the residents of our community for the creation of an approval process.

Only after the public vote, if and when the property is rezoned, will work begin on an actual master development plan. Any site plan or vision provided on this website and shared with residents and the City is conceptual, and if the rezoning is approved, would be modified to incorporate input from Pepper Pike stakeholders in the subsequent site plan process.
