Chris Barber

Certified DreamBuilder Coach and Life Mastery Consultant

I have been in the transformation business as a hairdresser for over 40 years. In 2018, I took my journey to a deeper level and became a Certified Transformational Life Coach.

My passion is helping people discover patterns, habits and beliefs that may be holding them back and then help them see and transform those obstacles into building blocks to create a full spectrum life they love living.

Through my own experiences, I discovered that true transformation and finding self love begins first on the inside and radiates out into every area of life.

Discovering your dream and creating a vision or blueprint for it is the first and most important step!

Are you ready?
