AMY EDWARDS

MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

In memory of Amy Edwards, this scholarship will be awarded to a graduate student with a passion to explore the inextricable link between environmental planning and preliminary civil engineering in delivering successful and timely projects to meet the needs of the traveling public. The successful candidate will have demonstrated leadership and interpersonal skills, environmental planning-related activities or job skills, and a drive to explore new horizons and constantly reinvent oneself.

For over 25 years, Amy dedicated her professional career to serving those around her; her community through the development of much needed, high profile infrastructure projects and her colleagues, friends, and family through mentorship and guidance.

The Arizona Association of Environmental Professionals Amy Edwards Memorial Scholarship was established to encourage a career path in Environmental Planning or related field.

The AZAEP Amy Edwards Memorial Scholarship award will be $5,000. The minimum criteria for selection are:

- a. Currently enrolled in or starting a graduate degree program in an environmental planning related field.
- b. Plans to pursue a career in an environmental planning-related field.
- c. Passionate about improving the community through environmental planning and services and a comprehensive understanding of the balance among social, economic, and environmental values.
- d. Demonstrated interdisciplinary experience and passion to incorporate interdisciplinary focus to environmental planning.

Deadline to apply for the 2020 Fall Scholarship is December 22, 2020.

Scholarship awarded through AZAEP. Visit the AZAEP website at www.azaep.org and sign up for the listserv to receive updates regarding the scholarship and when the application period opens.
