Celebrating July 4th

For Christians in America to celebrate the Fourth of July is good and right. We are citizens of this nation, enjoying its privileges and embracing its responsibilities. This July 4, we grill our hamburgers, wave our flags, and shoot fireworks.

Yet, while we are citizens of this nation, our ultimate allegiance is to God as members of the kingdom of his Son. His reign, teachings, and ownership of us trump everything else. Christ is not a president we elect; he is the King under whose reign we live.

This means, at a bare minimum, that when the government or its leadership should ever ask us or try to force us to do something that, as citizens of Christ's kingdom, we cannot do, our response must echo the apostles: "We must obey God rather than men" (Acts 5:29).

It also means that our beliefs, worship, priorities, loves, and overall worldview are not shaped by the American ethos but by the teachings of the Christian Scriptures.

The Epistle of Diognetus, written in the 2nd century, captures these truths beautifully when it says of Christians: "They participate in everything as citizens, and endure everything as foreigners."

Here is the context:

"For Christians are not distinguished from the rest of humanity by country, language, or custom. For nowhere do they live in cities of their own, nor do they speak some unusual dialect, nor do they practice an eccentric way of life. This teaching of theirs has not been discovered by the thought and reflection of ingenious people, nor do they promote any human doctrine, as some do. But while they live in both Greek and barbarian cities, as each one's lot was cast, and follow the local customs in dress and food and other aspects of life, at the same time they demonstrate the remarkable and admittedly unusual character of their own citizenship. They live in their own countries, but only as nonresidents; they participate in everything as citizens, and endure everything as foreigners. Every foreign country is their fatherland, and every fatherland is foreign.” (Michael Holmes, The Apostolic Fathers in English).

This is a sober truth to ponder as we celebrate July 4.

JULY Devotions

Keep On Trying

(Jesus said) "Repentance and forgiveness of sins should be proclaimed in His Name to all nations, beginning from Jerusalem. You are witnesses of these things. And behold, I am sending the promise of My Father upon you. ..." Luke 24:47-49a

Right outside New York's City Hall Park, there is a statue of newspaper-man Horace Greeley.

Along with his belief that young men should "go west," Greeley thought people remained doubters, even when they had solid proof their disbelief was wrong.

One day Greeley decided to test his theory. He had a man stand on that corner and offer to sell 20-dollar gold pieces for the price of a one-dollar bill. That's right, $20 in gold for a $1 bill. It seemed like a deal too good to be true. That's what most people thought. That's why, for the entire day, the man kept calling out his offer.

Thousands of men and women, thinking the man imbalanced, gave him a wide berth and passed on by. Some laughed at the silliness of the proposition; others shook their heads in doubtful derision. Late in the afternoon, about 15 minutes before the man was going to quit, a lady, with some embarrassment, approached the man. She asked whether she might see one of the gold pieces. He gave it to her. She bit it; she dropped it on the pavement to see if it would ring like a gold piece. It did.

Finally, but still with some reluctance, the lady paid her dollar and walked away with the double eagle.

Ten minutes later she showed up again, this time with two friends. Between them they bought eight more of the double eagles — all the man was offering. The next day, and for a number of days, that street corner was crowded with people waiting for the man to show up again. The man never reappeared.

It occurs to me that Christianity has been conducting the same experiment for 2,000 years.

For 2,000 years we have held out an offer that is, in human terms, simply too good to be true. We have spoken to the lost and lonely, the damned and dying, the hurting and hateful, the despondent and depressed. We have called out to sinners and lost souls.

Century after century we have said, "Repent of your sins, and in Jesus find forgiveness, healing and peace."

And what has been the reaction? By the Holy Spirit's power some have believed. But there are also many who have passed on by, others who thought it can't be or it's too good to be true.

Of course, there is one major difference between us and the fellow Greeley employed: Greeley's man never came back. But tomorrow you, me, and a host of other Christians are going to show up again, and say again, "Repent, believe, be saved."

THE PRAYER: Dear Lord, we give thanks You have entrusted us with a message of salvation through Jesus Christ, which needs to be shared. Grant us the grace to do so, even when that message is unapplauded and unappreciated. We further ask that hearts may be made open to hear of the grace that comes to them through the life, death and resurrection of our Redeemer. In His Name. Amen.

Every One His Witness

How to Invite

(Make the invitation to the marriage supper of the Lamb inviting)

And the angel said to me, "Write this: Blessed are those who are invited to the marriage supper of the Lamb." And he said to me, "These are the true words of God." (Revelation 19:9)

Invitations should be inviting. Simple? Yes, but we often fail to consider that an invitation that might be welcoming or enticing to us may not be to the person we are witnessing to. So, invitations should be inviting ... from the other person's perspective. By listening, asking, and seeking, you can get a pretty good idea of a person's preferences, interests, and openness. If you take these things into account, you'll be able to craft an invitation that they would welcome.

Here are a few key points to remember when extending a welcoming invitation:

- Be honest. Never hide something from the person you are inviting. No one appreciates being duped by a "bait and switch" invitation. If you're concerned that the person won't be interested, don't embellish it. Reconsider if you can't fully disclose what it's all about.
- Don't rush things. Wait until the person is open to the invitation. You may be eager to keep the conversation about Jesus going, but make sure they are ready first. Avoid being pushy like you're ready to close the deal.

- Make the invitation specific. "Let's get together sometime" is not an invitation. An invitation should include a time, a place, and a purpose.
- Be willing to accept a "No." Extending an invitation always comes with the risk it being rejected. When that happens, remember that it's the invitation being rejected, not you. Accept a no in a way that keeps the door open for a later "yes" by continuing to listen, ask, seek, and share as you are able.

Whenever you extend an invitation to someone, keep the ultimate invitation of evangelism in mind. As Christ's witness, you are His servant extending His invitation to all people so that His elect will take their places at the wedding feast of the Lamb in His never-ending Kingdom.

The LASSIE Approach to Witnessing (Listen, Ask, Seek, Share, Invite, Encourage)

Stewardship is WORK

For freedom Christ has set us free; stand firm therefore, and do not submit again to a yoke of slavery" (Gal. 5:1).

We celebrate this month because of the freedoms and liberties our country has afforded us. We are right to do this. We should be thankful for these liberties: the freedom to gather together to worship and to live out what we believe in our daily lives.

But freedom and liberty in our age has devolved. It has become a freedom from duty instead of a freedom for it. Indeed, freedom and liberty in our age has turned into licentiousness: a license to do what we want, when we want.

This license is a submission, again, to a yoke of slavery. For freedom as license to do what we desire when we desire it means we are slaves to our desires, slaves to our passions. Christ died to set us free from our sinful desires. In Holy Baptism, our Old Adam is drowned and put to death along with all sin and evil desires so that a new man may arise and live before God in righteousness and purity.

In Christ, we are a new creation. We are set free from the passions of the flesh so that we are free to do our duty and bear fruits of the Spirit.

Our duty is what God calls us to do as members of a family, society, and the church.

God calls us to believe in His Word and gladly hear and learn it. He calls us to pray for all people. He calls us to live in faith toward Him and in fervent love for our neighbor. He calls us to put the gifts He gives to us in His service. God calls parents to provide for their children and raise them in the fear and admonition of the Lord. And God calls children to honor their parents and provide and care for them when they are no longer able to do so themselves.

God calls the government to punish those who do evil and to reward those who do good. He calls citizens to pay their taxes and honor the governing officials as God's servants. He calls pastors to preach and teach the Gospel as well as repentance for the forgiveness of sins. And He calls hearers to support those who teach them with every good thing.

Christ died to set us free from the works of our selfish flesh, giving us the freedom and liberty to do our duty. Stand firm, then, and do not submit again to a yoke of slavery.

Our Awesome God

When our lives are focused on God, awe and wonder lead us to worship, filling our inner being with a fullness we may never have thought possible. Awe prepares the way for God's transforming power within us. This transformation of our inner attitudes takes place as awe leads us into wonder, admiration, reverence, surrender and obedience before God.

Council Meeting June 9, 2026

President Brock Kliewer called the meeting to order at 6:30 P.M. Pastor Brandt opened with prayer.

The following board members were present:

Pastor Gary Brandt, President Brock Kliewer, Financial Secretary Brett Niebur, Treasurer Peg Callahan, Secretary Susan Kral, Elder Jeff Emery, Evangelism Paula Emery, Trustee Chuck Kral, Cemetery Diane Borgmann and Church Member Pat Callahan

Absent: Vice President Noah Estes, Elder Jeff Hedberg, Stewardship Dawn Hedberg

The minutes from the May 12, 2026 meeting were approved as printed.

Financial Secretary: Brett stated that giving is about $2,000.00 ahead of this time last year. Our books show a slight loss because our mission project donations were sent out and our property insurance was paid.

Treasurer's Report: Peg reported the following:

- All bills are paid.
- Two checks were written to fulfill our mission payments to the LCMS Missouri District and to the St. Louis Concordia Seminary.
- Two CDs were renewed. They are in a safety deposit box at the Bank of Versailles' Greenview location. Jeff Emery and Peg Callahan sign on the safety deposit box.
- It was determined that reducing Pastor Brandt's salary would not improve his social security and tax situation. Arrangements were made to return to the previous deposits.

The report was accepted and approved.

Board of Elders: Jeff Emery reported the following:

- There was no meeting.
- Jeff Emery will speak to the congregation regarding the use of the portable alarm that was purchased.
- Jeff Emery will install a No Left Turn sign in the parking lot.
- The elders are working on forming a call committee to find a pastor when Pastor Brandt retires.

Jeff's report was accepted and approved.

Trustees: Chuck reported the following:

- Pat Callahan removed both stoves from the kitchen. He ordered new ones that were delivered and installed on June 8. The company hauled the old ones away. The council agreed to ask the congregation to contribute to a free will offering to help pay for them.
- Chuck replaced the furnace filter in the unit that serves the narthex.
- The skylight in the garage is leaking. Chuck contacted the company that replaced the church roof. They will tear out the skylight and enclose the area for $250.00.
- Pat rearranged the crèche figures so that there is easier access to them.
- Chuck will contact our propane company for a new bid for the upcoming winter season.

Chuck's report was accepted and approved.

Evangelism: Paula reported the following:

- Russell Schulz has continued to email Chamber of Commerce reports and Facebook reports to church members. He adds new posts to both.
- Our car show was a great success. Several members put their special vehicles on display. Members and visitors enjoyed seeing the cars, eating pizza, and having fellowship.
- The LWML will host an ice cream social on July 22 beginning at 4:30 PM. All members and their guests are invited.
- The yard sale date has been changed from September 12 to September 26. October 3 has been set for a rain date.
- The new member brunch will be held following the service on September 13. The event is not connected to a voters meeting.
- Trunk or Treat is scheduled for Saturday, October 31.

Paula's report was accepted and approved.

Stewardship: There was no report.

Member at Large: Vacant

Cemetery: Diane reported the following:

- Rodney Schulz applied a second pre-emergent and fertilizer application.
- Rodney planted red poker flowers that are beginning to bloom. He also pulled weeds.
- Peg Callahan will purchase artificial flowers to replace faded ones.
- Pat Callahan removed the tree that was leaning on the cemetery fence.

Diane's report was accepted and approved.

Pastor's Report: Pastor Brandt reported the following.

- At the May American Legion Riders' meeting, Pastor was elected chaplain for the group. The job primarily consists of having an opening and closing prayer.
- Pastor visited Jeff Hedberg in the ICU unit at the University of Missouri Hospital two weeks ago. He took communion to Jeff on June 9th.
- Reyne Hartkemeyer will be our new organist twice monthly and possibly three times a month when the month has five Sundays. We thank God for this new addition to our staff.

- We're pleased to be welcoming summer visitors. May we continue to be a warm friendly congregation.

Pastor's report was accepted and approved.

President's Reports

Old Business: There was no old business.

New Business:

- The question was raised if the office computer system will allow the entire congregation to be notified when there are prayer requests.
- Brett Niebur suggested that our elders compose a letter to be sent to the Missouri District to inform the district that Peace wants to be placed on a call list for a replacement pastor because Pastor Brandt plans to retire soon.

The meeting was adjourned at 7:20 P.M. Pastor led the closing with The Lord's Prayer.

Respectfully submitted,
Susan Kral, Secretary
