To whom it may concern,

This letter is in reference to David Jackson and his organisation Accessible Design providing the accessible documentation for the highly successful Blind Speed Track Day run in partnership with Vision Australia.

David and his team created the accessible PDF's for driver and passenger indemnity forms (a vital piece of paperwork for a day with inherent risks in need of minimisation) for our blind and low vision community attending the day. As our entire guest list (80 people) were blind and low vision it was extremely important that these PDF's were accessible to read and edit for both screen reader technology and magnification software that our community utilizes, whilst not losing the aesthetic benefit for sponsors and other external stakeholders.

David was knowledgeable on accessibility requirements, prompt and efficient in meeting the project deliverables and, above all else, a pleasure to work with often seeking our feedback along the way to ensure we were happy with the end product.

If you are an organisation seeking the services of someone who specialises in the creation of accessible documents without losing the design and flair needed to promote your business we couldn't recommend David enough.

We would happily have him back in an instant for future projects.

Yours Sincerely
