

2022 North American Society
for Oceanic History

Wilmington, North Carolina

June 22-25, 2022

Wilmington, NC

Conference Hotel: Embassy Suites by Hilton Wilmington Riverfront
9 Estell Lee Pl, Wilmington, NC 28401
910-765-1131

Nearby Hotels: Hotel Ballast Wilmington, Tapestry Collection
301 N. Water St, Wilmington, NC 28401
910-763-5900

Hampton Inn, Wilmington Downtown
225 Grace St., Wilmington, NC 28401
910-251-3930

Courtyard by Marriott, Wilmington Downtown
229 N 2nd St., Wilmington, NC 28401
910-632-2900

Conference Venue: Cape Fear Community College Union Station Building
502 N. Front Street, Wilmington, NC 28401
5 minute Walk from Conference Hotel

What To Do In Wilmington

Wilmington Dining:

<https://www.wilmingtonandbeaches.com/restaurants/>

Wilmington Music & Nightlife:

<https://www.wilmingtonandbeaches.com/things-to-do/music-nightlife/>

Wilmington Things To Do:

<https://www.wilmingtonandbeaches.com/things-to-do/>

Friday Night Live! On the Pier (June 24)

- The Pier at Port City Marina
- Admission Concert is Free | Food and Drink available for Purchase
- Event Times Gates Open:7:00 PM | Music:8:00 PM until 10:00 PM

Wednesday, June 22

7-9 PM: NASOH Board Meeting (Embassy Suites—Engine Room)

Thursday, June 23

8 AM: Registration @ Cape Fear Community College Union Station
Coffee/Tea & Pastries available (Room U 526)

9-10:30 AM:

Session 1 : Spanish Seaborne Empire (Room U529)

- Chair: Michael Tuttle (Austin Peay State University)
- 1. Christina Bolte (UWF), A Glimpse of Mid-16th Century New Spain in Pensacola, Florida: The 1559-1561 Tristan de Luna Expedition.
- 2. Gregory Cook (UWF). The Maritime Landscape of Tristan de Luna's Failed 1559 Colonization Attempt in Pensacola, FL.
- 3. Edwin Nieves (USCG Auxiliary) and Pedro Panera (Instituto Universitario General Gutiérrez Mellado-UNED). Turn of the 19th-Century Clandestine Maritime Commerce and Raids in Central and Spanish Caribbean.

Session 2: Trade and War at Sea (Room U527)

- Chair: Paul Fontenoy
- 1. Luc Clawson (Hagley Museum and Library). The Dupont Company and the Problem of Shipping During the American Civil War.
- 2. Michael Kegerreis (ECU). Commerce Warfare: New Insights on Asymmetric Warfare at Sea.
- 3. Michael Moir (York University Libraries). Requisition and Reconstruction: The Impact of Britain's Shipping Crisis Upon Canadian Trade During the First World War.

10:30-10:45: Break

10:45-12:15

Session 3: Symposium: North Carolina Port History: Exploring Black Sacred Spaces, Shipyards and Shipping Records (Room U529)

- Chair: Lynn Harris (East Carolina University)

- 1. Amber Pelham (NCDNC) North Carolina African American Heritage Commission's Africa to Carolina Initiative.

- 2. Daniel Masters (ECU), Wilmington Goes to War.

- 3. Lynn Harris (ECU), Jamaican Rum, Snakeroot, and Walking Canes: Exploring 18th-Century Port Brunswick Cargoes.

- 4. Jarvis Hargrove (ECU), North Carolina Emigration to Liberia in the 19th and 20th Century

Session 4: Maritime Heroes and Spectacle (Room U527)

- Chair: Edward Marolda

- 1. Mark Fiorey (U.S. Naval War College). The Adventures of Wild Bill:" The Covert Reconnaissance of Capt. Wilfred L. Painter, Civil Engineer Corps, USNR.

- 2. Jason Smith (Southern Connecticut) "Oughtn't We All Feel Proud:" The Great White Fleet, the American People and Rooseveltian Navalism, 1907-1909.

- 3. William Theisen (USCG), Revenue Cutter Captain "Hell Roarin" Mike Healy-Tamer of America's Final Frontier.

12:15-2:00: Lunch (Around Downtown Wilmington)

2:00-3:30

Session 5: Shallow Waters: Ports and Islands (Room U529)

- Chair: Amy Mitchell-Cook (University of West Florida)
- 1. Whitehead, Hunter (Coastal Environments, Inc.), Miguel Gutierrez (SEARCH, Inc.), and Hope Bridgeman (Coastal Environments, Inc.). Beached Shipwrecks Along Mustang and North Padre Islands, Texas.
- 2. William Nassif (SCIAA). Reconstructing the Waterfront: An Historical and Archaeological Examination of the Nineteenth-Century Port of Washington, N.C.
- 3. Jason Raupp, Jennifer McKinnon, and Jeremy Borrelli (ECU). Ships, Lumber and Lime: Recent Investigations at Castle Island, Washington, N.C.

Session 6: The British at Sea (Room U527)

- Chair: Christopher McKee
- 1. John Rodgaard (Independent Scholar). From Across the Sea: North Americans in Nelson's Navy
- 2. Phillip Reid (Independent Scholar). A Boston Schooner in the Royal Navy: Commerce and Conflict in Maritime British America, 1768-1772.
- 3. John Broadwater (Independent Scholar). Merchant Ships at War: The Sunken British Fleet Near Yorktown, Virginia.
- 4. Steven Pitt (St. Bonaventure University). The Maritime Origins of Boston's 1689 Revolution.

4:00-5-30

Graduate Student/Early Career Reception:

Paddy's Hollow Restaurant & Pub
10 Walnut Street, Wilmington
<http://paddyshollow.com>

5:30-Until You Leave

Reception @ Embassy Suites, Cloud 9 Rooftop Bar

Friday, June 24

8 AM: Registration @ Cape Fear Community College Union Station

Coffee/Tea & Pastries available

9:00-10:30

Session 7: Global maritime (Room U529)

- Chair TBD

- 1. John Grady (Independent Scholar). The Deep Pockets of the Geographical and Statistical Society of How to Explore the Globe with a Pinch-Penny Congress.

- 2. Dwight Hughes (Independent Scholar). Rebels and Aliens: Confederates on the Far Side of the World

- 3. Anthony Peebler (TCU). The Anglo-American Rivalry in the Pacific and the Decline of Hawaiian Independence, 1820-1843.

Session 8: Gulf Coast (Room U527)

- Chair: Della Scott-Ireton (University of West Florida)

- 1. Mike Thomin and Nicole Grinnan (UWF), "Sponging in 'Apalach': A Preliminary Look at Sponge Harvesting in Apalachicola, Florida"

- 2. William Lees and Monica Beck (UWF). Reconstructing the Waterborne Supply Chain of William Porter and Company, Apalachicola, FL.

- 3. Kevin Grubbs (University of Southern Mississippi), Coasting Through the Ages of Steam: Commerce and Continuity Along the Gulf Coast.

- 4. Nicole Grinnan (UWF), "Burgeoning Export Economies and Resource Depletion: A Case Study from Pensacola's Reconstruction-Era Commercial Fishing Operation"

10:30-10:45: Break

10:45-12:15

Session 9: Symposium: Cauldrons, Compasses, and Casks: Contextualizing 18th-Century Shipwreck Artifacts (Room U529)

- Chair: Mark Wilde-Ramsing

- 1. Linda Carnes-McNaughton, The “Oceanic Orbit” of Artifacts Recovered from the QAR/La Concorde Shipwreck.

- 2. Jillian Schuler (ECU), A Quandary of Shipping: Contextualizing a Salvaged Assemblage from the Battle of Yorktown, 1781.

- 3. Sarah Watkins-Kenney and Lynn Harris (ECU), Exploring the Potential of Marine Art as a Research Tool for Investigating Cask Assemblages Found on Historic Shipwrecks Identified....

- 4. Michael Hoots (ECU), The Lifeways and Interconnections between the Three Groups of Individuals of La Concorde/Queen Anne’s Revenge.

- 5. Michael Baker (ECU), Masters at Sea: Navigations Aboard Queen Anne’s Revenge

Session 10: Maritime technology (Room U527)

- Chair: Judy Pearson

- 1. Joseph Zarzynski (The French & Indian War Society at Lake George, Inc.). “Home is where the Anchor Drops:” A Lake George, New York Anchor, Grapnel and Grappling Iron Inventory.

- 2. Timothy Wolters (Iowa State University). From Peripulus to MapAnalyst: Portolan Charts in the Era of Digital History

- 3. James Risk (University of South Carolina), Radicalism and Reform: The Paradigm Shift of the Fresnel Lens.

12:15-2:00: Lunch (Around Downtown Wilmington)

2:00-3:30

Session 11: Race and Gender (Room U529)

- Chair: Gene Smith (Texas Christian University)

- 1. Michael Toth (TCU). Ships of Many Colors: American Whaling Ships as Multiracial, Multicultural Communities.

- 2. Kait Engel (Naval History and Heritage Command). Their Navy: Women in the U.S. Navy Serving at Sea, 1862-2022

3:30-4:30: NASOH Business Meeting (Room U526)

6:30-9:00: Banquet (Embassy Suites, Banquet Facilities)

Saturday, June 25

Battleship North Carolina Tours

Bizzy Bee Water Taxi ($12 roundtrip) from Downtown Wilmington to Battleship North Carolina every 30 minutes starting at 9:30 AM

Schedule: On the hour @ Battleship
 :15 @Market Street
 :30 @Battleship
 :45 @Market Street
 :55 Chandler's Wharf

Battleship North Carolina (Open 8 AM to 5 PM): Admission $10 group rate

Harbor Cruise 2-4 PM on board Captain J. N. Maffit (Cape Fear Riverboats)