Celebrate National Hispanic Heritage Month through Action!

¡Celebre el Mes Nacional de la Herencia Hispana a través de la Acción!

By Dr. José A. Flores

Everyone loves a great Fiesta! There is a lively crowd, dozens of food booths, music and even an occasional carnival attached to the National Hispanic Heritage Month Celebrations. There is nothing wrong with eating ethnic foods, watching cultural dances, and listening to our music from the various nations that make up the Hispanic/Latin/Indigenous Americas. The celebrations are intended to build community, fellowship, intercultural understanding and to recognize the many contributions Hispanic/Latino/Indigenous Americans have made to the USA over our nation's history. What is often left out of the celebrations is the education of our community about the contributions we have made. I often review the planned events in our community and wonder why we haven't re-examined our messaging. I am not a stranger to the tasks involved in staging this annual celebration as my history demonstrates. My efforts began the Hispanic Festival in Grand Rapids decades ago. After establishing and running the event for 10 years, I passed the baton to others.

We must seize the opportunity to gather our community in mass and promote civic education and civic responsibility through our celebrations. The September 15 – October 15 celebrations should include threads of History, Cultural Entertainment, Appreciation for the Arts, Music, Political Awareness, Voter Registration and Civic Engagement. It is doubtful that these threads of influence are being given the attention needed as our community continues to be underrepresented in government, educational institutions, and corporate level decision-making. We are "missing the target" by just focusing on the celebration, eating delicious foods, raising funds, and having a great time.

Hispanic/Latino/Indigenous people are assaulted by the promotion of racial gaslighting of rightwing politicians. Racist politicians continue to suggest we are invading the southern border, taking American's jobs, bringing rapists, drug lords, and thieves to this country without organized opposition. We are not politically engaging our community to defend itself from the attacks by racist politicians. What are we doing to counteract voter suppression, the denial of true history taught to our children, overt acts of racists such as mass shootings targeting Blacks, Asians, and Hispanics? What is our plan to thwart the new violence by white supremacists targeting us in their quest for a racial civil war? We have a responsibility to lead enlighten, educate, and mobilize our community to counteract evil forces that threaten our wellbeing in America. Let's celebrate through positive, peaceful but deliberate action!

¡A todos no gusta una gran Fiesta! Hay una multitud animada, docenas de puestos de comida, música e incluso un carnaval ocasionalmente adjunto a las celebraciones del Mes Nacional de la Herencia Hispana. No hay nada mal comer comidas étnicas, ver bailes culturales y escuchar nuestra música de las diversas naciones que conforman las Américas Hispana/Latina/Indígena.

Las celebraciones están destinadas a construir comunidad, compañerismo, entendimiento intercultural y reconocer las muchas contribuciones Los estadounidenses hispanos/latinos/indígenas han realizado a los EE. UU. a lo largo de la historia de nuestra nación. Lo que falta de las celebraciones está la educación de nuestra comunidad sobre las contribuciones que hemos hecho. Cuando he revisado los eventos planificados en nuestra comunidad me quedo con la duda, por qué no hemos vuelto a examinar nuestra mensajería. No soy ajeno a las tareas de esta celebración anual como mi historia demuestra. Mis esfuerzos comenzaron el Festival Hispano en Grand Rapids hace décadas. Después de establecer y dirigiendo el evento durante 10 años, le pasé la batuta a otros.

Debemos aprovechar la oportunidad para congregarnos masivamente a nuestra comunidad y promover la educación cívica y responsabilidad a través de nuestras celebraciones. Las celebraciones del 15 de septiembre al 15 de octubre deben incluir hilos de Historia, Entretenimiento Cultural, Apreciación por las Artes, Música, Conciencia Política, Votante Registro y Compromiso Cívico. Es dudoso que a estos hilos de influencia se les esté dando la atención necesaria ya que nuestra comunidad continúa estando subrepresentada en el gobierno, las instituciones educativas y puestos de supervisión a nivel corporativo.

Estamos "perdiendo el objetivo" al centrarnos simplemente en la celebración, comiendo comidas deliciosas, recaudando fondos y pasándola muy bien. Los hispanos/latinos/indígenas son agredidos por la promoción de la manipulación racial de las políticas derechistas. Los políticos racistas continúan sugiriendo que estamos invadiendo la frontera sur, tomando los trabajos de los estadounidenses, trayendo violadores, capos de la droga y ladrones a este país sin una oposición organizada. No estamos involucrando políticamente a nuestra comunidad para defenderse de los ataques de políticos racistas.

¿Qué estamos haciendo para contrarrestar la supresión de votantes, la negación de la verdadera historia enseñada a nuestros hijos, actos manifiestos de racistas como tiroteos masivos contra negros, asiáticos e hispanos? ¿Cuál es nuestro plan para frustrar la nueva violencia de los supremacistas blancos que nos atacan en su búsqueda de una guerra civil racial? Tenemos una responsabilidad de liderar, iluminar, educar y movilizar a nuestra comunidad para contrarrestar las fuerzas del mal que amenazan nuestro bienestar en Los Estados Unidos. ¡Celebremos a través de una acción positiva, pacífica pero deliberada!

¡Colonia de los USA y Sigue La Discriminación!

Colony of the USA and Discrimination Continues!

Por Dr. Edgar León

Es nuestro deseo poder aclarar la verdad sobre todas las celebraciones oficiales del gobierno de Puerto Rico. Primeramente, hay que aclarar que ese día de 25 de Julio se celebra para borrar de la mente de la gente el día de la invasión de los Estados Unidos a Puerto Rico. Ese fue el 25 de julio de 1898. Ese día entraron las tropas americanas a la isla para controlar y hacerse cargo de todo. No fue hasta casi cinco décadas después que se le permitió a la gente de Puerto Rico elegir a su propio gobernador. El primer gobernador electo, Luis Muñoz Marín decidió usar ese preciso día 25 de julio de 1952, para celebrar la constitución de Puerto Rico. También, pudo subir la bandera de Puerto Rico por primera vez de forma oficial. Antes de esa fecha era ilegal usar o poner la bandera de Puerto Rico en cualquier lado.

Ese día en 1952 se estableció el Estado Libre Asociado. Podemos concluir que todo es una mentira y un engaño bochornoso. En Puerto Rico, no somos ni Estado, ni Libres, ni Asociados. Podemos afirmar que no somos estado porque los ciudadanos americanos que viven en la isla no pueden votar por el presidente de los Estados Unidos de América mientras residen en la isla. O sea, SE DISCRIMINA AL CIUDADANO AMERICANO para no votar por el presidente en Puerto Rico. Segundo, la isla no es libre porque el Congreso de los Estados Unidos de Norte América decide todo lo relacionado con la economía, tierras, minerales y aguas que rodean a la isla. Si deseamos tener relaciones con otras naciones, hay que hacerlo por medio del congreso. Tercero, no estamos asociados del todo porque los socios deciden las condiciones de esa asociación. El congreso decide absolutamente todo por medio de su voto.

Nos preguntamos ¿por qué no somos estado de la nación americana? Podemos deducir que el congreso no quiere a Puerto Rico como estado adicional por discrimen doble. Primero, somos hispanos parlantes y Segundo somos considerados gente de color para los miembros del congreso americano. Muchos de ellos no saben ni dónde queda Puerto Rico. Tampoco saben que somos ciudadanos americanos. Es una aberración el tener una ciudadanía y no poder votar por el presidente del cual eres ciudadano simplemente porque vives en otro lado. Lo triste es que el congreso no quiere arreglar el disparate de forma rápida. Los miembros del congreso necesitan pedirles permiso a los ciudadanos americanos que viven en la isla para darles el permiso para votar por el presidente. Eso lo puede hacer el presidente firmando una orden ejecutiva pero no se atreve por el lío que se puede firmar con sus oponentes políticos. Sospechamos que los republicanos

We need to clarify the truth about all the official celebrations of the government of Puerto Rico. First, July 25 is celebrated to make people forget the day the United States invaded Puerto Rico. That was the 25th of July 1898. On that day American troops entered the island to take control of the island. It was not until five decades later that the people of Puerto Rico were allowed to elect their own governor. The first elected governor, Luis Muñoz Marín decided to use that precise day July 25, 1952, to celebrate the constitution of Puerto Rico. In Puerto Rico, we are neither a State, nor Free, nor Associated. We can say that we are not a state because although Puerto Ricans are American citizens by birth, those who live on the island cannot vote for the president of the United States of America while residing on the island. In other words, AMERICAN CITIZENS ARE DISCRIMINATED AGAINST in denying them the right to vote for the president of the U.S.A simply because they reside on the island of Puerto Rico. We suspect that Republicans do not want the 3 million Puerto Ricans to vote for the president because they would lose a lot of seats in congress and would have to appoint legislators from the island.

The U.S. Congress has debated the fate of Puerto Rico on many occasions focusing on the racial composition of the island in a racist manner.

Finally, we can mention that the Congress of the United States of North America imposed a Fiscal Control Board on Puerto Rico to deal with the bankruptcy of the government. To date, it has not been effective in promoting economic development. In conclusion, Puerto Rico is a commonwealth, but it continues to be treated as a colony of the United States of North America.

no desean que los republicanos no desean que los casi 3 millones de puertorriqueños voten por el presidente porque perderían un montón de sillas en el congreso y tendrían que nombrar legisladores de la isla y quitar el puesto de comisionado residente. Podrán venir los defensores de la nación diciendo que tenemos un comisionado residente en el congreso y nos dará participación. ¡Eso también es falso! Tenemos ese puesto de comisionado residente como un congresista castrado que no tiene voto alguno en el congreso. Puede hablar si los otros congresistas le dan el espacio. No estamos promoviendo a ningún partido ni movimiento político. Solo estamos exponiendo la realidad que existe en la isla.

Finalmente podemos mencionar que el Congreso de los Estados Unidos de Norte América le impuso a Puerto Rico una Junta de Control Fiscal para bregar con la quiebra del gobierno central. Hasta la fecha no ha sido efectiva en el aspecto de fomentar el Desarrollo económico. Hasta la fecha, seguimos en quiebra, sólo se ve que la Junta de Control Fiscal defiende a los inversionistas americanos para que el gobierno le devuelva el dinero de forma rápida. Se sospecha que la deuda ha sido de forma ilegal pero solo se ha reducido parte de la misma. Eso lo que ha hecho es reducir los servicios esenciales al ciudadano pobre que trabaja con un salario de hambre.

En conclusión, Puerto Rico es una colonia de los Estados Unidos de Norte América.

The Painful Truth;

By Jorge Martinez
Columnist/

Truth is beautiful, depending on who you are. As a so-called minority it's ugly. Take for example white feminists crying because their right to choose is gone. Interestingly, most white women never said boo to voting restrictions, racist laws and the killing of brown people, but protest when denied abortions. White women turned away when supreme court justices were approved knowing they were lying. I've never understood why white snob elitist Kavanagh, Gorsuch and Barrett force poor women to have children they can't afford. It's painfully true the eight white cops who gunned down Jayland Walker were not enforcing the law. It's painfully true police training fails to teach restraint or respect for people of color. Curiously, America asks white men who according to the Committee on Children, Youth and Families says out of over 900,000 cops over 360,000 beat their wives. According to the FBI as many as 40% of cops voluntarily admitted to domestic abuse. Alex Roslin author of Police Wife, The Secret Epidemic of Police Domestic Violence reports abuse is 15 times higher in cop families than the general population. Yet, America expects angry abusive men to restrain themselves when dealing with strangers? It's almost comical. Interestingly, unions are quick to call cops heroes, but cops in Uvalde proved them cowards.

Endless lies and cover ups demonstrate another ugly truth. Cops are generally of the same mentality as racists who marched in Charlottesville. For 50 years white men have lost their grip especially on their women and politics. Average white men no longer feel special nor privileged and hate it. So, they seek membership in the only remaining white boys club. Oh, yea there are brown cops, but mostly as patrolmen. In order for brown men to join they must surrender their souls, ethnic identity and adopt an authoritarian attitude. Cops are routinely brainwashed to be afraid and want to hurt you. Ninety five percent (95%) don't see anything wrong with looking away, hiding or producing evidence. Lying is routinely integral and everyone knows it, this includes district attorneys which makes them complicit. A 2018 examination of more than 1,000 civil and criminal records found more than 120 cops with at least one credibility issue in the NYPD. Which demonstrates how TV glorifies cops as in BlueBloods, a TV show about the largest, most corrupt force on the planet. Furthermore, cops are generally willing to let innocent people be convicted in order to meet arrest quotas, an open secret of law enforcement. Yet, the nation wants us to trust cops while refusing to hold them accountable?

There is no mandated federal oversight. Believe it or not, as of today, no one knows how many people cops kill. The FBI, CIA, or NSA no one actually knows how many people are falsely arrested, beaten, illegally detained, wounded or killed. No one knows how many hate crimes there are for the same reason. This is difficult to believe, but tragically true. The Federal Government has been unwilling to take on the police industrial business complex that makes billions in manufacturing weapons, equipment and etc. Cops are grossly overpaid and make up the largest budget item in every city and county. Politicians are unwilling to investigate allegations against DAs, judges or police chiefs. It's a national crisis. Ordinary cops are generally out of control, as of today, cops in Stockton California and the central valley are under investigation for rape, child abuse, brutality and protected by fellow cops. Not because they are innocent, but because they are cops. Internal Affairs never releases info to the public. We know of these because they got caught via other departments and named in complaints, are being sued and made the papers. Most cops don't even get a slap on the wrist. Christopher Hast faces rape charges and Michael Stiles and Omar Villapudua are being called bad apples, but they are just ordinary cops who were overly stupid and got caught.

Cops are notorious "booty hounds", which is how they abuse power. Research indicates Booty on Duty impacts Police agencies everywhere. From Probation officers to judges, legal clerks and horny unfaithful married cops. Illicit love affairs and sexual scandals are normal throughout the ranks. There are thousands of out-of-control cops without Federal oversight. They simply resign and move to another city or state. The chances of bad cops getting back on the force are good, as proven by Superior Arizona whose entire force is made up of recycled cops. Usually, they just drive into the next county. Like Timothy Loehmann who killed 12-year-old Tamir Cleveland Ohio 2014. Derrek Chauvin had 19 complaints of abuse before he murdered George Floyd. He was a training officer like Kimberly Potter who murdered Daunte Wright. Citizens are urged to avoid loud parties, public gatherings and quietly move away if cops arrive. Remember cops are competing for promotion and you are a trophy. Joe Navarro, author of What Every Body is Saying 2008, FBI profiler says most cops get it wrong most the time. Former FBI Dale Carson, author of Arrest Proof Yourself 2014 says treat cops like undertakers, and only deal with them when you have to. Even if you are innocent, never answer questions beyond basic identification, address and immediate situation, if asked reply with "Sir, I'd like to answer all your questions but my uncle/brother who is a cop, said I should not say anything unless my attorney is present". Then Stop Talking!

La verdad es hermosa, dependiendo de quién seas. Como una supuesta minoría es feo. Tomemos, por ejemplo, a las feministas blancas que lloran porque su derecho a elegir se ha ido. Curiosamente, la mayoría de las mujeres blancas nunca dijeron abucheo a las restricciones electorales, las leyes racistas y el asesinato de personas de color, sino que protestaron cuando se les negaron los abortos. Las mujeres blancas se dieron la vuelta cuando los jueces de la corte suprema fueron aprobados sabiendo que estaban mintiendo. Nunca entendí por qué el elitista snob blanco Kavanagh, Gorsuch y Barrett obligan a las mujeres pobres a tener hijos que no pueden pagar. Es dolorosamente cierto que los ocho policías blancos que mataron a tiros a Jayland Walker no estaban haciendo cumplir la ley. Es dolorosamente cierto que el entrenamiento policial no enseña moderación ni respeto por las personas de color. Curiosamente, Estados Unidos pregunta a los hombres blancos que, según el Comité de Niños, Jóvenes y Familias, dice que de más de 900.000 policías, más de 360.000 golpean a sus esposas. Según el FBI, hasta el 40% de los policías admitieron voluntariamente haber cometido abuso doméstico. Alex Roslin, autor de Police Wife, The Secret Epidemic of Police Domestic Violence, informa que el abuso es 15 veces mayor en las familias de policías que en la población general. Sin embargo, ¿Estados Unidos espera que los hombres enojados y abusivos se contengan cuando tratan con extraños? Es casi cómico. Curiosamente, los sindicatos se apresuran a llamar héroes a los policías, pero los policías de Uvalde demostraron ser cobardes.

Decades of Missing Black American Women: Where is the Main Stream Coverage?

According to the 2020 statistics, Black American women make up 15% of the population, yet they make up

By Kindra A. Peterson more than 1/3 of women reported missing in the United States. The fact that most of the women who were reported missing were black, not only questions the targeting, but there's the questions of lack of main stream media coverage and possible organ harvesting – specifically for their uterus, as they are often missing when there are the rare recovery of their bodies. Some media outlets have shared that they wish not to over-traumatize the families by harping on the disappearances of the black women, as it may appear that they are trying to sensationalize the coverage. However, they are encouraged by the black women's families to create awareness, as the families often feel that they take this route alone. Furthermore, the fact that there is little to no media coverage regarding missing black American women, unfortunately, makes them a more desired target, as they're seen as the least protected.

Sex trafficking continues to be a serious crime and on the rise. In addition to the sex trafficking, black American women make up 20% of the rape victims, though that number is likely inaccurate due to it being known that the sexual assault and domestic violence victims go unreported. Almost half of black American women are sexual assault, domestic violence and stalking victims; from FBI files, the criminals of these victims are usually perpetuated by men.

Just recently in May of 2022, black women living in Chicago was Según las estadísticas de 2020, las mujeres afroamericanas representan el 15% de la población, pero representan más de 1/3 de las mujeres desaparecidas en los Estados Unidos. El hecho de que la mayoría de las mujeres que fueron reportadas como desaparecidas fueran negras, no solo cuestiona el objetivo, sino que también existen dudas sobre la falta de cobertura de los principales medios de comunicación y la posible sustracción de órganos, específicamente para su útero, ya que a menudo faltan cuando hay la rara recuperación de sus cuerpos.

El tráfico sexual continúa siendo un delito grave y en aumento. Además del tráfico sexual, las mujeres afroamericanas representan el 20% de las víctimas de violación, aunque es probable que ese número sea inexacto debido a que se sabe que las víctimas de agresión sexual y violencia doméstica no se denuncian. Casi la mitad de las mujeres afroamericanas son víctimas de agresiones sexuales, violencia doméstica y acoso; de los archivos del FBI, los criminales de estas víctimas suelen ser perpetrados por hombres.

a victim of sexual assault by a man who was a family acquaintance, but abruptly turned violent on her; luckily she survived, as she was the fortunate to reach the ears of a man passing by the abandoned building in which she was held captive. The perpetrator, 44-year-old Joel Cammon, was captured and arrested. Killers are known to use abandoned homes and buildings as their mode of operation for silencing their victim, because it is reported that these homes and building often don't have any traffic for months and sometimes years. As reported by Fox32, abandoned home crimes is a decade old preference for killers. A lot of black American women suffer personal, torturous deaths, as they are often strangled once they've been sexually assaulted and beaten. The disrespect and organ harvesting often follows their murders, such as heinous dismembering of their bodies.

More crimes continued to occur against women – with black American women still ranking as the highest victims. There are tons of unsolved cases of strangled black American women. So the Chicago police department formed a Murder Accountability Project in which they track the victims' crime scene with a dot on a map. The detectives of the CPD are familiar with theories of community members feeling that these crimes are the works of serial killers and they share those theories. Marches have been organized by these community members to memorialize and bring awareness to the targeting of black American women so that there is some public attention. Black American unity is the main way to make this happen if the media chooses to cover stories of their preference.

LULAC Wins Federal Court Decision That Strikes Down Texas Voter Residency Requirements

Washington, DC - Domingo Garcia, national president of the League of United Latin American Citizens (LULAC), issued a statement late Tuesday following a ruling by the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Texas striking down Texas Senate Bill (S.B.) 1111. LULAC said the so-called election integrity bill “imposes vague, onerous restrictions on the voter registration process, chilling political participation and further burdening the abilities of lawful voters to cast their ballots to make their voices heard.” Voto Latino was also a plaintiff in the lawsuit.

“Today, LULAC has won a landmark decision that sends a powerful message to Governor Abbott: Don’t Mess with Tejanos!” said Garcia. “We are lawful voters with the same rights under the U.S. Constitution, and your attempts to stop our growing Hispanic voting strength have failed repeatedly. Abbott and the Republican-led legislature tried to use multiple illegal methods to restrict Latinos from voting. LULAC is making sure that all Texas voters have equal voting rights,” he added.

“This ruling is a major victory for Texans who had their voting rights threatened by Senate Bill 1111. The bill’s vague, burdensome registration requirements were a direct attack on historically underrepresented and underserved voters,” said Uzoma Nkwonta, Elias Law Group Partner. “Thankfully, a federal court has now recognized that these provisions are clearly unconstitutional. Congratulations to LULAC and other voting rights advocates who fought back against this blatant attempt at voter suppression from the Texas Legislature,” he said.

“Texas LULAC is elated that the federal court saw through this thinly-veiled voter suppression effort,” says Rodolfo Rosales, Jr., Texas LULAC State Director. “Our youths are energized, and the governor’s neck-and-neck race with Beto O’Rourke is a testament that post office boxes are not the threat he needs to be worried about in this election. More concerning are the policies of this state administration and its supporters, who are waging a wholesale campaign to disenfranchise Hispanic voters. Their plan is not working, and LULAC vows to see them in court as many times as we need to beat back their illegal legislative attacks. The power of the people has prevailed!” said Rosales.

Domingo García, presidente nacional de la Liga de Ciudadanos Latinoamericanos Unidos (LULAC), emitió un comunicado el pasado mes de Agosto de un fallo del Tribunal de Distrito de los Estados Unidos para el Distrito Oeste de Texas que anuló el Proyecto de Ley del Senado de Texas (S.B.) 1111. LULAC dijo que el llamado proyecto de ley de integridad electoral “impone restricciones vagas y onerosas en el proceso de registro de votantes, lo que enfría la participación política y sobrecarga aún más la capacidad de los votantes legales para emitir sus votos y hacer que se escuchen sus voces”. Voto Latino también fue actor en la demanda.

Each month we will feature a Latin American athlete representing our community in professional sports.

The sight of the Mexican flag waving along pit road may not be something NASCAR fans are used to seeing, but Daniel Suárez continues to make way for that to become the norm.

The race car driver from Monterrey, Nuevo Leon made history when he won NASCAR's Cup Series race at the Sonoma Raceway in California in June, making him the first Mexican to drive on to victory lane at the end of a NASCAR Cup Series race.

"Never give up on your dreams," Suárez wrote in Spanish on social media after his historic win.

Suárez is hardly an overnight success, embarking on a journey against long odds from the first time he sat behind the wheel of a go-kart as a 10-year-old. It was clear from that moment that the racetrack was his calling, but to cash in on that talent would mean a move to the U.S. to make a name for himself in NASCAR.

Eleven years after his dad set him up on the go-kart track, Suárez drove from Mexico to Charlotte, North Carolina in a 1994 Volkswagen Beetle to NASCAR's headquarters to start his professional racing career.

"Every NASCAR driver has had a tough journey," he said. "But my journey is definitely the most different; leaving my family and my country and coming to a different culture, a different language."

Suárez claimed his first major win in 2016 when he passed Kyle Bush on the last lap of the Xfinity Series championship in Michigan. With that victory, he became the first Mexican-born and international driver to win a NASCAR national touring series.

"My story is very similar to many, many Mexicans, Latinos, coming to this country, trying to find a goal or trying to find the dream," he said. "If I was able to make it happen, everyone out there can make it happen."

Before his NASCAR success in the U.S., Suárez won the class championship and moved up to NASCAR Mexico Mini Stocks, where, at 16, he became the youngest driver to win a race in the series. In 2010, he joined Mexico's top stock-car series and was named the circuit's rookie of the year.

Now, Suárez drives the No. 99 Chevrolet Camaro ZL1 for Trackhouse Racing Team.

He is also a graduate and now avid supporter of the NASCAR Drive for Diversity program, which works to attract minority and female individuals – drivers, ownership, sponsorship, and crew members – to the sport, with the goal to also bring a more diverse audience to the sport. "Without that program, I probably wouldn't be here," Suárez said.

After his win in Sonoma, Suárez held up a flag that read "Win Numero Uno," and with a bright future ahead of him, the win likely won't be his last.

El piloto de carreras de Monterrey, Nuevo León, hizo historia cuando ganó la carrera de la Serie de la Copa de NASCAR en el Sonoma Raceway en California en junio, convirtiéndose en el primer mexicano en llegar al carril de la victoria al final de una carrera de la Serie de la Copa de NASCAR.

Once años después de que su padre lo instalara en la pista de karts, Suárez condujo desde México a Charlotte, Carolina del Norte en un Volkswagen Beetle de 1994 hasta la sede de NASCAR para comenzar su carrera como piloto profesional.

Suárez obtuvo su primera gran victoria en 2016 cuando superó a Kyle Bush en la última vuelta del campeonato de la Serie Xfinity en Michigan. Con esa victoria, se convirtió en el primer piloto internacional nacido en México en ganar una serie nacional de giras de NASCAR.

Antes de su éxito en NASCAR en los EE. UU., Suárez ganó el campeonato de su clase y ascendió a NASCAR Mexico Mini Stocks, donde, a los 16 años, se convirtió en el piloto más joven en ganar una carrera en la serie. En 2010, se unió a la serie de autos stock más importantes de México y fue nombrado el novato del año en el circuito.

If you haven't had an opportunity to experience a Cabildo show, put it on your TO DO list. Imagine having musicians and songwriters from Chile, Argentina and Mexico performing with local talent based right here in Grand Rapids. The result is a unique Latin fusion that blends rock, folk, ska, and other genres of music from Latin and South America that Cabildo has become known for in the West Michigan area.

Cabildo was formed around 2004 by musicians, Hugo Claudin and Juan Daniel Castro, both from Mexico. They were joined by vocalist, Julio Cano-Villalobos, who is from Chile. Now the only original member of Cabildo, Villalobos has brought together a collective of talented musicians with truly diverse and cultural backgrounds and let their influences and ideas meld together into the sound that sets them apart from other bands.

As Villalobos says, "We believe rhythm is what unites us all here, not only the band, but people who like to listen to us. Rhythm is our universal language to unite everyone under our music."

In addition to Villalobos (vocals, acoustic guitar, charango), the members include Julio Cesar Viveros (vocals, electric guitar), also from Mexico, Josh Dunigan (vocals, percussion) from Oklahoma, Dustin Miller (drum kit) from Grand Rapids, Nate Bliton (keyboard, viola) from East Lansing, Jonathon Sgromo (bass) from Argentina, Joshua Usadel (trombone) from Grand Rapids and Michael Prokopchuk (violin), also from Grand Rapids. Viveros, Sgromo and Miller also play together in another local band called Epcya, which, like Cabildo, has developed its own style of music that is more rock, but with both Spanish and English lyrics. Check them out on Facebook, Instagram, and YouTube.

Cabildo began by playing covers of popular songs before Villalobos and Viveros began writing original songs with Spanish lyrics. They have released a CD called Sin Fronteras that you can buy in CD or digital format on their website www.cabildomusic.com.

It is this sound that makes them very much in demand when the summer festival season rolls around. This was even more true as the pandemic mandates were lifted and people began to gather again. This year is no exception. Dunigan adds, "As accessible as our music is, people just want to get out to it. They want to hear something that's a little bit different, but they still want to dance to it." Usadel appreciates the diversity of venues they have played: bars, parks, festivals, churches, even a giant igloo. As he says, "it's always an adventure to see where we'll play next."

You can see Cabildo play at the following events in September (all are free and open to the public – the Watershed Jamboree is free with registration).

Sept. 15 (6 pm to 9 pm) – Cherry Street Park Series presented by East Hills Council of Neighbors

Sept. 17 (4 pm to 6 pm) – Watershed Jamboree at 60 Port Sheldon St SW, Grandville. Go to <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/watershed-jamboree-tickets38742449527> to register.

Sept. 17 (7 pm to 10 pm) – Sitelab Downtown Location

Sept. 29 (6 pm to 7 pm) – Music in the Stacks, Grand Rapids Public Library

With that schedule, now you have plenty of opportunities to see Cabildo live, but I would plan to bring your dancing shoes because you will not want to stand still once they start playing.

Si no ha tenido la oportunidad de experimentar un espectáculo de Cabildo, inclúyalo en su lista de tareas pendientes. Imagínese tener músicos y compositores de Chile, Argentina y México actuando con talento local aquí mismo en Grand Rapids. El resultado es una fusión latina única que combina rock, folk, ska y otros géneros musicales de América Latina y del Sur por los que Cabildo se ha hecho conocido en el área de West Michigan.

Cabildo fue formado alrededor de 2004 por los músicos Hugo Claudin y Juan Daniel Castro, ambos de México. A ellos se les unió el vocalista, Julio Cano-Villalobos, quien es de Chile. Ahora, el único miembro original de Cabildo, Villalobos ha reunido a un colectivo de músicos talentosos con antecedentes culturales verdaderamente diversos y ha permitido que sus influencias e ideas se fusionen en el sonido que los diferencia de otras bandas. Como dice Villalobos, "Creemos que el ritmo es lo que nos une a todos aquí, no solo a la banda, sino a las personas que les gusta escucharnos. El ritmo es nuestro lenguaje universal para unir a todos bajo nuestra música".

Además de Villalobos (voz, guitarra acústica, charango), los integrantes incluyen a Julio César Viveros (voz, guitarra eléctrica), también de México, Josh Dunigan (voz, percusión) de Oklahoma, Dustin Miller (batería) de Grand Rapids, Nate Bliton (teclado, viola) de East Lansing, Jonathon Sgromo (bajo) de Argentina, Joshua Usadel (trombón) de Grand Rapids y Michael Prokopchuk (violín), también de Grand Rapids. Viveros, Sgromo y Miller también tocan juntos en otra banda local llamada Epcya, que, al igual que Cabildo, ha desarrollado su propio estilo de música que es más rock, pero con letras en español e inglés. Échales un vistazo en Facebook, Instagram y YouTube.

Cabildo comenzó tocando versiones de canciones populares antes de que Villalobos y Viveros comenzaran a escribir canciones originales con letras en español. Han editado un CD llamado Sin Fronteras que puedes comprar en formato CD o digital en su web www.cabildomusic.com.

Es este sonido el que los hace muy solicitados cuando llega la temporada de festivales de verano. Esto fue aún más cierto cuando se levantaron los mandatos pandémicos y la gente comenzó a reunirse nuevamente. Este año no es la excepción. Dunigan agrega: "A pesar de lo accesible que es nuestra música, la gente solo quiere escucharla. Quieren escuchar algo que sea un poco diferente, pero aún así quieren bailar". Usadel aprecia la diversidad de lugares en los que han tocado: bares, parques, festivales, iglesias, incluso un iglú gigante. Como él dice, "siempre es una aventura ver dónde jugaremos a continuación".

Puede ver tocar a Cabildo en los siguientes eventos en septiembre (todos son gratuitos y abiertos al público; el Watershed Jamboree es gratuito con el registro).

Eventually, sharing another chapter in my Life with my wonderful husband as we both traveled on a path with an additional radio station "La Mejor GR"!

Current Business owner of ACCESO VIP as an on air advocate informing the community about Community Events and Promotional opportunities.

My husband & I truly enjoy promoting community businesses through radio waves but found more Passion in assisting local businesses by elevating & advocating in community involvement by bringing to the surface platforms utilizing Social Media Marketing & Management opportunities such as Content & Brand Creation, Special Event Coordination, Business Coaching & much more. Also dabble in Healthy Life Style Living as a Certified Zumba Instructor & host Zumba classes for Businesses and Community Members.

Life Changed Me in ways that Only Strengthen Me but it was not an easy path but one of my biggest challenges I've faced along the way is when I lost all my hair in high school to Alopecia Universalis, an autoimmune condition that attacks the hair follicles. I was so devastated & struggled for many years.

Even though Alopecia served as an obstacle for me, I didn't let it stop me from continuing confidently with my passions. After 20 years Living in Silence with my condition, I finally shared my Story with the community in 2021 & am here to continue with this Voice as a positive Social Influence within my community!

I am finally learning to embrace Alopecia Universalis & I expect that I will get many questions about my condition, but I feel prepared to share my knowledge of many years with others about Alopecia Awareness. September is Alopecia Awareness Month & my goal is to help others educate & build self-confidence within themselves living with Alopecia.

Thank You

Happy Labor Day

By Odille Parker

For most Americans, Labor Day represents the official end to summer. It marks the start of a back-to-school routine, one last summer holiday to enjoy away from work. Americans can count on the day on the first Monday of September every year, but it wasn't always that way.

The Labor Day holiday grew out of the late 19th century organized labor movement. In the late 1800s, at the height of the Industrial Revolution in the United States, the average American worked 12-hour days and seven-days a week to make a basic living. People of all ages, particularly the poor and recent immigrants, often faced extremely unsafe working conditions, including insufficient access to sanitary facilities, fresh air, and standard breaks.

Labor unions, which first appeared in the late 18th century, grew more prominent and vocal, organizing strikes and rallies to speak out against poor working conditions and ignite a fight within workers to renegotiate hours and wages.

In the wake of the unrest, and in an attempt to repair ties with American workers, Congress passed an act to make Labor Day a legal holiday. On June 28, 1894, President Grover Cleveland signed it into law.

Here's other facts to know behind the national holiday.

The concept of a workman's holiday first became public in 1882. In September 1882, unions in New York City decided to have a parade to celebrate their members being in unions and show overall support for union workers. There were at least 20,000 people there, but workers had to give up a day's pay to attend. The parade, however, inspired other events, and by 1887, Oregon, Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, and Colorado made Labor Day a state holiday.

The Haymarket Affair played a big role in the development of Labor Day. On May 4, 1886, a bomb exploded at a union rally in Haymarket Square in Chicago, killing several policemen and workers. The incident led to May 1 being celebrated in most nations as Workers Day.

The Uniform Monday Holiday Act of 1968 led to Labor Day being observed on the first Monday of September. The act, signed into law on June 28, 1968, changed several holidays to ensure that they would always be observed on Mondays so that federal employees could have more three-day weekends. The Act also moved Washington's Birthday Memorial Day and Columbus Day to fixed Mondays each year.

The holiday continues to evolve over the years. Parades were a bigger focus in celebrating the holiday in the late 19th century, especially in urban areas. Now, the holiday honors organized labor with fewer parades, and more personalized activities, like family gatherings and cookouts.

Please, wear white after Labor Day. The tradition to not do so is outdated. Since the holiday represents the end of summer, a "rule" was invented in the 19th century by elitist as a way to use fashion to separate the wealthy from the rest, assuming that people should not wear white after the holiday if they did not have the money for fall and winter clothes and colors. So go on, rock those whites in November.

Para la mayoría de los estadounidenses, el Día del Trabajo representa el final oficial del verano. Marca el comienzo de una rutina de regreso a la escuela, unas últimas vacaciones de verano para disfrutar fuera del trabajo. Los estadounidenses pueden contar con el primer lunes de septiembre de cada año, pero no siempre fue así.

El feriado del Día del Trabajo surgió del movimiento laboral organizado de finales del siglo XIX. A fines del siglo XIX, en el apogeo de la Revolución Industrial en los Estados Unidos, el estadounidense promedio trabajaba 12 horas al día y siete días a la semana para ganarse la vida. Personas de todas las edades, en particular los pobres y los inmigrantes recientes, a menudo enfrentaban condiciones de trabajo extremadamente inseguras, incluido el acceso insuficiente a instalaciones sanitarias, aire fresco y descansos estándar.

La Ley Uniforme de Vacaciones de Lunes de 1968 hizo que el Día del Trabajo se celebrara el primer lunes de Septiembre.
